(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman has departed from the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section, there shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so departing, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be recovered, with costs, in the name of the United States. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing made at any time before suit is commenced, remit or cancel any such fine, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may direct the payment of such fine or any part thereof to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel against which there is outstanding any fine imposed under the provisions of this section, or which is about to depart with any alien seaman on board who has been ordered deported in pursuance of law, until such fine has been paid or until a sufficient sum has been deposited to pay such fine, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of any question involved in any such case upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such fine. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit or cancel any such fine, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may direct the payment of such fine or any part thereof to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel against which there is outstanding any fine imposed under the provisions of this section, or which is about to depart with any alien seaman on board who has been ordered deported in pursuance of law, until such fine has been paid or until a sufficient sum has been deposited to pay such fine, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of any question involved in any such case upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond in such amount and with such sureties as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned for the payment of such fine as may be imposed upon consideration thereof. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission or cancellation of fines, the withholding of clearance, and the deposit of sums or bonds to meet contingent fines. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U. S. C. 164 (a), 164 (c).)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such vessel's departure from the United States, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such seaman is removed at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the district in which such vessel may be found. Such fine or penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by process in admiralty, and such vessel may be detained until such lien is satisfied, or, in the discretion of the court, released upon the filing of a bond or undertaking in such amount and with such sureties as may be required by the court, conditioned upon the payment of such fine or penalty as may be finally determined by the court, or upon the performance of the decree of the court in case the fine or penalty is remitted or reduced. Such bond or undertaking may be sued upon and recovery had thereon by the United States in case of breach of any condition thereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as waiving or affecting any lien which the United States may have on any vessel by reason of the fact that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof is also the owner of the cargo laden thereon.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. One such list must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and another list to the master of each vessel, which latter list shall be returned by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. When an alternate seaman is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That alien alternate seamen employed on any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, showing as to each such seaman the full name, age, last permanent residence, nationality, last vessel on which employed, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall not allow any such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to depart from such port or place until such time as the immigration officer at such port or place shall have granted to such alien seaman a permit to depart from the United States, which permit shall be granted by such immigration officer upon the production by such alien seaman of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States, or is not required to obtain such certificate, or upon such other evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master failing to deliver such list or any part thereof, or to detain any such alien seaman on board or to prevent him from landing, or failing to deliver such permit to any such alien seaman entitled thereto, or to report the illegal landing of any such alien seaman, or any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or any lawful regulations made in pursuance thereof, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the production of such evidence as may be required by rules prescribed by him. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States where the vessel may be found. The Attorney General shall have the general supervision of the administration of this section, and shall prescribe all rules and regulations necessary for the enforcement thereof. Such rules and regulations shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners of every alien seaman (except those employed on such vessels until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have been notified that such seamen are needed for the service of such vessel, and then only those specifically certified by the medical examiners). Such alien seamen shall be detained on board and in the service of the vessel on which employed while in the United States from any place outside the United States to the port of departure, or intransit to such destination as the Attorney General may direct, and shall be entered in a list to be kept by the master of such vessel containing the name, age, last permanent residence, nationality, last vessel on which employed, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall be subject to such physical examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the discretion of the immigration officers in charge as the port of departure may require. Such alien seamen shall be required to depart from the United States with the vessel on which employed or on board such other vessel as may be designated by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, or on board such vessel as may be designated by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel sailing from the United States to the foreign port from which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, or to the port where such vessel was originally bound, as the Secretary of Labor may direct: Provided, That such alien seaman shall not be required to depart from the United States in order to accompany the vessel on which employed unless such vessel shall depart within ten days after the date of the certificate of the medical examiners: Provided further, That such alien seaman may be granted a sixty days' sick certificate by the medical examiners, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and may be treated in a hospital at the expense of the vessel on which employed during the period of such certificate: Provided further, That such alien seaman may be granted a temporary permit to go ashore under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, during the period the vessel on which employed is in port, but shall be required to return to such vessel before such vessel departs from such port: Provided further, That such alien seaman may be granted a temporary permit to go ashore for the purpose of medical treatment, or pursuant to such temporary

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That when aliens arrive in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in which they arrive to adopt such measures as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the safeguarding of such aliens pending examination and for their detention on board or at such place in the discretion of the immigration officer as he may designate for the temporary detention of aliens whose examination before a special inquiry officer has been directed. Such detained aliens shall be subject to such medical examination as may be required by the immigration officer in charge. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement by, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of a vessel of the bond specified in section 23 of this Act for the detention on board or elsewhere of any alien who is certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with any contagious disease other than trachoma or favus, or who is certified by the examining surgeon to be a mental defective, or afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a dangerous form of insanity, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow or unlawful destruction of property, or who is a polygamist, or who is coming to perform skilled or unskilled labor unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that sufficient laborers, skilled or unskilled, cannot be found in the United States to perform such labor, or who is an idiot, or who is feeble-minded, or who is epileptic, or who is insane, or who has had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who is under sixteen or over fifty years of age, unless in the case of any alien under sixteen years of age the only parent of such alien is admitted or such alien has a brother or sister admitted who is not excluded hereunder, or who is an alien whose ticket or passage is paid for with the money of another person or by any society or other organization, or who is an alien who has come in consequence of any promise, agreement, or solicitation entered into before his coming to the United States by or on behalf of any person, company, partnership, or corporation to perform labor in the United States, or who is an alien who has been deported under the provisions of this Act, and who may again seek admission within one year thereafter, unless prior to his reembarkation at a place outside the United States or within four months after his arrival at a port of the United States he shall be informed in writing by the Secretary of Labor or by such officer as he may designate that the provisions of this section have been complied with: Provided, That any such alien shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the immigration officer to the Secretary of Labor, and such appeal shall be taken upon the certification of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be determined solely upon the record so certified to the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to any alien who shall have been found to be a member of the anarchistic classes described in this section by reason of the views and beliefs of the alien as disclosed by the record of the hearing before the special inquiry officer: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section, except paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11), (12), (13), (14), (15), (16), (17), (18), (19), (20), (21), (22), (23), (24), (25), (26), (27), (28), (29), and (30), to such classes of aliens as may be specified by him, whenever in his judgment the admission of such aliens is not prejudicial to the interests of the United States: Provided further, That any alien who at the time of admission is a member of the class described in paragraph (16) of this section, and who is found to be and is excluded therefor or thereunder, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States or to the country from which he last permanently resided before coming to the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall, in his discretion, allow him to remain in the United States for such time and upon such conditions as he may prescribe: Provided further, That any alien who at the time of admission is a member of the class described in paragraph (14) of this section (relating to persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate or are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow or unlawful destruction of property) shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who are found to be members of the anarchistic classes described in section 19 of this Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except natives of the United States resident in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, to secure the immediate departure of such alien when no longer required for the purpose specified. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause to be detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted a permit for the landing or removal of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, and each alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall be detained on board until he has been granted a physical examination by the medical examiner, or on such other time as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, but such detention shall not exceed five days unless the Attorney General, in his discretion, shall extend the time. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master failing to detain any such alien seaman on board as required shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question upon the demand of a consul as to the detention of any alien seaman, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains in part unpaid, if a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such failure is due to sickness or death of such seaman.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the continental territory of the United States in the manner and within the time required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or within such further time as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be a charge against any vessel other than the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel is also responsible for the deportation of such alien seaman under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival like certificates, manifests, and other documents in respect to each and every alien on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or to some foreign country, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of every such vessel to deliver to each such alien, before the departure of the vessel from the foreign port at which such alien embarks, a card or such other document as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and to require each such alien to exhibit such card before leaving the gangway or other place of landing at the first port of arrival in the United States. Such card shall be signed by such alien in the presence of the master or the agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel, and shall contain the name of the alien; his age, sex, and whether married or single; his calling or occupation; the country of which he is a citizen or subject; the country to which he belongs; the place of his last permanent residence; whether he has been previously in the United States or not; whether he has a ticket through to his destination; whether he has the means of paying his head tax; whether in possession of money in excess of $50, and how much; whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends and their names and addresses; whether he has been in prison or almshouse or institution for the insane or supported by charity; whether he is a polygamist; whether he is an anarchist; whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government; whether he is a member of the class of persons who believe in the unlawful destruction of property; whether he has ever been connected with the making or publishing of books or documents advocating or suggesting the unlawful destruction of property; whether he has been an inmate of or connected with the management of a house of prostitution or other immoral resort; whether he has ever been arrested for or convicted of any crime or misdemeanor, and the cause thereof; whether he is coming to the United States in pursuance of any previous promise or agreement to perform labor, and if so, what kind of labor; whether he has a ticket to his final destination; whether he has been deported from the United States, and if so, when and why; whether he is a person who has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he remained; whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor, and if so, what his occupation is; whether he is married or single; whether he is able to read or write; the nationality, race, and last residence of such alien; and such other facts as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such card shall be filled out and signed in duplicate, and the original shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the examination of such alien, and the duplicate shall be preserved by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel for such period as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such card shall be prima facie evidence of the right of such alien to enter the United States, but the decision of the immigrant inspector shall be subject to review by the Commissioner General of Immigration upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees: waiver of clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted for any vessel until the master thereof has complied to the satisfaction of the district director with the requirements of section 26 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), where passage has been furnished, and not then unless notice of intended departure has been received at the office of the district director at least 48 hours in advance of the departure of the vessel, or unless the master has been notified that the district director waives the requirement of such notice. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 171.) Clearance shall not be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or for such other cause as the Attorney General may prescribe, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have certified that the condition which occasioned the detention of such alien has been removed or that arrangements satisfactory to the Attorney General have been made for the return of such alien on board the vessel on which he arrived or on board some other vessel, or by some other means, to the country to which he belongs or to the country from which he last came to the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him. Any such alien who shall land in the United States from any foreign vessel without having been certified to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be deported to the country to which he belongs or to the country from which he last came to the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien who shall land in the United States from any foreign vessel without having been certified to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and who shall thereafter be found in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, except that the warrant of arrest may be issued without a hearing by the Secretary of Labor upon the recommendation of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Any alien seaman who shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall not be subject to the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917, or to the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, by reason of such departure and subsequent arrival.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is a "Workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

(a) Every alien seaman, including masters of vessels, American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

(b) Every alien seaman who is not a bona fide member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives, and every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not.

(c) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is not in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, or who is not in possession of a valid passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports.

(d) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, but who is not in possession of a valid visa in such passport.

(e) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa.

(f) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa, if the Attorney General by regulation has waived the requirement of a valid passport visa in the case of the nationals of such country.

(g) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa, if the Attorney General by regulation has waived the requirement of a valid passport visa in the case of the nationals of such country, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(h) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa, if the Attorney General by regulation has waived the requirement of a valid passport visa in the case of the nationals of such country, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(i) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa, if the Attorney General by regulation has waived the requirement of a valid passport visa in the case of the nationals of such country, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(j) Every alien seaman who is a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrives and who intends to land temporarily and return to the vessel on the same trip, whether he intends to ship on the vessel or not, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport issued by the country to which he belongs, if such country requires its seamen to be in possession of passports, and a valid visa in such passport, but who is not in possession of a valid passport visa, if the Attorney General by regulation has waived the requirement of a valid passport visa in the case of the nationals of such country, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon request of a consular officer, or of a immigrant inspector in charge at the port, unless the master deposits with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain letter sheets approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen to the principal immigration officer at the port of vessel (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "non-quota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include number of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent home or residence, and final destination of each such alien so employed, and the compensation paid to each, as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the first port of arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the next port or place at which it shall be the duty of the master to report, a list containing the name of each alien employed on such vessel, whether such alien was originally listed or not, and stating the cause, if any, for the failure to list the name of any such alien in the list required to be delivered at the previous port or place. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who, after the arrival of his vessel at the first port of arrival in the United States, fails to deliver the list required by this section, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list required to be delivered by the master, or who refuses to deliver to such inspector any such list in his possession, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained in such list as to each alien employed on such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such violation occurs. Any master who fails to deliver the list required by this section at the time of the departure of his vessel from the last port at which he touches before sailing for the United States shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. Any person who knowingly conceals, harbors, or shields from detention, or attempts to conceal, harbor, or shield from detention, any alien who has not been inspected by the immigrant inspectors at the time of his departure from the last port at which he touches before sailing for the United States, or who has been refused admission to the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each such offense. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit fines and penalties incurred under this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms as he may deem proper. Any fine collected under this section shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived or upon another vessel within such time as the Attorney General may prescribe shall be prima facie evidence that he remained unlawfully in the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has failed to comply with any of the requirements of this section or any regulations issued thereunder, or has connived or conspired with any seaman to secure his illegal landing or entry into the United States, or that any seaman has deserted and cannot be found after reasonable search and inquiry, he may cause a notice to be served on such master or his agent setting forth the full name and description of such seaman, the vessel on which he arrived, and the date of his arrival, and requiring the master to deliver such seaman to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that any master has failed to deliver any such seaman, he may cause a writ of capias to be issued against such master, under which he may be arrested by the marshal of the district in which he may be found, and such master shall be required to enter into bond in such sum, not exceeding $2,000 for each seaman, as the Attorney General may direct, conditioned that such master will deliver such seaman to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port for which she is next scheduled to depart, or in default thereof will pay to the United States the sum mentioned in such bond. Upon the delivery of such seaman to such immigration officer the obligation of such bond with respect to such seaman shall be discharged. Upon failure to deliver such seaman to such immigration officer the sum mentioned in such bond shall be recovered by the Attorney General for the use of the United States. Such seaman shall be detained on board the vessel or in such place as may be designated by the immigration officer at the expense of the master until the departure of the vessel from the port, or until the master has given a bond in such sum as the Attorney General may require for the payment of such expenses. Such seaman shall be deemed to be in the custody of the immigration officer and not to be entitled to be admitted to the United States for any purpose, and shall be removed from the United States upon the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or upon the vessel on which he is next scheduled to depart, or upon any other vessel or conveyance which may be designated by the immigration officer, at the discretion of the Attorney General, and the cost of his detention and removal shall be recovered from the master. Such seaman may be taken from the vessel at any time by order of the Attorney General for the purpose of prosecuting the master, or may be required to remain in the custody of the immigration officer for such time as may be necessary for the prosecution of any charges against the master under this section. Such seaman may be treated by the master as a deserter, and may be taken into custody without process by any officer authorized to take into custody deserting seamen, and returned to the vessel or to the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund to the master the head tax paid by him to the United States for such seaman, and may remit any fine or penalty imposed upon the master by reason of the illegal landing or entry of such seaman, or may cancel any bond given by the master for the delivery of such seaman for deportation, or may remit any part of such fine, penalty, or bond, upon such terms as he may deem proper.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigrant inspector at such port of departure and allowed to land temporarily, or that he deserted such vessel, shall be prima facie evidence that he remained unlawfully in the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or on the vessel on which he is next scheduled to depart will result in undue hardship to such seaman because of his race, religious beliefs, or personal history, or because such deportation would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained in the United States for such time as he deems necessary for such reasons, and may cause such alien seaman to be admitted temporarily to the United States under such conditions as he may prescribe, but such alien seaman shall not be regarded as lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity of obtaining repairs or supplies unobtainable elsewhere, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but every such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall at any time within thirty days after the date of the vessel's departure, or at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port, whichever is earlier, be deported on board or in charge of the vessel or other vessel or conveyance which may be designated by the immigration officer at the port of departure, unless specially permitted by the Attorney General to depart from the United States otherwise than as provided in this section. Any master who fails to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who fails to deport any such alien seaman in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General is authorized to pay from appropriations for the enforcement of this Act such amounts as may be necessary for the maintenance, while in the United States, of alien seamen who are ordered detained under this section, and for their return to the countries to which they belong or in which they have permanent residence, and for the necessary expenses in connection therewith. Such amounts may be advanced to masters of vessels or other persons charged with the duty of caring for and returning such seamen. Any balance of such amounts remaining unexpended at the end of the fiscal year in which they were advanced shall be returned by the person to whom advanced to the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation from which originally drawn. Any such balance not returned within two years after the end of the fiscal year in which advanced shall not thereafter be returned by the person to whom advanced, but shall be carried to the surplus fund and covered into the Treasury. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporary shore leave granted in accordance with such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring such seaman's detention ashore, during the period the vessel remains in port, but a bond may be required in such sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman as the Attorney General may prescribe, to guarantee that such seaman will depart on board the vessel or some other vessel leaving the port, unless specifically permitted by the Attorney General to remain longer. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel leaving the port, or who fails to obtain such permission when required, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to be admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant seaman under the provisions of section 3 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed, or after the departure of any vessel on which he has been granted shore leave, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to be admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant seaman under the provisions of section 3 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed, or after the departure of any vessel on which he has been granted shore leave, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to be admitted to the United States except under section 4 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164, 24 U. S. C. 204.)

SEC. 150.15 Place of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has complied with the requirements of section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 131), as amended by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 899; 8 U. S. C. 136) pertaining to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 899; 8 U. S. C. 136) unless bond has been waived, the deposit absorbed in §§ 150.13–150.17 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest, in triplicate, of all the aliens on board such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each alien who may be admitted to the United States, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country from which he last came, the port at which he last embarked, the final destination of each such alien, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether his passage is paid or in whole or in part by any person or corporation in the United States, and by whom such passage was paid, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and whether in possession of a ticket to final destination. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall also report at the time of the departure of any vessel from a foreign port or place to the United States the name and description of each alien who may have been shipped or who may have signed articles at such port or place for any part of the journey to the United States, and every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall report the name of each alien who may have been transferred from any vessel to the vessel on which such alien is to sail, and shall also report the name of each alien who may have been refused a transfer. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall report the name of each alien who may have been left behind at any port, and the cause for leaving such alien behind, and shall report the destination of each alien who may have been landed at any port, and the cause for landing such alien. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall report the name of each alien who may have been treated for any contagious disease during the voyage, the name of the disease, and the nature of the treatment accorded each case. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall report the name of each alien who may have died during the voyage, and the cause of death. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a certificate and manifest of the cargo, stating the name and nationality of the owners of the various parts thereof, as far as known to him, and a list of the sea stores or provisions which shall remain on board the vessel upon its departure from the United States. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival any list or manifest required by this section, or who refuses to answer any question put to him by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival touching the number and nationality of the alien passengers carried, whether they have severally been admitted to the United States, and the ports at which the remainder have been landed, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien concerning whom he fails to furnish information, or refuses to furnish information, or in whose case a list or manifest required by this section is not delivered at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port for the United States: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel shall not be required to furnish any information not specified in the list or manifest hereinbefore prescribed, or any information which he has not received prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place, or which he does not possess: Provided further, That the master of any vessel who has on board thereof an alien who is ill with a contagious disease when such vessel departs from a foreign port or place for the United States shall report the name of such alien and the nature of such disease to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival of such vessel in the United States, and such alien shall be detained on board such vessel or at quarantine as the immigrant inspector in charge may direct: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing any alien who has been refused admission to the United States shall report the fact and furnish the name of such alien to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival of such vessel in the United States: Provided further, That the penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General, who is hereby authorized to cancel any bond that may be required or exacted for the purpose of insuring the delivery of such lists or reports: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel shall not be required to deliver lists or reports at any port other than the port of arrival of such vessel in the United States: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel shall not be required to furnish any information as to the names or number of persons who may join the vessel subsequently to her departure from a foreign port or place, but shall furnish such information as to such persons at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port or place in the United States: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel shall not be required to furnish any information as to the names or number of persons who may leave the vessel temporarily at any port or place in the United States, but shall furnish such information as to such persons at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port or place in the United States: Provided further, That the penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer fails to furnish information, or refuses to furnish information, or in whose case a list or manifest required by this section is not delivered at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place in the United States, shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, nor shall any fine be remitted or mitigated: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The use of changes of alien immigrant lists (Form I-418) shall not be authorized on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of chapter of alien members over (from 60) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival for the information of the Secretary of Labor and for such action as may be required by the provisions of the immigration laws.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of first arrival a correct list and manifest of all aliens of the several classes specified in the immigration laws who may be on board such vessel, which list shall be prepared in the exact form, and contain the information required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the inspector at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival. Such list shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, race, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money and how much, whether ever before in the United States and when and where, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, whether having a contract to labor in the United States, whether coming in pursuance of such contract, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and the location of any recent residence in foreign countries, and such other facts regarding each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien who is not in possession of the correct amount of money required by law, or who is coming to the United States in violation of any law thereof, shall be liable to the United States for a sum equal to the amount required by law in the case of each alien not in possession of the correct amount of money, and such sum may be sued for and recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction in the district in which the port of arrival is located. The sum of $ 10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the amount of the penalties which may accrue. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver to the inspector any list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truly any question put to him by the inspector in charge at the port of arrival touching the number and nationality of the aliens on board his vessel, or who shall refuse to allow the inspector to come on board the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the manifests thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board when required so to do by the inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse to assist the inspector in taking the count of the aliens on board his vessel, or who shall refuse to deliver to the inspector in charge at the port of arrival any alien on board his vessel who may be required to be detained for special inquiry by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to carry back any alien who may be ordered to be deported from the United States by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain shore the ordinary manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported as another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

For a clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 42 of said Act, in the absence of the report specified in rule 52 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at each port of arrival. Such shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The law of charges of alien members of crews (from 66a) shall not be included on posts, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Attention is called to a 'workaway,' a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 2. That upon arrival at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be allowed to land, and such list shall be prima facie evidence of the right of such aliens to land in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such list when demanded by the said inspector, or who refuses to allow said inspector to come aboard such vessel for the purpose of examining the list, shall pay to the collector of customs a sum not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like sum in case no lists are delivered. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner to deliver to each immigrant alien a printed slip containing such information in regard to the provisions of this Act affecting such aliens as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and every such alien shall, before embarking, be given a certificate by the said master, agent, consignee, or owner, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, which certificate shall be delivered by such alien to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Such master, agent, consignee, or owner failing to perform any duty imposed upon him by the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $200 for each such alien in respect to whom such failure occurs. The Secretary of Labor may in his discretion remit any fine or penalty provided for in this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 4 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been duly signed, and until there have been delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at each port all the certificates required by section 4 of said Act to be delivered to such aliens, and a list of the certificates so delivered shall be indorsed upon the list required by section 4 of said Act, and the master shall certify to the correctness of such indorsement.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman, unless security is furnished and deposited sufficient in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor to defray the cost of maintenance and hospital treatment, if required, during a period not exceeding five years, and a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor to pay the cost of the return of such seaman, if he becomes a public charge, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is notified the time of the departure of such seaman. Such deposit shall be refunded to the depositor or his legal representative upon the certificate of the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure that such seaman has departed from the United States, or upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such seaman has been granted permission to land in the United States, or upon the certificate of the consular officer in charge in the district in which the seaman obtained a visa that such seaman was not allowed to depart from a foreign port, or upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such seaman has died, in the amount in the case of each seaman. Such deposit shall not be required from masters of vessels who shall furnish a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof in the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien seaman detained under the provisions of this section, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the payment of the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 18, 1903, in the case of each such seaman unless a certificate from the Secretary of Labor is produced showing that such tax has been paid or that no such tax is due.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST SECOND OFFICER

I, K. E. Ericsson, Master of the M/S "GOTHAMARA" do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from the port or place during per present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 4e of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, Rule 7, and copy of sections 18 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That alien seamen employed on vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel to report the name of all such alien seamen employed on such vessel at the time of arrival; or shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to report the name of all such alien seamen shipped in the port of arrival; or shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to report the name of all such alien seamen who may desert while in the port of arrival, and the cause of such desertion, if known, and the final destination of such alien seamen, so far as known, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival; and such reports shall be verified by the oath of the master and by the manifest of the vessel upon which such alien seamen arrived, and shall be made to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry or granted clearance papers. Any master who fails to report the name of any alien seaman as required by this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers, pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or cancel the same in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General may deem just and proper. The action, as amended, shall apply to all seamen who shall not have been granted shore leave upon the usual parole by the master, and who shall depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not have reported at the immigration office of the Attorney General as required by law, or who shall have been arrested and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, or who shall have been granted a conditional landing in charge of a pilot, physician, immigration officer, or other person, and who shall depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not return to the vessel on which he arrived at the time of its departure from the United States, unless such seaman shall have been forcibly prevented from so returning by reasons beyond his control, or shall have been left behind in a hospital by permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and who shall depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not report to the Attorney General as required by law, or who shall have been arrested and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, or who shall have been granted a conditional landing in charge of a pilot, physician, immigration officer, or other person, and who shall depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be deemed to be an alien seaman employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board a vessel departing therefrom, and shall be deported in the manner provided by law in the case of alien seamen employed on board such vessel: Provided, That the Attorney General may prescribe for the payment of such fine a period not exceeding twelve months from the date of the imposition thereof, and upon the execution by the master of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such fine or any part thereof at the end of such period, the Attorney General may remit such fine or part thereof upon the payment of the costs of collection and such proportion of the fine as he may deem reasonable under all the circumstances of the case: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund to the master the head tax paid by him to the United States for any alien seaman who was employed on board such vessel and who was deported at the expense of the master within one year from the date of the payment of such tax

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens shall be prepared in the port of last departure, when and where they were taken on board. If a list is not required by the master of any vessel at the port of arrival, such master shall report that fact to the immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of native American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from a possession of the United States to any port within the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the port of arrival shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port a complete manifest, in duplicate, of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States, destined to foreign countries, on board such vessel, whether they be destined to the port of arrival or to any other port in the United States or not. Such manifest shall be prepared on the list or lists furnished by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall contain the following information concerning each alien: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last permanent residence, race, final destination, whether having a ticket through to such destination, whether the expenses of the alien's journey are paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of $50 in money or not, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, the condition of health, mental and physical, of such alien, and the place of birth, including the name of the city or town, if possible, and the last permanent residence of such alien. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel shall also furnish such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration concerning the sanitary condition of the vessel and the health of the crew and passengers thereon at the time of the arrival and such other information pertaining to the vessel, its crew, passengers, and cargo as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall also furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or lists containing the names of all aliens employed on the vessel who were not originally shipped or carried thereon as members of the crew, and the last permanent residence of each such alien. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or fail to deliver the lists required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish any information required by this section to be furnished by him, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish any information required by any immigration officer in pursuance of this section concerning any alien employed on the vessel who was not originally shipped or carried thereon as a member of the crew, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any immigration officer any such list in his possession, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any requirement of the Commissioner General of Immigration relative to the physical examination of any such alien, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer of the service), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who fails to deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom he shall have failed to perform any of the duties required, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inability to part with such seaman or to deport him, or who shall fail to pay the maintenance and transportation of such seaman as provided in section 16 hereof, or who shall violate any of the provisions of section 16 hereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, and, in addition, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted by the collector of customs to any vessel notwithstanding the inability to part with such alien seaman, or the failure to deport him, or to pay the maintenance and transportation of such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer depositing with the collector of customs a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Commissioner General of Immigration to cover the cost of such maintenance and transportation and such additional sum as may be required for such purpose by the Commissioner General of Immigration, not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman is the subject of a certificate issued by the Attorney General under section 3 of the Act approved June 2, 1930. (46 Stat. 854; 8 U. S. C. 141)

(a) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any vessel within 29 days after the date of the refusal of his master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the cost of his maintenance and passage on board such vessel, shall be deported in the first class, steerage accommodations, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or denizen, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may direct: Provided, That the cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman on board such vessel shall not exceed $1 per day: Provided further, That deportation of any such alien seaman may be suspended by the Commissioner General of Immigration for such period of time as he may deem necessary when, in his opinion, the testimony of any such alien seaman may be necessary on the trial of any person charged with a violation of any provision of the immigration laws, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness on behalf of the United States in the prosecution of any such charge, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with the investigation of any such charge by any duly accredited officer of the United States, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with any claim for the remission of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture which may be or has been imposed under the provisions of the immigration laws, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any officer of the United States charged with misconduct in office, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with any suit instituted by the United States to recover any penalty under the immigration laws.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any vessel within 29 days after the date of the refusal of his master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the cost of his maintenance and passage on board such vessel, shall be deported in the first class, steerage accommodations, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or denizen, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may direct: Provided, That the cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman on board such vessel shall not exceed $1 per day: Provided further, That deportation of any such alien seaman may be suspended by the Commissioner General of Immigration for such period of time as he may deem necessary when, in his opinion, the testimony of any such alien seaman may be necessary on the trial of any person charged with a violation of any provision of the immigration laws, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness on behalf of the United States in the prosecution of any such charge, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with the investigation of any such charge by any duly accredited officer of the United States, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with any claim for the remission of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture which may be or has been imposed under the provisions of the immigration laws, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any officer of the United States charged with misconduct in office, or when, in his opinion, any such alien seaman may be necessary as a witness in connection with any suit instituted by the United States to recover any penalty under the immigration laws.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart, after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, to the collector of customs, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman is the subject of a certificate issued by the Attorney General under section 3 of the Act approved June 2, 1930.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge therefrom of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, to the collector of customs, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman is the subject of a certificate issued by the Attorney General under section 3 of the Act approved June 2, 1930.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart, after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, to the collector of customs, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Commissioner General of Immigration to cover the cost of such maintenance and transportation and such additional sum as may be required for such purpose by the Commissioner General of Immigration, not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman is the subject of a certificate issued by the Attorney General under section 3 of the Act approved June 2, 1930.

(f) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. (a) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, or the Philippine Islands) if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall furnish a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such bond shall be conditioned to indemnify the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the amount of any expenses which may be incurred by the United States in returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came or to the country in which he resided at the time of his last entry into the United States, and for the amount of any hospital expenses and burial charges which may be incurred by the United States in behalf of such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in addition to any bond required to be given by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 151), as amended by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 152), and shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the United States. The penalty of any such bond may be remitted or cancelled in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of a sum of money equal to the penalty of the bond, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. C. 163), relative to the remission or mitigation of forfeitures incurred under the provisions of the immigration laws, shall apply to forfeitures incurred under this section.

(b) Every alien seaman shall apply to all immigration officers at the time of his departure from the United States for a certificate stating the date of his departure from the United States and the vessel on which he departed. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of a lawful departure of such alien seaman from the United States on the vessel on which he departed. Any alien seaman who shall fail to obtain such certificate, or who shall fail to produce it upon demand of any immigration officer, shall be deemed to have remained unlawfully in the United States, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such failure was excusable.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of the length of such vessel's intended stay in port, or for any other reason, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be deducted from the amount of any bond given pursuant to this section. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart after a determination by the Attorney General that his departure is required under this section shall be deported as provided in section 20 hereof. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States while under bond shall be deemed to have violated the immigration laws with respect to his right subsequently to enter the United States, and in addition to the penalties prescribed by law shall be liable to the payment of the bond under which he was granted his conditional landing in the United States. Any such bond may be sued for and recovered by any immigration officer in the name of the United States in the district in which the port of arrival is located.

(d) Every alien seaman shall depart to the country whence he came, or to any other country which may admit him, upon the expiration of the period for which he was admitted to the United States, or upon the cancellation of his landing permit, or upon the refusal of any immigration officer to permit him to land in the United States. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States shall be deported as provided in section 20 hereof. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States upon the cancellation of his landing permit or the refusal of any immigration officer to permit him to land in the United States, except for reasons beyond his control and acceptable to the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported as provided in section 20 hereof as in the case of an alien who remains in the United States after the period for which he was admitted. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States upon the refusal of any immigration officer to permit him to land in the United States, except for temporary illness or reasons beyond his control and acceptable to the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported as provided in section 20 hereof as in the case of an alien who remains in the United States after the period for which he was admitted. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in Alaska, Hawaii, or Puerto Rico, or in transit through the continental United States, shall be deemed to have landed in the United States for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing aliens (other than alien seamen employed on board such vessel) to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, or the Philippine Islands) shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in transit through the United States of any such alien destined to a foreign country, and for the payment of the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1213; 8 U. S. C. 132), and the immigrant visa fee imposed by section 9 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 135), if such payments have not been made before the departure of such alien. Such owner, agent, charterer, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing any alien (other than an alien seaman employed on board such vessel) to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, or the Philippine Islands) shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in transit through the United States of any such alien destined to a foreign country, and for the payment of the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1213; 8 U. S. C. 132), and the immigrant visa fee imposed by section 9 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 135), if such payments have not been made before the departure of such alien. Such owner, agent, charterer, consignee, or master shall not be granted clearance papers for the vessel on which any such alien arrived at a port of the United States, and if any such owner, agent, charterer, consignee, or master has theretofore been granted clearance papers for any vessel, such clearance papers may be withheld, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of any question relating to the payment of the head tax or the immigrant visa fee, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such taxes and fees, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. C. 163), relative to the remission or mitigation of forfeitures incurred under the provisions of the immigration laws, shall apply to forfeitures incurred under this section. Clearance papers may be granted by the collector of customs to any vessel notwithstanding the refusal of any immigration officer to permit any alien seaman to land in the United States, if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have given a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such refusal occurs. Such bond shall be conditioned to indemnify the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the amount of any expenses which may be incurred by the United States in returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came or to the country in which he resided at the time of his last entry into the United States, and for the amount of any hospital expenses and burial charges which may be incurred by the United States in behalf of such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in addition to any bond required to be given by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 151), as amended by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 152), and shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the United States. The penalty of any such bond may be remitted or cancelled in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of a sum of money equal to the penalty of the bond, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. C. 163), relative to the remission or mitigation of forfeitures incurred under the provisions of the immigration laws, shall apply to forfeitures incurred under this section. Clearance papers may be granted by the collector of customs to any vessel notwithstanding the refusal of any immigration officer to permit any alien seaman to land in the United States, if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have given a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such refusal occurs. Such bond shall be conditioned to indemnify the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the amount of any expenses which may be incurred by the United States in returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came or to the country in which he resided at the time of his last entry into the United States, and for the amount of any hospital expenses and burial charges which may be incurred by the United States in behalf of such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in addition to any bond required to be given by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 151), as amended by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 152), and shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the United States. The penalty of any such bond may be remitted or cancelled in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of a sum of money equal to the penalty of the bond, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. C. 163), relative to the remission or mitigation of forfeitures incurred under the provisions of the immigration laws, shall apply to forfeitures incurred under this section. Clearance papers may be granted by the collector of customs to any vessel notwithstanding the refusal of any immigration officer to permit any alien seaman to land in the United States, if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have given a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such refusal occurs. Such bond shall be conditioned to indemnify the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the amount of any expenses which may be incurred by the United States in returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came or to the country in which he resided at the time of his last entry into the United States, and for the amount of any hospital expenses and burial charges which may be incurred by the United States in behalf of such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in addition to any bond required to be given by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 151), as amended by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 152), and shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the United States. The penalty of any such bond may be remitted or cancelled in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of a sum of money equal to the penalty of the bond, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. SEC. 36. That when aliens in any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, subject to the penalties imposed by section 35 of this Act, to report, before any of the passengers shall be landed, concerning all such aliens, such information required by the Secretary of Labor as can be obtained from the manifests or other records of the vessel, relative to the right of such aliens to enter the United States under the terms of this Act, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper enforcement of this Act, and to detain such aliens on board or at quarantine until a physician designated by the United States Public Health Service has examined them and reported to the immigrant inspector the number of aliens who appear to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and to detain the aliens so reported until they have been certified by the said physician to the immigrant inspector as not having such disease, and to report the sickness or death of any alien during the voyage, and the cause thereof, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector such lists or manifests of the aliens on board, and produce such other documents relating to them, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to report, detain, or deliver any such alien or such list, manifest, or document, or who refuses to answer questions in relation to the same, or who makes any false report, list, manifest, or document, or who refuses to allow the immigrant inspector to make such examination, or who refuses to detain any such alien when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who lands or permits to land any alien before the inspection of such alien by the immigrant inspector, or before the certificate of the physician designated by the United States Public Health Service, or who lands or permits to land any alien reported by the physician designated by the United States Public Health Service as afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who lands or permits to land any alien who has been certified by the said physician to the immigrant inspector as having such disease, or who lands or permits to land any alien who has been refused a certificate to land by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any violation of this section occurs. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel may appeal from the decision of the immigrant inspector to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final. Pending the decision on such appeal, the alien shall be detained on board or at quarantine, as the case may be. Upon the payment of the sum required by the immigrant inspector, or the deposit of such sum with a bond approved by the Secretary of Labor, sufficient to indemnify the United States against any expense incurred or to be incurred in the maintenance and support of such alien, and any liability to which the United States may be subjected on account of such alien, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel the proceedings against such alien and permit him to land temporarily pending the final disposition of the case. Any alien who lands in the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, or who remains therein for a longer time than he is permitted to remain under this Act or any limitation established as in this Act provided, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within three years after he shall have landed or remained unlawfully in the United States, the cost of his maintenance while in custody and of his return to be a charge against the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and the vessel shall be liable to a lien for such cost and charge, which lien may be enforced by proceedings against the vessel in the district court of the United States for the district within which the vessel may be found. Any such alien who shall come into the United States in violation of law may be returned as provided in this section upon the order of the Secretary of Labor, in lieu of being allowed to land or remain in the United States, or may be arrested and deported in the manner provided in section 20 of this Act at any time within three years after he shall have landed or remained unlawfully in the United States. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 170; 54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 137.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival not later than 24 hours before the vessel is ready to depart. Separate lists shall be prepared for aliens in the crew and for other aliens. The list of members of alien crew-members should include names of nationals entitled to return to the United States as non-quota immigrants under section 4(c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended. The list of other aliens should include only those aliens who intend to depart from the United States within 29 days after arrival. In order to facilitate inspec-

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Use ink or indelible pencil, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien registration (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is a "nonimmigrant," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, aliens admitted on such vessel, whether a regular or alternate citizen seaman as well as alone.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the nationality thereof, and their last permanent residence, and the names and addresses of the persons to whom they are severally destined, and such information in regard to each of said aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration before the departure of such vessel from the last port at which she touches, and also a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who are destined to the United States, and such information in regard to each of said aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration before the departure of such vessel from any port at which she touches; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before any such alien shall be allowed to depart from such vessel, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a certificate, signed by the master, stating whether any of such aliens have been treated by the surgeon of such vessel for any loathsome or dangerous disease during the voyage, and whether any of such aliens have been detained on board for examination by the surgeon of such vessel as suffering from any such disease, and whether any of such aliens have been vaccinated, and whether the master has complied with the requirements of the immigration laws in respect to such aliens. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to such aliens, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, or who shall refuse to deliver such certificate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom such default shall occur, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any such master who shall knowingly or willfully land or permit to be landed from his vessel any such alien at any port in the United States other than a port designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration as a port at which such alien is entitled to land, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so landed, and may also be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year. Such penalties may be remitted or mitigated upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any such master who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to enter his vessel for the purpose of performing any duty relative to the inspection of the passengers and crew thereof, or to detain any seaman on board his vessel after such inspector has given notice that such seaman is required on shore for examination by the Public Health Service officers at the port, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each seaman in respect to whom such refusal occurs. Any master who shall refuse to detain any seaman (whether an alien or not) who has been certified to him by the Public Health Service officers as afflicted with any contagious disease, or who shall refuse to report the illness or death of any seaman on board his vessel, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such offense. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any fine, or any part of a bond, duly accrued under the provisions of this section, and may prescribe such terms and conditions as he may deem proper governing the remission of fines, the withdrawal of bonds, and the cancellation of bonds or parts thereof which may have been forfeited, and may delegate such authority to the Commissioner General of Immigration as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section. (39 Stat. 890–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided for by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been liquidated, and not then unless notice of intention to file administrative fine prescribed by said section 36 or to file prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 169) have been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17 have been made.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States (except temporarily for repairs) or departing from any place outside thereof, who shall refuse to deliver to the Attorney General such information as he may require in relation to any alien on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to such alien, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, or who shall refuse to deliver such certificate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such default occurs. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any fine, or any part of a bond, duly accrued under the provisions of this section, and may prescribe such terms and conditions as he may deem proper governing the remission of fines, the withdrawal of bonds, and the cancellation of bonds or parts thereof which may have been forfeited, and may delegate such authority to the Commissioner General of Immigration as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section. (39 Stat. 890–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman was not treated for the purpose of obtaining his discharge in a foreign port, or that he was treated on board ship for such disease or injury as would not ordinarily unfit him for service, may be made by the certificate of the master, supported by the certificate of the ship's surgeon, if any, or by the certificate of two other officers of the vessel, or, if the vessel has but one officer, by the certificate of such officer and the certificate of a credible member of the crew. Such certificates shall be in writing and shall contain a statement that they were severally sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths, and shall be subscribed by such persons and by the person administering the oath. Such certificates shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the facts therein stated, unless the immigrant inspector has knowledge that any such statement is false, in which case he shall report the matter to the Commissioner General of Immigration, whose decision shall be final.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may temporarily permit him to land upon the giving of a suitable bond, in such amount and with such surety or sureties as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned that such alien seaman shall depart from the United States on such vessel or other vessel or vessels specified by the Attorney General within the period of time for which such seaman is permitted to land, and that he will not become a public charge. Such bond may be given by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, or by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel scheduled to depart from the United States to the country to which such alien seaman is destined. Such bond may be deposited with and held by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or may be deposited with and held by such person or persons in charge of the immigration service at such port or place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate. Upon the performance of the conditions of such bond it shall be canceled by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by such person or persons in charge of the immigration service at the port or place designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and the money deposited as collateral security thereto shall be returned to the depositor. Upon the breach of the conditions of such bond the whole sum may be collected as liquidated damages in a suit brought for that purpose by the Attorney General in the name of the United States. The decision of the Attorney General as to the forfeiture of such bond shall be final and conclusive. Such suit may be brought in any district in which the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived may be found, or in the district in which suit may be brought against the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien seaman is destined. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the district courts of the United States to entertain such suits. Upon the recovery of judgment in any such suit the Attorney General may cause execution to issue without the issuance of a writ of scire facias. The proceeds of such bond shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States and shall be available for the payment of the expenses incurred in the collection thereof, and the remainder shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, and then only under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the safeguarding of the revenue, or for such other reasons as may be deemed proper by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who is not deported as provided herein shall be required to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel to a foreign port, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and the expenses incident to his departure shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which he arrived. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as provided herein, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel upon its departure therefrom a complete list of the crew thereof, or who fails to make a report or furnish any information required by the Attorney General in connection therewith, or who fails to deliver to any such alien seaman employed on such vessel such certificate of identification as may be required by the Attorney General, or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman (which detention in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel upon such inspection or to report such seaman if required by such immigration officer or to pay the cost of maintenance while detained and expenses incident to departure, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to depart with such vessel, or who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General, shall be a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after the cancellation by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, what nations they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held for special inquiry by the immigrant inspectors, and to report and deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, at the time of arrival, or later concerning as much of such information as he the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to report and deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists aforesaid in the manner herein provided, or in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report and deliver to such immigration officer a true report in all respects as to the matters required by this section, or in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to pay the head tax of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided, in the event such head tax is unpaid, while it remains unpaid, nor shall such ship be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such head tax, and such head tax shall be recovered before such clearance is granted. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax. (39 Stat. 888, 891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of limitation to the administrative CIO district, which is entitled to the same privileges as the CIO in the matter of representation, collective bargaining, and other rights under the Act. The Board has also held that the Act's prohibition against the use of the Board's processes by unions whose officers refuse to file non-Communist affidavits does not apply to elections conducted by consent of the employer and the union. Matter of Ford Motor Co., 19 N. L. R. B. 351 (1940).

The Board has held that it will not certify a union which has been found to be dominated by the employer, Matter of Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., 308 U. S. 241 (1939), 15 N. L. R. B. 1 (1939), enforced as modified, 121 F. (2d) 133 (C. C. A. 4th, 1941), certiorari denied, 314 U. SEC. 150.15. Limit of stay authorized; when extension of record denied. Extension shall not be granted and record shall not be kept current to indicate that any alien has remained in the United States for a period in excess of that authorized to him under the immigration laws and regulations or for a period in excess of that permitted by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, unless, after inquiry, the district director is satisfied that the alien's failure to depart was due to circumstances beyond the alien's control and that his departure was imminent. Extension may be granted for such period as the district director deems necessary for the purpose of the alien's visit. Ordinarily, a period of 30 days will be sufficient for the purpose of a visit for business or pleasure. Extension may be granted for a period of 6 months to an alien who is in the United States for the purpose of medical treatment. Extension may be granted for a period of 1 year to an alien who is in the United States for the purpose of study at an established institution of learning or college. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a bona fide student, as defined in section 101(a)(15)(F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, who is pursuing a full course of study at a college, university, seminary, conservatory, academic high school, elementary school, or other academic institution or language training program approved by the Service for such alien, and for 60 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a bona fide student, as defined in section 101(a)(15)(M) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, who is pursuing a full course of study at a vocational or other recognized nonacademic institution, other than a language training program, approved by the Service for such alien, and for 60 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as the spouse or minor child of an alien described in section 101(a)(15)(F) or (M) of the Act, who is accompanying or following to join such alien, and for 60 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(L) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(O) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(P) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(Q) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. Extension may be granted for the duration of the status of an alien who is in the United States as a nonimmigrant pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(R) of the Act, and for 30 days thereafter for the purpose of departure or change of status. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The Act to Prevent Pecuniary Loss in the Case of Certain Passenger Vessels, approved February 13, 1911, as amended, requires that a complete list of the crew and passengers be delivered to the Immigration officer at the port of arrival before any person is allowed to land from the vessel. The list of crew must be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and must be verified by the master or commanding officer of the vessel by his signature thereto. The list of passengers must be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and must be verified by the master or commanding officer of the vessel by his signature thereto or by the signature of the surgeon of the vessel. Any master or commanding officer who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who lands or permits to be landed any person before the inspection of such lists by the Immigration officer at the port of arrival, except as provided by the Secretary of Labor, and any master or commanding officer who knowingly or willfully lands or permits to be landed any person at any time or place in violation of any of the provisions of the immigration laws, may be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such person so landed, or imprisoned for a term not exceeding five years, or both. Any person who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in the list of passengers with respect to the right of any person to enter the United States, or who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in the affidavit required by section 12 of the Act of February 5, 1917, with respect to the admissibility of any person to the United States, shall be deported as provided by law. Any person who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in the affidavit required by section 12 of the Act of February 5, 1917, with respect to the admissibility of any person to the United States, shall be deported as provided by law.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 12. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States seaport at which the immigrant is to land from the vessel, it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port a manifest or list of all the passengers who are to be landed from the vessel, which manifest or list shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each passenger, whether he can read or write, whether he has been in the United States previously and if so when and how long ago, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has paid his own passage or has been assisted by others or by any society or public institution, and if assisted by others or by any society or public institution whether he has been in prison or in any almshouse or insane asylum or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is coming to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he is in possession of $50 and if less than that amount how much he has, whether he is going to a friend and if so what friend and his address, whether he has ever been in prison or in almshouse or asylum or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining or teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, whether he has ever been deported from the United States or excluded therefrom and the cause therefor, whether he is coming in pursuance of a prearranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so what is the nature of such contract or agreement, whether he is an idiot, feebleminded person, epileptic, insane person or person who has been insane within five years previous, whether he has had tuberculosis, and whether he has a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and if so what disease, whether he is a person who has been convicted of or admits having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, whether he is coming for an immoral purpose, whether he is married or single, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, whether he is going to join such relative or friend or to what other place, whether he is an alien, and whether he is a citizen of the United States, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The said list shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, and shall be sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, except that in the case of masters of vessels who shall have previously sworn to the truth of the matters required to be stated in the list of passengers, the oath may be administered by any immigration officer duly authorized thereto by the Secretary of Labor. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the sailing of the vessel from a foreign port or place a list containing the names of all passengers who have been accepted at the consular office there, and shall report the sickness and deaths on board during the voyage. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties required of him by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver the lists required, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question relative to the number and character of the persons carried on board his vessel propounded to him by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any person on board his vessel when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any person who may have been left behind, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the tax imposed by this Act on account of any such person, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of him by this Act or by the Secretary of Labor, for which a penalty is not otherwise herein provided for, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

The master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel bringing aliens who are required by any of the provisions of this Act to be examined before a special board of inquiry at the port of arrival shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port in the United States until and unless he has been duly examined by such board, or has been certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival to be clearly and beyond doubt not entitled under this Act to land, or has been certified by the chief medical officer of the district to be suffering from a contagious disease of a type specified in section 16 of this Act, and has been notified to appear before such board for further examination, or has been certified by the chief medical officer of the district to be a member of a family all of whom are certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival to be suffering from a contagious disease of a type specified in section 16 of this Act, and has been notified to appear before such board for further examination.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 28. (a) Upon arrival by water at a port of the United States, any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or other document required by this Act, or who is not entitled to enter under the provisions of section 13 (c) of this Act, shall be detained under the jurisdiction of the Department of Labor at the port of arrival pending inquiry into his case and boarding officer's certificate, or pending examination by a medical officer, or pending the action of a special board of inquiry, or pending an appeal to the Secretary of Labor from the decision of a special board of inquiry, or pending the action of the Secretary of Labor in any case in which he has directed that the alien be detained for his personal consideration, or pending the deportation of the alien if he is not admitted. Such detention shall be in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Pending a final determination of the case, any alien may be released from detention in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, and under such bond or such conditions as may be prescribed by him, but no alien who has been certified by the chief medical officer of the district to be suffering from a contagious disease of a type specified in section 16 of this Act shall be released except upon the certificate of the medical officer at the port of arrival that such disease may be successfully treated locally and will not endanger the public health. Any alien who has been certified by the chief medical officer of the district to be a member of a family all of whom are certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival to be suffering from a contagious disease of a type specified in section 16 of this Act shall be detained for such medical treatment of the family group as may be necessary, and shall not be admitted to the United States so long as any member of the family requires such treatment, unless such alien himself is certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival to be free from any contagious disease and to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to admission.

(b) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act, or who shall remain therein for a longer time than permitted under this Act or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall conclude that such alien's presence in the United States would not be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, and that his failure to obtain such visa before entry was due to reasons deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor to excuse such failure.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel the deportation of such alien and substitute therefor the name of such alien's spouse, child, parent, brother, or sister, as the case may be, who may be entitled to enter the United States under a quota which has not been exhausted at the time of the issuance of the visa of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived, and such alien shall be admitted to the United States under the quota specified in the immigration visa of the alien whose place he takes, if found upon examination by an immigration officer at the port of arrival to be admissible under the immigration laws in all respects other than the requirements of section 13 (a) and 13 (c) of this Act. Such substitution may be made only upon the application of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived, and only if the alien whose place he takes is found upon examination by an immigration officer at the port of arrival to be admissible under the immigration laws in all respects other than the requirements of section 13 (a) and 13 (c) of this Act. Such substitution may be made only upon the application of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived, and only if the alien whose place he takes is found upon examination by an immigration officer at the port of arrival to be admissible under the immigration laws in all respects other than the requirements of section 13 (a) and 13 (c) of this Act.

(d) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act, or who shall remain therein for a longer time than permitted under this Act or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall conclude that such alien's presence in the United States would not be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, and that his failure to obtain such visa before entry was due to reasons deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor to excuse such failure.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel the deportation of such alien and substitute therefor the name of such alien's spouse, child, parent, brother, or sister, as the case may be, who may be entitled to enter the United States under a quota which has not been exhausted at the time of the issuance of the visa of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived, and such alien shall be admitted to the United States under the quota specified in the immigration visa of the alien whose place he takes, if found upon examination by an immigration officer at the port of arrival to be admissible under the immigration laws in all respects other than the requirements of section 13 (a) and 13 (c) of this Act. Such substitution may be made only upon the application of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived, and only if the alien whose place he takes is

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1954, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the islands of Aruba, Curaçao, and Bonaire, or an island adjacent to any thereof in which such seaman is ordinarily employed) shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring his detention ashore, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, but no such seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States at any port for the purpose of entering the United States unless there is on board the vessel on which he arrives a sufficient number of seamen employed thereon who are not excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws to perform the work required to operate the vessel safely. Any such seaman who lands in the United States shall be deported in the same manner as provided in section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 151), unless specifically exempted by the Attorney General from the provisions of this section. Any such seaman who lands in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), as amended, and shall be ineligible to citizenship.

(b) The Attorney General shall issue rules and regulations providing conditions under which such seamen may be granted shore leave without the necessity of obtaining individual permits therefor, and may withdraw or modify such rules and regulations whenever he finds that the privileges granted thereunder are being abused. Such rules and regulations shall provide for the maintenance of such records concerning the movements of such seamen while in the United States as he may deem necessary, and for the submission of such records to immigration officers at such ports as he may designate.

(c) Any alien seaman who remains in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 151), as amended, and shall be ineligible to citizenship.

(d) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the vessel was not at fault in connection with the violation in respect of which such fine became due. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance over the action of the collector of customs in withholding clearance in any case in which an application for remission or mitigation of such fine has been filed.

This section as amended shall apply to all seagoing vessels registered or documented in the United States or any foreign vessel while in the United States, regardless of the date of entry of such vessel into the United States.

(e) Any person who knowingly forges, counterfeits, alters, or falsely makes any certificate or endorsement concerning the shipping or discharge or effects of a seaman, or utters or uses any such certificate or endorsement so forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made, or who steals, or knowingly and fraudulently alters, or falsely makes, or counterfeits any such certificate or endorsement, or who utters or uses any such certificate or endorsement so stolen, altered, or falsely made, or who unlawfully has in his possession any such certificate or endorsement so stolen, altered, or falsely made, or who demands, receives, or obtains, or aids or assists another to demand, receive, or obtain, any allotment or payment of wages or other property of a seaman on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any part of such wages or other property, by means of any such certificate or endorsement so forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made, or who shall receive any such certificate or endorsement so stolen, altered, or falsely made, knowing the same to be stolen, altered, or falsely made, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(f) Any person who knowingly and willfully causes or procures any seaman to enter into any contract or agreement with respect to wages that provides for the payment of wages to such seaman in a foreign port either in lieu of or in addition to wages payable to such seaman in the United States, or who pays any seaman wages in a foreign port either in lieu of or in addition to wages payable to such seaman in the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(g) Any person who knowingly and willfully causes or procures any seaman to sign an agreement or contract for employment on board any vessel upon the navigation of the waters of the United States which contains any provision abridging the seaman's right to demand and receive payment of wages due him at any port at which the vessel may touch, at intervals of not more than one week, or upon the termination of the agreement, whichever shall first occur, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(h) Any seaman who shall refuse to perform any duty or any proper command required of him by the master or officer of the vessel on which he is employed, or who shall assault any officer, or who shall combine, confederate, or conspire with any other seaman or seamen to refuse to perform his or their duty on board such vessel, or to impede the progress of such vessel on her voyage, or to incite other seamen to disobey lawful commands or to neglect their duty, or who shall quit or desert such vessel before the termination of the voyage for which he was engaged, or before the proper discharge of such seaman, or who shall refuse to proceed to sea in such vessel after the cargo has been laden and the vessel is ready for sea, or who shall absent himself without leave from such vessel at any time within twenty-four hours of the vessel's intended departure on her voyage, or who shall refuse to work cargo after the vessel has been made ready for sea, or who shall refuse to work cargo after the vessel has been made ready for sea, or who shall refuse to work cargo after the vessel has been made ready for sea

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where they were born, and where they respectively intend to be landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and no alien employee shall be allowed to land from any vessel at any port of the United States unless and until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has delivered to such immigration officer a list containing the name of such alien, and has secured the certificate of such officer that such alien has been duly listed and reported, and has permitted such officer to make such examination of such alien as he may deem necessary to determine whether or not such alien should be allowed to land. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, in multiple, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been employed, and to make such report and furnish such information as to the movements of such alien employee as may be required by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That if any such alien employee shall escape before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report the escape of such alien to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and to furnish such information as he may have or obtain relative to such escape, and in the event any such alien shall be found on board any such vessel after her departure from any port of the United States it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to cause such alien to be returned to the port from which he escaped, at his own cost and expense, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for such port, and upon failure to do so he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That if any such alien employee shall escape from any vessel in a foreign port or place, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he has exercised due diligence to prevent such escape, and that he has complied with the provisions of this section as to the report of such escape, and has furnished such information as to the movements of such alien employee as may be required by such officer, no penalty shall be imposed by reason of such escape.

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file additional lists as provided by said section or to land transferred alien members of the crew has been given to the administrative officer designated by said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 169). If any such alien member of the crew is to be transferred to a vessel of foreign registry, the master of the vessel shall, before clearance is granted, file with the collector of customs a bond in a sum sufficient to cover each case, or at the option of the master of the vessel the collector may accept a deposit of money in the sum required. Clearance shall not be granted prior to the expiration of such time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the detention of such alien crew members, or prior to the deposit of money or the filing of a bond for the payment of such sum, if any, who may have been ordered deported: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the expiration of such time or prior to the deposit of money or the filing of a bond in the case of any alien crew member, if the master, consignee, or owner of the vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien crew member has been lawfully admitted to the United States or has been granted a period of time within which to depart from the United States, and that the vessel will leave port before the expiration of such time: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such case. (39 Stat. 886–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States ultimately destined, removal, or intended to land at any port in the United States, shall, before such vessel departs from any place outside thereof, cause to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the full name, nationality (country of which citizen or subject), last permanent residence, and intended place of permanent residence in the United States of each alien employed, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list shall be prepared in such manner and form and contain such additional particulars as the Attorney General may prescribe, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be responsible for the correctness of such list and the sufficiency of the information contained therein. Such list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before any alien employee leaves the vessel, and no alien employee shall be allowed to land from any vessel at any port of the United States unless and until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has delivered to such immigration officer a list containing the name of such alien, and has secured the certificate of such officer that such alien has been duly listed and reported, and has permitted such officer to make such examination of such alien as he may deem necessary to determine whether or not such alien should be allowed to land. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, in multiple, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been employed, and to make such report and furnish such information as to the movements of such alien employee as may be required by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That if any such alien employee shall escape before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report the escape of such alien to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and to furnish such information as he may have or obtain relative to such escape, and in the event any such alien shall be found on board any such vessel after her departure from any port of the United States it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to cause such alien to be returned to the port from which he escaped, at his own cost and expense, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for such port, and upon failure to do so he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That if any such alien employee shall escape from any vessel in a foreign port or place, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he has exercised due diligence to prevent such escape, and that he has complied with the provisions of this section as to the report of such escape, and has furnished such information as to the movements of such alien employee as may be required by such officer, no penalty shall be imposed by reason of such escape.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar matter before any court, commissioner, or immigrant inspector, which shall be entitled to be heard in the premises.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable for the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while detained awaiting departure, and such expense may be recovered by the Attorney General in the manner provided by section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c)).

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. [Any alien arrival of any class in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to detain on board the vessel or other vessel or vehicle in which such alien arrives from foreign territory to the contiguous country, such alien for examination by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall furnish such information as he may require. Such examination shall be made within five days after the arrival of such alien at such port, or if such alien arrives at a port not designated as a port of entry, then within five days after the arrival of such alien at the first port of entry at which such vessel or other vessel or vehicle shall arrive after such alien's arrival at such nonport of entry. Said immigration officer in charge of the port of entry shall cause to be detained on board or at such immigration station to be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration such aliens arriving at such port of entry as said immigration officer in charge may consider necessary, and shall cause a complete list to be made of such aliens, which list shall be signed in duplicate by the master or agent of such vessel or other vessel or vehicle bringing such aliens and by said immigration officer in charge, and shall contain such information as shall be required by the Commissioner of Immigration. Said immigration officer in charge shall furnish to the master or agent of such vessel or other vessel or vehicle bringing such aliens a list containing the names of those aliens who are to be detained on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle or at such immigration station, and it shall be the duty of such master or agent to detain such aliens on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle or at such immigration station, as the case may be, and to deliver a true copy of such list to the officer in charge of the port of arrival before such vessel or other vessel or vehicle shall depart from the port at which such immigration officer in charge is stationed. Any master or agent who shall refuse to detain any such alien on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle or at such immigration station, as the case may be, or who shall refuse to deliver a true copy of such list to the officer in charge of the port of arrival before such vessel or other vessel or vehicle shall depart from the port at which such immigration officer in charge is stationed, or who shall refuse to deliver to any such immigration officer any such alien detained on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each such alien, and no such vessel or other vessel or vehicle shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the master thereof refuses to permit such immigration officer to go on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle for the purpose of inspecting the list of aliens detained thereon, or refuses to detain any such alien on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle or at such immigration station, as the case may be, or refuses to deliver to the immigration officer in charge a true copy of such list, or refuses to deliver any such alien detained on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle or at such immigration station, as the case may be, to the custody of the officer in charge of the port of arrival, or pays any person for conducting the aliens of all alien embassies who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently joined them for conducting the aliens to the duly of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has been concealed on board such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of such master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has been concealed on board such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel or other vessel or vehicle before the inspection of such alien by such immigration officer, or who was not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel or other vessel or vehicle before the inspection of such alien by such immigration officer, and also the names of those, if any, who were seen being put on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle, or who were known to have been on board, and who have disappeared, and to report to such immigration officer in charge the name of any such alien who shall thereafter be found on board such vessel or other vessel or vehicle, or who shall leave the vessel or other vessel or vehicle without the permission of such immigration officer in charge

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1824, AS AMENDED

SEC. 10. A false oath knowingly taken before any person authorized to administer the same shall be deemed perjury, and shall subject the offender to the pains and penalties thereof: Provided, That no person shall be prosecuted for perjury unless the information upon which he is indicted shall be found by a grand jury within three years next after the commission of the offence.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, operator, charterer, master, purser, or agent of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, who knowingly, willfully, or with gross negligence fails to comply with any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 1 of this Act, or who knowingly, willfully, or with gross negligence presents or attempts to present any false or forged certificate required by any such regulation, or who knowingly, willfully, or with gross negligence makes any false statement in connection with the entry of any vessel, or who knowingly, willfully, or with gross negligence fails to report the departure of any vessel from the United States pursuant to any such regulation, or who knowingly, willfully, or with gross negligence makes any false statement in connection with the clearance of any vessel, shall be liable for each such offense to a penalty of not more than $2,000, for which penalty such vessel shall also be liable. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent of which has failed to pay any penalty imposed by this section upon such master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent, or has failed to file a bond as security for the payment of such penalty in such amount, not exceeding $2,000, as the Secretary of the Treasury may require. Such vessel may be libeled in the district court of the United States for the district in which it may be found or into which it may arrive for the recovery of any penalty imposed by this section upon the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent thereof. Clearance may be granted any vessel upon the deposit of the penalty with which it is charged, or the filing of a bond for the payment thereof, or the execution of a stipulation therefor, with sureties, in such amount as may be required by the court in which the libel is filed. Any such bond or stipulation may be prosecuted and recovered upon in the name of the United States in the event the penalty is not paid when due. The Secretary of the Treasury may remit or mitigate any penalty imposed by this section upon such terms as he shall deem proper and may ascertain the facts upon all petitions for such remission or mitigation in such manner as he may think proper. Any penalty imposed by this section may be collected by stoppage or withholding the clearance of any vessel which may be owned in whole or in part by the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent incurring the penalty.

(b) The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any vessel which, after notice and hearing, he finds has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by him pursuant to section 1 of this Act, or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare pursuant to section 361 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 264), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to section 306 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1306), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 318 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1318). Clearance shall not be granted any vessel which has been refused clearance by any other port of the United States, pursuant to the provisions of this section, until the owner, operator, charterer, master, purser, or agent of such vessel has complied with the regulations upon which the refusal was based and has paid all penalties incurred and all charges for services rendered in connection with the detention of the vessel. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel, the owner, operator, charterer, master, purser, or agent of which has been convicted of violating the immigration laws of the United States, until such time as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine that the public interest will not be further jeopardized by the release of such vessel. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel which has been libeled for the payment of penalties incurred under the provisions of this section, until a bond sufficient to cover the amount claimed in the libel has been filed with the court in which the libel is pending, or until the vessel has been released by order of such court. Any vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart the United States without clearance shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States in the manner provided for the seizure and forfeiture of vessels for violation of the revenue laws of the United States, and the officers of the customs are hereby authorized to search any vessel about to depart the United States without clearance and to break bulk and examine the contents of any part of the vessel. Any person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be of opinion that any provision of this section is inconsistent with any treaty or convention now existing between the United States and any foreign country, he may suspend the operation of such provision to the vessels of such country to the extent necessary to give effect to such treaty or convention, and may revoke such suspension whenever he shall be of opinion that the treaty or convention no longer requires it.

(d) The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any vessel which, after notice and hearing, he finds has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by him pursuant to section 1 of this Act, or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare pursuant to section 361 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 264), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to section 306 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1306), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 318 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1318). Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent of such vessel has complied with the regulations upon which the refusal was based and has paid all penalties incurred and all charges for services rendered in connection with the detention of the vessel. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel which has been libeled for the payment of penalties incurred under the provisions of this section, until a bond sufficient to cover the amount claimed in the libel has been filed with the court in which the libel is pending, or until the vessel has been released by order of such court. Any vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart the United States without clearance shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States in the manner provided for the seizure and forfeiture of vessels for violation of the revenue laws of the United States, and the officers of the customs are hereby authorized to search any vessel about to depart the United States without clearance and to break bulk and examine the contents of any part of the vessel. Any person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2. That from and after the passage of this Act it shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to bring or cause to be brought into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien, and it shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to aid or assist any alien to land within the United States, except as provided in this Act, and before any alien can land in the United States, except as provided in this Act, he shall be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and if such alien is found to be suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, he shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor, and shall be detained at the place where he may be found pending the certification by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported as provided in this Act: Provided, That any alien who at the time of application for admission is found and certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a contagious disease which previously has been present in the country for a sufficient time and has been contracted within the country to become dangerous to the public health shall not be admitted, but may be detained for treatment and deported after recovery at the expense of the person or vessel bringing him to the United States, or at the expense of the steamship company or transportation company or agent thereof which brought him to the United States, as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not be enforced against any person because of any contagious disease of which he may be afflicted if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he became so afflicted after the time limit for the exclusion of aliens has expired: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any alien to enter the United States temporarily for a period not exceeding one year, under such conditions as he may prescribe, when in his judgment the sickness or disability of such alien is not of a dangerous character or likely to affect the health of the people of the United States, and when such alien is not likely to become a public charge, and when such temporary admission is not prejudicial to the interests of the United States: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the certificate of the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as to any alien seeking admission to the United States solely as a nonimmigrant who is in transit through the United States and has in his possession documents indicating his intention and ability to proceed to some foreign country through the United States, and who is otherwise admissible.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be of opinion that any provision of this section is inconsistent with any treaty or convention now existing between the United States and any foreign country, he may suspend the operation of such provision to the vessels of such country to the extent necessary to give effect to such treaty or convention, and may revoke such suspension whenever he shall be of opinion that the treaty or convention no longer requires it.

(d) The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any vessel which, after notice and hearing, he finds has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by him pursuant to section 1 of this Act, or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare pursuant to section 361 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 264), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to section 306 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1306), or has been operated in violation of any regulation prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 318 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1318). Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent of such vessel has complied with the regulations upon which the refusal was based and has paid all penalties incurred and all charges for services rendered in connection with the detention of the vessel. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel which has been libeled for the payment of penalties incurred under the provisions of this section, until a bond sufficient to cover the amount claimed in the libel has been filed with the court in which the libel is pending, or until the vessel has been released by order of such court. Any vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart the United States without clearance shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States in the manner provided for the seizure and forfeiture of vessels for violation of the revenue laws of the United States, and the officers of the customs are hereby authorized to search any vessel about to depart the United States without clearance and to break bulk and examine the contents of any part of the vessel. Any person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished to the master of each vessel at the port of departure from the United States for the information of the master in complying with the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended (8 U.S.C. 137). Any master who shall refuse to receive such list, or to deliver it to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to report the absence of any person from the list, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained in the list concerning each alien on board his vessel, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such offense. Any master who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, except as provided in section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended (8 U.S.C. 137), shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so brought to the United States, and may also be imprisoned for not more than one year. Any master who shall refuse to detain on board his vessel, or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, any alien who may be certified by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to the Secretary of Labor, or who may be detained by the Secretary of Labor, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so detained. Any master who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or at such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, any alien who may be ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be taken into custody for deportation shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien. Any master who shall refuse to take back to the foreign port from which he came any alien who may be ordered to be deported by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien. Any master who shall refuse to report, or who shall make any false report, concerning any alien who may have been brought to the United States by him, or who may have died during the voyage, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense. Any master who shall refuse to pay any head tax imposed by this Act shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearpapers while any penalty imposed upon the master thereof under the provisions of this Act remains unpaid, nor shall any such vessel be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of any penalty which may be imposed upon the master thereof under the provisions of this Act, but clearance may be granted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such penalty. The Secretary of the Treasury may remit or mitigate any penalty imposed by this section upon such terms as he shall deem proper, and may ascertain the facts upon all petitions for such remission or mitigation in such manner as he may think proper. Any penalty imposed by this section may be collected by stoppage or withholding the clearance of any vessel which may be owned in whole or in part by the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent incurring the penalty.

The list described below shall be furnished to the master of each vessel at the port of departure from the United States for the information of the master in complying with the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended (8 U.S.C. 137). Any master who shall refuse to receive such list, or to deliver it to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to report the absence of any person from the list, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained in the list concerning each alien on board his vessel, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such offense. Any master who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, except as provided in section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended (8 U.S.C. 137), shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so brought to the United States, and may also be imprisoned for not more than one year. Any master who shall refuse to detain on board his vessel, or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, any alien who may be certified by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to the Secretary of Labor, or who may be detained by the Secretary of Labor, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so detained. Any master who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or at such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, any alien who may be ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be taken into custody for deportation shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien. Any master who shall refuse to take back to the foreign port from which he came any alien who may be ordered to be deported by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien. Any master who shall refuse to report, or who shall make any false report, concerning any alien who may have been brought to the United States by him, or who may have died during the voyage, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense. Any master who shall refuse to pay any head tax imposed by this Act shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearpapers while any penalty imposed upon the master thereof under the provisions of this Act remains unpaid, nor shall any such vessel be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of any penalty which may be imposed upon the master thereof under the provisions of this Act, but clearance may be granted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such penalty. The Secretary of the Treasury may remit or mitigate any penalty imposed by this section upon such terms as he shall deem proper, and may ascertain the facts upon all petitions for such remission or mitigation in such manner as he may think proper. Any penalty imposed by this section may be collected by stoppage or withholding the clearance of any vessel which may be owned in whole or in part by the master, owner, operator, charterer, or agent incurring the penalty.

SEC. 36. Upon such written application and proof of payment of the head tax provided for in this section, the alien shall be duly informed in writing of the time and place at which he will be required to appear for examination at the office of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, which time shall not be less than three days after the receipt of such application by the immigrant inspector in charge, unless the alien expresses his desire to be examined sooner, and shall be duly informed in writing of the result of such examination. Such written application and proof of payment of the head tax shall be delivered by the alien to the immigrant inspector in charge at the time he presents himself for examination, and shall be preserved by the said inspector in charge and filed with the case in every instance where the alien is certified to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry under the provisions of section 17 of this Act, or where he is excluded by the immigrant inspector in charge or by the board of special inquiry. Such written application and proof of payment of the head tax shall not be required of any alien who is admitted without question as a citizen of the United States upon his own statement, if in possession of a certificate of citizenship issued by a court or judge of the United States, or by a representative of the Department of Labor, or of a certificate of naturalization or citizenship issued by the Secretary of Labor, or by a representative of the Department of Labor, or

SEC. 150.15 Place of alien employment; report of termination of vessel deemed. (a) Termination deemed not to have occurred. Termination of employment of an alien employed on a vessel deemed terminated pursuant to section 30 of the Act (46 U.S.C. 713) shall not be deemed to have occurred if the alien, within 24 hours after such termination, reports and has remained on board the vessel or has reported to another vessel operated by the same employer or its subsidiary or affiliate, and has not since been employed on shore or on any other vessel. (b) Report of termination. Whenever the employment of an alien crewman is terminated, the master or person in charge of the vessel shall report the termination to the district director in whose district the vessel is located. The report shall be made at the time of departure if the vessel is departing from the United States, or within 24 hours after the termination if the vessel is remaining in the United States. The report shall be made on Form I-426 and shall state the name, nationality, and last address in the United States of the alien, the date and place of termination of employment, and the reason therefor, if known. (c) Failure to report. Failure to report the termination of employment of an alien crewman as required by this section is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien crewman not reported. (Sec. 251, 66 Stat. 233; 8 U.S.C. 1281)

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof until such alien has been granted a permit to land temporarily or permanently. Upon the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name, nationality, and last address in the United States of each alien seaman employed on board the vessel who intends to land temporarily or permanently in the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who fails to deliver such list, or who employs any alien seaman who has not been granted a permit to land temporarily or permanently, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman employed. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which has been fined under the provisions of this section until such fine has been paid or a bond approved by the Secretary of Labor has been given to assure the payment thereof. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States who shall land therefrom temporarily or permanently in the United States in violation of the immigration laws may be arrested without warrant and deported at any time by the Secretary of Labor. Such deportation shall be a deportation within the meaning of section 19 of this Act, but shall not be limited to the three years' period specified therein. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and shall remain therein for a period longer than the period of his permit, or who shall land therefrom temporarily or permanently at any time or place other than as designated by the immigration officer, shall be deported as an alien who entered without inspection. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall fail to depart therefrom on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel within the period of his permit, or who shall land therefrom temporarily or permanently at any time or place other than as designated by the immigration officer, shall be deemed to have remained in the United States for the purpose of the five-year limitation applicable to deportation under section 19 of this Act. (Sec. 251, 66 Stat. 233; 8 U.S.C. 1281)

(c) If the Attorney General shall not be satisfied as to the admissibility of any alien seaman he may cause such alien to be detained on board or at a station to be designated by him pending the decision as to the admissibility of such alien, and the cost of such detention shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States. Any such alien seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such amount and with such conditions, not inconsistent with law, as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, but no such bond shall be required in excess of $300 for each alien seaman. Any such bond may be prosecuted for the benefit of the United States to recover the penalty in the event of the failure of the alien seaman to depart in accordance with the terms of his permit or of this section. (d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the Attorney General shall permit him to depart at the expense of the vessel on which he departs or at his own expense. (e) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend or repeal any of the provisions of the immigration laws relating to the admission of alien seamen entering the United States temporarily in pursuance of their calling and solely for the purpose of performing their duties as seamen and departing therefrom with the vessel on which they arrived or some other vessel. (f) The Attorney General shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. (g) As used in this section the term "vessel" includes every description of watercraft or other artificial contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water, but does not include aircraft. (h) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such violation. (i) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 14, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U.S.C. 136), or section 3 of the Act of May 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 593; 8 U.S.C. 137). (June 27, 1952, ch. 477, title II, ch. 2, sec. 251, 66 Stat. 233.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. If no aliens are employed, a list containing the name of the vessel and the words "no aliens employed" is required. Additional sheets may be used if necessary. The list should be made out in duplicate, the original to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States, and the duplicate to be retained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States. The original list shall be prepared and delivered in accordance with the provisions of section 10 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended (8 U.S.C. 180), and section 150.15 of Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and shall not be changed except with the approval of the Attorney General. (Sec. 10, 43 Stat. 164; 8 U.S.C. 180.)

Person to perform the oath

Title of Immigration Officer

Name and Title of Immigration Officer

Date

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 31st day of May, 1954.

I, the Master [illegible] of the vessel named above, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the list or manifest of alien seamen now delivered by me to the immigration officer at this port is a full, true, and complete list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board this vessel, and of the ports at which they were severally engaged; that I have caused to be entered on the list opposite the name of each alien seaman employed a note of the time and place of his engagement; that I have made a like entry in the list opposite the name of each alien seaman who has been discharged, died, or deserted, or otherwise quitted the vessel since her last arrival in the United States, or since the date of the clearance of the vessel if she sailed from a port of the United States, and that the reason for the discharge, death, desertion, or other departure of each alien seaman so discharged, died, deserted, or otherwise quitted the vessel is truly stated in the said list; that no alien seaman has been employed on board this vessel, or has been engaged to proceed to sea in her, or has been discharged, died, deserted, or otherwise quitted the vessel since her last arrival in the United States, or since the date of the clearance of the vessel if she sailed from a port of the United States, except as appears in the said list; that I have not connived at the illegal landing of any alien seaman, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief every alien seaman mentioned in the said list has been duly landed at the proper time and place; and that I have not received or collected, and will not receive or collect, directly or indirectly, any sum of money or other remuneration whatever for or on account of any alien seaman mentioned in the said list, or for or on account of his employment, or for or on account of his discharge, death, desertion, or other departure from the vessel, except the wages due to him at the time of his departure, and that I will not demand or accept any such wages from any alien seaman mentioned in the said list.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this [illegible] day of [illegible], 19[illegible], at the port of [illegible].

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described herein shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be used for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of entry, as provided by the regulations of the Department of Commerce and Labor. The list of passengers of each race or people not specifically mentioned in said list shall be included in the class designated as "Other ——," the blank being filled in with the name descriptive of such race or people. Any alien who refuses to furnish information when required by any such officer is liable to a fine of not more than $200, or to imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. (Sec. 8, act of March 3, 1903, as amended by act of February 20, 1907.)

SEC. 13. (a) That the number of aliens of any nationality who may be admitted into the United States under the nonquota immigration class determined pursuant to section 11 (a) or section 11 (b) or who may be admitted as nonquota immigrants under section 4 (c) shall be limited in any fiscal year to 2 per centum of the number of foreign-born individuals of such nationality resident in the United States as determined by the United States Census for the year 1890, but the minimum quota of any nationality shall be one hundred.

(b) That the annual quota of any nationality for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1927, and for each fiscal year thereafter, shall be a number which bears the same ratio to one hundred and fifty-three thousand seven hundred and seventy-four as the number of inhabitants in the United States in 1920 having the national origins of such nationality bears to the total population in the United States in 1920, but the minimum quota of any nationality shall be one hundred.

(c) In the administration of the provisions of law governing the determination of the quota of any nationality, the Secretary of State shall, at such time or times as he may deem proper, certify to the Secretary of Labor the number of inhabitants in the United States in 1920 having the national origins of such nationality, and the Secretary of Labor shall certify to the Secretary of State and to the Secretary of Commerce the quota of such nationality.

(d) For the purpose of subdivision (c) of this section, the term "United States" includes the District of Columbia, but does not include the island possessions of the United States, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama.

SEC. 14. That no alien admitted to the United States shall be naturalized in the United States unless such alien has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the date of his application for naturalization and has resided continuously within the United States for at least one year immediately preceding the date of his naturalization: Provided, That any alien who has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years immediately preceding the passage of this Act and who has filed a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the provisions of law in force at the time of the filing thereof may be naturalized as a citizen of the United States in accordance with the provisions of this Act, except that he may be naturalized without having resided within the United States for one year subsequent to the filing of his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States if at the time of his application for naturalization he has resided continuously within the United States for more than four years subsequent to the filing of his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States and if he has resided continuously within the United States from the date of his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States to the time of his admission to citizenship.

SEC. 15. That after one year from the passage of this Act no person who has been admitted to the United States as a bona fide alien visitor for pleasure, alien visitor in transit, alien seaman, or alien visitor under any treaty or convention regulating such classes of admission shall be readmitted to the United States unless prior to such readmission he has obtained a passport duly viséed by the consular officer of the country to which he intends to return, or by the consular officer of the last country through which he passed in going to the United States, if he shall have come to the United States otherwise than directly from the country to which he intends to return, except that such passport shall not be required of any alien who is in possession of a permit to reenter the United States issued by the Secretary of Labor prior to his departure from the United States, or of any alien who is a resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, the Republic of Panama, or the Republic of Colombia, or of any alien who is a seaman entitled to shore leave. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law.

SEC. 150.15. Duty of alien entering: Alien crewmen. (a) Crewmen shall not be granted any license to depart from the port of arrival unless they shall have been inspected by an immigrant inspector and found admissible as crewmen. Crewmen who have been granted such license to depart and who have not departed with the vessel on which they arrived shall be reported to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization by the master of the vessel on which they arrived, or by the agent of such vessel, within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port, and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 10 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 151). Crewmen who have been granted such license to depart and who have departed with the vessel on which they arrived shall be reported by the master of the vessel, or by the agent of such vessel, within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port, and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 10 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 151). Crewmen who have been granted such license to depart and who have not departed with the vessel on which they arrived shall be reported by the master of the vessel, or by the agent of such vessel, within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port, and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 10 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 151). Crewmen who have been granted such license to depart and who have not departed with the vessel on which they arrived shall be reported by the master of the vessel, or by the agent of such vessel, within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port, and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 10 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 151). Crewmen who have been granted such license to depart and who have not departed with the vessel on which they arrived shall be reported by the master of the vessel, or by the agent of such vessel, within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port, and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 10 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 151).

SEC. 16. That after one year from the passage of this Act no person who has been admitted to the United States upon any ticket, passage, immigration order, or upon any other form of permit or representation, and who has come in search of employment, shall be permitted to land in the United States except upon a ticket, passage, immigration order, or upon any other form of permit or representation issued by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person as he may designate for the purpose, which ticket, passage, immigration order, or upon any other form of permit or representation shall be issued at the place of the last permanent residence of such alien prior to his coming to the port from which he is to depart for the United States, and only upon such evidence as the Secretary of Labor may require, and which evidence shall be preserved by the master of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States and by the transportation company issuing such ticket, passage, immigration order, or upon any other form of permit or representation, and shall be produced upon the demand of any immigrant inspector. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law, and shall be forever debarred from becoming a citizen of the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to any alien or class of aliens as to whom he shall find that the application of this section would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States: Provided further, That any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such violation occurs. Any person who knowingly aids or abets another in violating the provisions of this section, and any person who conspires with another to violate the provisions of this section, and any person who knowingly aids or abets another in concealing from discovery, or attempting to conceal from discovery, any alien who has entered the United States in violation of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to the wife, or to a child under sixteen years of age, of any alien admitted to the United States who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa at the time of such admission, or who is entitled to enter the United States without such visa, if such wife or child is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa or is entitled to enter the United States without such visa. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 4 (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "motorway", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens destined to interior points, the immigration officer at the port of arrival may require masters of vessels carrying such aliens to furnish additional copies of the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged by nationality according to the boarding and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board for discharge in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as is required by regulations prescribed by the Attorney General, and such other information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien not lawfully entitled to enter or to secure the removal of any alien who may be found in the United States in violation of law, as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and such lists shall be delivered by the master of such vessel to the said immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port for which destined, or as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been concealed on board after the vessel has left the last port outside the United States at which such master, agent, consignee, or owner was required by law to deliver lists in respect of other aliens. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form and contain such other particulars concerning each alien listed thereon as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses or fails to deliver any such list in the manner and form and at the time required by this section, or who refuses or fails to deliver to any immigration officer any such alien included in such lists, or who refuses or fails to detain any such alien on board or at such port of arrival when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who refuses or fails to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States from any vessel at any port, or who refuses or fails to report, detain, or deliver any such alien to any immigration officer when required so to do, or who refuses or fails to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in the case of any such alien, or who refuses or fails to comply with the requirements of this Act or any rule or regulation made thereunder with respect to any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom any such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and shall constitute a part of the immigration fund. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any immigration officer any list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such list in the manner and form and at the time required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any such alien on board or at such port of arrival when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or fail to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in the case of any such alien, or who shall refuse or fail

ALIEN SEAMEN.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port, or from any port in the United States, destined to any foreign port, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the ultimate departure of such alien with the vessel on which he arrived, or on board some other vessel: Provided, That clearance may be refused to any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof when any alien seaman on board such vessel shall have been certified to the master of such vessel by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [as suffering from any disease or condition which will endanger the welfare of the United States, or which will require treatment for more than thirty days after the date of arrival, and such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified and has had reasonable time to make such physical examination of such alien seaman as he may deem necessary, and such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board such vessel after such examination unless he has been certified by such immigration officer that in his opinion he may be landed without danger to the United States: Provided further, That the Attorney General may prescribe such regulations governing the admission of alien seamen as he may deem necessary, and any master, consignee, or agent of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs: Provided, That clearance may be refused under the provisions of this section to any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof until the master of such vessel has been notified that the provisions of this section will be complied with: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to masters or seamen who have been in the United States for a period of not more than four months immediately preceding the date of their application for admission, and who are found by the Attorney General to be otherwise admissible.

(As amended Feb. 27, 1925, c. 371, sec. 2, 43 Stat. 1058; June 21, 1930, c. 613, 46 Stat. 788.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That alien seamen in the United States shall not be entitled to demand or have granted to them a discharge from any vessel of the United States from any foreign port or place in the United States, or to demand or have granted to them a discharge in the United States from any vessel while the same is in navigation, unless after the vessel on board of which they shall have shipped or agreed to ship shall have been duly inspected and certificated by the proper officer of the port of arrival as to her seaworthy condition, and as to the sufficiency of her crew, and her compliance with the laws of the United States relative to the complement, accommodations, and provisions for the crew, such vessel shall be ready to proceed to sea in all respects, and not sooner. Any seaman who shall desert or shall refuse to proceed to sea in any vessel in which he shall have shipped or agreed to ship when ordered so to do by the master, mate, or officer in charge of the deck watch, or by the pilot of such vessel, shall be liable to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve weeks, and shall forfeit to the United States three dollars for each day during which he shall continue to refuse to work after being ordered so to do as aforesaid; and any seaman who shall wilfully disobey any lawful command or shall resist any officer of such vessel, or any person lawfully called to assist such officer, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months, and shall forfeit to the United States a sum not exceeding one month's wages. Any seaman who shall refuse to join his vessel, or to proceed from any port in the United States in which his vessel may be lying, or who shall absent himself without leave from his vessel at any time from the vessel's arrival until she shall have been made fast and her moorings secured, unless he shall have obtained the permission of the master or mate, or other officer having charge of the deck watch, or shall have been ordered ashore by the master or some officer, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve weeks, and shall forfeit to the United States three dollars for each day during which he shall so absent himself. Any seaman who shall combine with any of the crew of any vessel to disobey lawful orders, or to refuse duty, or to incite others to refuse duty, or to impede the progress of the vessel, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve weeks, and shall forfeit to the United States three months' wages. Any seaman who shall wilfully damage the vessel to which he belongs, or any of her stores or cargo, or shall endeavor to do so, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years, and shall forfeit to the United States all wages which may be due to him. Any seaman who shall be convicted of perpetrating any barratrous act, or who shall be guilty of any gross act of disobedience to lawful command, or of any gross violence or aggression against any officer on board, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years, and shall forfeit to the United States all wages which may be due to him. Any seaman who shall be convicted of any act of criminal violence against any person on board ship, or of any act of criminal violence ashore against any person in the service of the vessel to which he belongs, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years, and shall forfeit to the United States all wages which may be due to him. Any seaman who shall desert his vessel in any foreign port or place shall forfeit to the owner, master, consignee, or shipper of the vessel to which he belongs all effects he may leave on board, and all claim he may have for wages earned on board such vessel, and shall be liable to the master, consignee, or shipper of such vessel for any extra expense which may be incurred in shipping another seaman in his place, and for any damages which may be sustained by reason of such desertion. Any seaman who shall desert his vessel in any port of the United States shall forfeit to the United States all wages which may be due to him

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at the port of arrival from a foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to enable such seaman to be returned on board the vessel which brought him to the United States, or for such other cause as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico shall be responsible for the prompt removal from the port of arrival of any alien stowaway found on board such vessel, and shall pay the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before departure of such vessel from such port a sum equivalent to the cost of the transportation of such alien from the United States to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he embarked, as determined by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, unless such alien is admitted to the United States by the immigration officer at the port of arrival or is lawfully entitled to enter, pass in transit, or reside in the United States, or is prosecuted for a felony committed in the United States. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the immigration officer as to the payment of the penalty hereby imposed, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. Upon such remission, mitigation, or payment of such penalty by the collector of customs, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, shall refund the deposit or cancel the bond. (44 Stat. 1014–1015; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

(b) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the violation occurs. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the immigration officer as to the payment of the penalty hereby imposed, or while the same remains unpaid, or pending an appeal to the Attorney General, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond sufficient as to surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Attorney General as to an appeal, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. Upon such remission, mitigation, or payment of such penalty by the collector of customs, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, shall refund the deposit or cancel the bond. (44 Stat. 1015; 8 U. S. C. 192.)

(c) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the violation occurs. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the immigration officer as to the payment of the penalty hereby imposed, or while the same remains unpaid, or pending an appeal to the Attorney General, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Attorney General as to an appeal, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. Upon such remission, mitigation, or payment of such penalty by the collector of customs, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, shall refund the deposit or cancel the bond. (44 Stat. 1015; 8 U. S. C. 193.)

(d) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the violation occurs. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the immigration officer as to the payment of the penalty hereby imposed, or while the same remains unpaid, or pending an appeal to the Attorney General, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Attorney General as to an appeal, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. Upon such remission, mitigation, or payment of such penalty by the collector of customs, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, shall refund the deposit or cancel the bond. (44 Stat. 1015; 8 U. S. C. 193.)

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship or danger to the vessel or to other vessels, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman may be required to remain in the United States for a period not exceeding four months if in the opinion of the Attorney General his testimony is necessary in the prosecution of persons charged with violating any of the provisions of this section, but any such seaman may be released from custody upon the deposit of such sum as bail as the Attorney General may require, to insure his appearance when required. Such seaman shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act when the Secretary of Labor shall so direct. (44 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 169 (a), 169 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on said vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board to the port of arrival; to list containing as much of such information as may be obtained by reasonable inquiry, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner-General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor; and to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been unlawfully landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension thereof; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed since the sailing of the vessel from any foreign port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off or discharged, and of those alien members of the crew who have died during the voyage, and the cause, time, and place of each such death. No alien employee who was not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel at the time of her departure shall be permitted to land in the United States unless specially examined by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival and found not to belong to any of the excluded classes. Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel failing to deliver lists of the alien employees, or reporting the illegal landing of aliens, as herein required, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a fine thereof at not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list of races and peoples printed above shall be followed by the Immigrant Inspector in writing the answer to question 9. The word "white" is intended to indicate persons commonly known as white persons, and the word "African" is intended to indicate persons commonly known as negroes. The word "Hebrew" is not to be used except when the immigrant himself declares that he belongs to the Hebrew people or race. Immigrants who are citizens of the United States should be described as Americans. Care should be taken to distinguish carefully between citizens born and naturalized in the United States and foreigners who have become citizens of the United States. Women and children should be described as well as men.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be printed on blank forms prescribed by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at portside the vessel is due to arrive. The law of 4 August 1924 (43 Stat. 153) shall not be construed to repeal, amend, or alter in any manner the provisions of the immigration laws (U.S.C., Title 8, Aliens and Nationality) relating to the admission of aliens to the United States, but shall be in addition to such provisions and shall be enforced concurrently therewith. Any alien coming to the United States who is found to be in violation of the provisions of this law may be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. Nothing contained in this law shall be construed to amend, repeal, or modify the provisions of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889), relating to the collection of the head tax from certain aliens.

SEC. 2. That it shall be unlawful for any person, including any transportation company, or the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel to bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who is unable to read and write the English or some other language, including his own native or some other recognized language, except that nothing contained in this law shall exempt from the operation thereof any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad, nor any alien in transit through the United States in immediate and continuous passage from one foreign country to another through a port of the United States, nor any alien who is a bona fide seeker of political asylum at the port of first arrival after entering the United States from his native country, nor any alien who has resided continuously in the United States for at least one year before coming to the United States as a seaman and is employed as a seaman on board a vessel operating between the United States and foreign ports, nor any alien who has resided continuously in the United States for at least two years before coming to the United States as a seaman and is employed as a seaman on board a vessel operating between the United States and foreign ports, nor any alien who has resided continuously in the United States for at least five years before coming to the United States as a seaman, unless such alien shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and shall be in possession of an unexpired immigration visa at the time of application for admission.

SEC. 3. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or the person in charge thereof, to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and intended length of stay in the United States of each alien employed, and the amount of wages due to each, and shall make oath to a certificate at the foot of such list to the effect that it contains a true and correct account of all such aliens employed on such vessel. Such list shall be prepared and sworn to in quadruplicate, and the immigration officer in charge of the port shall retain one copy for the files of his office, deliver one copy to the customs officer in charge of the port, and return two copies to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the first port of call in the United States. Such list shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, if bound to a port in the United States, before the departure of said vessel from the last foreign port or place at which she touches, and if such vessel is not bound to a port in the United States, then such list shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel before she departs from the port of the United States at which she has been cleared, and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the first port of call in the United States. Such list shall contain such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished as herein required, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon the production of a certificate from a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States in the country from which such alien departed that he has deposited with him a sum sufficient to cover the cost of returning such alien to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a citizen or subject, or in which he has a domicile, and the payment of such sum to the master of any vessel bound to such country, which certificate shall be delivered to the master of the vessel upon the payment of the sum therein certified to. Such sum shall be refunded to the person who deposited the same upon the production of the certificate by the master of the vessel that the alien has been landed in accordance with the provisions of this law. The penalty herein provided shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the said vessel may be libeled for the same. It shall be the duty of the boarding officer to examine the said list and to report any violation of the provisions of this section before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the list required by this section, or upon the refusal of any alien to be listed, such alien shall be detained on board the vessel until the list is delivered, or, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, such alien may be detained in the discretion of the immigration officer in charge of the port at the expense of the vessel. The list or lists required by this section shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and in the event that any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to deliver such list or lists to the immigration officer in charge of the port at the time of departure of the vessel from the last foreign port where such list or lists should have been delivered, he shall be liable to a penalty of $300, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel until the payment of such penalty is assured.

SEC. 4. That the provisions of section 2 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, relative to the payment of the head tax, and the exceptions to such payment set forth in said section, shall be applicable to the head tax levied by section 3 of this act.

SEC. 5. That the provisions of section 18 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; U.S.C., Title 8, sec. 152) shall be applicable to the transportation of aliens who are excluded from admission to the United States by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 7. That the sum of $500,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, including the employment of such additional immigrant inspectors as may be necessary, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, for the proper inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, and the payment of such other expenses in connection therewith as may be authorized by the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or the person in charge thereof, to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and intended length of stay in the United States of each alien, together with such information thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished as herein required, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon the production of a certificate from a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States in the country from which such alien departed that he has deposited with him a sum sufficient to cover the cost of returning such alien to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a citizen or subject, or in which he has a domicile, and the payment of such sum to the master of any vessel bound to such country, which certificate shall be delivered to the master of the vessel upon the payment of the sum therein certified to. Such sum shall be refunded to the person who deposited the same upon the production of the certificate by the master of the vessel that the alien has been landed in accordance with the provisions of this law. The penalty herein provided shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the said vessel may be libeled for the same. It shall be the duty of the boarding officer to examine the said list and to report any violation of the provisions of this section before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the list required by this section, or upon the refusal of any alien to be listed, such alien shall be detained on board the vessel until the list is delivered, or, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, such alien may be detained in the discretion of the immigration officer in charge of the port at the expense of the vessel. The list or lists required by this section shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and in the event that any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to deliver such list or lists to the immigration officer in charge of the port at the time of departure of the vessel from the last foreign port where such list or lists should have been delivered, he shall be liable to a penalty of $300, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel until the payment of such penalty is assured. SEC. 10. No alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States while she is within the limits of the same, or who shall refuse to proceed to sea in the vessel to which he belongs when ordered so to do by the master, commander, or other lawful officer of such vessel, shall be entitled to demand or receive any part of the wages which may be due to him; and every such seaman who shall be found within the United States, and who shall not produce a certificate from the consul or other public minister of the United States to the country to which he belongs, or if there be no such consul or minister there, then from the chief officer of the customs at the port from which he last sailed, stating that he has performed his duty on board the vessel in which he shall have sailed, shall be liable to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding two months, on the certificate of the master, commander, or other officer of such vessel, made before a magistrate of the United States, and upon the conviction of such seaman before the said magistrate, by the oath of one credible witness, in addition to the certificate aforesaid, that the certificate of the consul or other public minister aforesaid is the only one which he has received from the master, commander, or other officer of such vessel, touching the conduct of such seaman during the voyage. And every such seaman shall, moreover, forfeit out of the wages which may be due to him, a sum sufficient to cover such imprisonment, according to the rate of wages which he was receiving at the time he left the vessel, and all costs which may have been incurred in consequence of his refusal to proceed to sea in the vessel to which he belonged, or of his desertion from the same; and the certificate of the consul or other public minister aforesaid shall be produced and delivered to the collector of the district in which such seaman shall be found, before the said seaman shall be discharged from imprisonment; and the said certificate shall be filed by the said collector in his office. And if any master, commander, or other officer of any vessel belonging to the United States, from any place on the continent of North America, or the West Indies, shall, after the arrival of such vessel within the United States, and before the departure of the same from the port at which such seaman may be discharged, wantonly maim, beat, wound, or imprison any seaman belonging to such vessel, or shall, without sufficient cause, refuse or neglect to furnish such seaman with adequate provisions, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, to be recovered by such seaman, for his own use, in any court of the United States having competent jurisdiction; and moreover, every such master, commander, or other officer, shall be liable to such seaman in an action for damages, for any injury he may have sustained by any such cruel treatment, or unlawful imprisonment, to the full amount of his actual damages, and such further sum as exemplary damages as the court may adjudge, not exceeding one thousand dollars.

SEC. 150.15 Limit of alien conference; name, residence, etc., not to be changed. No alien admitted pursuant to section 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by section 4(a) of the Act of June 27, 1952, shall be permitted to change his status under section 7 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by section 4(a) of the Act of June 27, 1952, to that of a nonimmigrant described in section 101(a)(15)(C) or (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, unless he has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence. Any alien admitted as a nonimmigrant described in section 101(a)(15)(C) or (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, who fails to maintain the status under which he was admitted, or any other nonimmigrant who remains in the United States for a period longer than the period for which he was admitted or extended by the Attorney General, or who violates any term or condition of his admission, is subject to deportation. Any nonimmigrant described in section 101(a)(15)(C) or (D) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, may be required to depart therefrom at any time upon the order of the Attorney General in the manner prescribed in section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, and in addition thereto, prior to his departure or application for change of status, he may be required to furnish a bond with sufficient surety in such amount as the Attorney General may prescribe, but not less than $500 nor more than $10,000, conditioned upon such departure or application. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the requirement of such bond in the case of any alien who is able to establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that his departure from the United States would impose upon him or her exceptional hardship or that his departure would be unduly prejudicial to the interests of the United States. The provisions of this section as amended shall apply to all nonimmigrants whose admission to the United States was authorized on or after June 27, 1952, but shall not apply to any alien whose status was changed prior to that date under the provisions of section 7 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or who was admitted as a nonimmigrant prior to June 27, 1952, and has remained continuously in the United States since such admission.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That when masters, mates, pilots, or engineers have been employed in the service of the owners of any vessel in the United States for a term not longer than one year, and have faithfully performed their duties, they shall be entitled to demand and receive from the owner or consignee of such vessel, on the completion of the voyage, or, if the voyage be more than sixty days in duration, then at intervals of sixty days, one-half part of the wages which may be due and payable according to the terms of the agreement with the master, mate, pilot, or engineer; and a failure to make such payment when demanded shall entitle the master, mate, pilot, or engineer to two days' pay over and above the amount due for each day thereafter during which such failure shall continue, upon filing with the shipping commissioners at the port where the vessel may be, or with the collector of customs at a port where there is no shipping commissioner, within five days after the termination of such failure, a statement of the amount due, under oath before a notary public or other person authorized by law to administer oaths for general purposes, which statement shall be delivered by the master to the person authorized to receive the same on behalf of the seaman entitled thereto, and a copy thereof shall be furnished to the master upon demand. The payments provided for in this section shall be made on the vessel before the same leaves the dock or berth at which she may be lying, or, if at sea, immediately upon the arrival of the vessel at her destination. The remedies provided by this section shall not be exclusive, but shall be in addition to all other remedies existing by law. Any stipulation in any shipping agreement for the forfeiture of wages for desertion or for any cause whatsoever shall be void. Any seaman who quits without reasonable cause before the vessel is ready to proceed to sea shall forfeit one day's pay for each day's default. Any seaman who refuses to proceed to sea in the vessel on account of the vessel not being in a seaworthy condition, or on account of the food of inferior quality or insufficient in quantity, shall not be deemed to have forfeited his wages or any part thereof. Any seaman who deserts before the vessel to which he belongs leaves the port shall forfeit all the wages he has earned. Any seaman who is absent without leave at the time the vessel is ready to proceed to sea shall forfeit all the wages he has earned, unless the absence was caused by illness certified by the master and mate and verified by the oath of the seaman. Any seaman who shall refuse to work by the way of obedience to the lawful commands of the master, mate, pilot, or engineer, or who shall be guilty of any other gross misconduct or wilful breach of duty, shall forfeit all the wages he has earned in the current voyage. Any seaman who shall be convicted of any crime committed on the high seas, or elsewhere within the admiralty jurisdiction of the United States, shall forfeit all the wages he has earned. Any seaman who shall be convicted of smuggling shall forfeit all the wages he has earned in the current voyage. Any seaman who shall be convicted of any felony on board the vessel

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall be typewritten, and shall not be folded, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an attorney assumes to act as "next friend," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission to the United States, the master of the vessel shall cause the names of all aliens to be entered in the manifest in the order in which they present themselves for inspection, whether they present passports or not, and the numbers of passports, if any, shall be entered in the manifest opposite the names of the aliens to whom they were issued. Each alien must be listed on the manifest, regardless of his age, sex, or status as a member of the family group. Members of the crew shall be entered on the manifest in the same manner as passengers, except that they may be grouped when identical information is given concerning each member of the group.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, K. A. RYDER, of the ISLAND MARINER, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from and port or place during the foreign voyage.

I have noted the color of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and color of sections 15 and 35, Act of May 30, 1952, noted thereon.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of MAY, 1952

Alien Seamen Inspector or Immigrant Inspector

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be attached as blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alternate seaman is a "nonexpress" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as others.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That alien arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to which is granted a permit to land temporarily under section 3 of this Act, or to which is granted the privilege of transit through the United States in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, before the departure of any such seaport vessel, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all such aliens employed on such vessel, showing the full name, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, and whether in possession of passport or not, of each such alien, and the date and port of his last entry into the United States, if any, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to report to such immigration officer, at such time or times as may be required by him, the name of any such alien employed on such vessel who may have been discharged from such vessel, giving full description thereof, and stating the cause and circumstances of such discharge, and the destination of such alien so discharged, and to deliver to such immigration officer a duplicate list containing the names of all alien employees who were not entered thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave such vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill vacancies, and to report the cause of such departure, and the destination of such alien so discharged, and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, and not listed on the list of arrival, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien specified in such list who shall not be accounted for to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall not be produced for examination or detention when required by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall not report the cause of such departure, and the destination of such alien so discharged, or who shall not deliver such list, or who shall not report the name of any such alien employed on such vessel and not listed on the list of arrival, or who shall not report the cause of such departure, and the destination of such alien so discharged, or who shall not deliver such list of such alien employed on such vessel at the time of such departure, or who shall not report the name of any such alien so employed on such vessel who may have been discharged, or who shall not report the cause of such discharge, and the destination of such alien so discharged, or who shall not deliver such list of such alien employed on such vessel at the time of such departure, or who shall refuse to give any information in relation thereto required of him by the Secretary of Labor, or any person authorized by him to require the same, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him touching the same by any such officer or person, or who shall refuse to permit any such officer or person to go on board such vessel for the purpose of inquiring into the facts concerning the same, or who shall refuse to permit any such officer or person to search such vessel, or who shall refuse to assist any such officer or person in such search, or who shall refuse to permit any such officer or person to take such testimony as he may be authorized by this Act to take, or who shall refuse to sign the same when reduced to writing, or who shall refuse to take and subscribe any oath required by this Act to be taken, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him touching the same by any such officer or person

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ of the _____ of _____, do severally swear that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, properly qualified for said vessel from and port of home during the past twelve months; that I have made a part of the copy of sections 30 and 31 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), which affidavit below.

_____ master. Have a second officer

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19__.

_____ Immigrant Inspector

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. One copy must be delivered to each immigrant at the time of inspection. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

Each list must be typewritten or printed in the English language, and the names must appear in the exact order in which they are listed on the ship's manifest. The columns must be numbered consecutively, commencing with number 1 in each list. The last number must agree with the total number of persons listed. Any change in the manifest after the list is prepared must be noted in the proper column. Any additional persons must be added at the end of the list, and numbered consecutively, commencing with the next number following the last number on the list. Persons cannot be stricken from the list after it is prepared, but must be detained or otherwise dealt with as directed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. In case it is necessary to use more than one sheet, each sheet must be numbered consecutively, and the last sheet must show the total number of persons listed.

Each list must be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer, taken before a United States immigration officer at the port of arrival, or before any other person authorized by the Secretary of Labor to administer oaths for immigration purposes. The oath may be administered to the master or commanding officer by the person who prepared the list, after the latter has sworn to the correctness of the list by oath before the master or commanding officer. The oath must be taken and subscribed in duplicate, and the original must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and the duplicate retained by the master or commanding officer for production to any immigrant inspector who may request to see it during the voyage.

Any person who knowingly and willfully makes a false statement in the list of persons shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry lists containing the names of all aliens on board, which lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such additional information relative to said aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which lists shall be in such form and contain such additional particulars as may be prescribed by said Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such other information as may be required by the boards of special inquiry touching the admissibility of said aliens. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels are severally required to deliver lists containing such information before the departure of any vessel from a foreign port for the United States, and to prevent the departure of any such vessel in violation hereof, except that in case of the sickness or death of the master or commanding officer, or his unavoidable detention from causes beyond his control, the list may be signed and verified by the first officer or second officer or other officer of the vessel next in command. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels violating any of the provisions of this section shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each and every alien concerning whom complete information is not furnished as required by this section, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated or the payment thereof refunded in like manner and subject to the same conditions as provided in section 35 of this Act for the remission, mitigation, or refunding of head taxes. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or commanding officers of vessels failing to deliver lists as required by this section, or knowingly or willfully delivering incorrect lists, shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom complete information is not furnished, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated or the payment thereof refunded in like manner and subject to the same conditions as provided in section 35 of this Act for the remission, mitigation, or refunding of head taxes. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or commanding officers of vessels failing to deliver lists as required by this section, or knowingly or willfully delivering incorrect lists, shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom complete information is not furnished, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated or the payment thereof refunded in like manner and subject to the same conditions as provided in section 35 of this Act for the remission, mitigation, or refunding of head taxes.

SEC. 15[15]. Duty of alien entrants: name changes of vessel during. (Masters shall not be required [39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171], under penalty imposed by section 32 of the Immigration Act of 1917, to deliver lists containing information concerning aliens entering the United States from any foreign port or place in the Western Hemisphere, or from any island adjacent thereto, or from the Canal Zone, unless the vessel departs from such port or place within five days after the sailing of the vessel on which such alien arrives at such port or place, and then only such aliens as have not been included in lists theretofore delivered by the master or commanding officer of such vessel under the provisions of section 30 of this Act. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall report the name of any alien who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who has been landed on board such vessel, to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and shall furnish such information in regard to such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of Commerce. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels bringing aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port or place in the United States, except at the port or place of arrival designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, unless such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of vessel shall have been granted permission by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of Commerce to land such alien at some other port or place in the United States, and such alien has been granted permission to land at such other port or place. Masters, owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels bringing aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port or place in the United States, except at the port or place of arrival designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, unless such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of vessel shall have been granted permission by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of Commerce to land such alien at some other port or place in the United States, and such alien has been granted permission to land at such other port or place.

ALIEN ERRANDS

SEC. 19. (A) Alien seamen excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, pending the determination of such alien seamen's right to enter the United States, but no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to attend to matters connected with the vessel's departure or for the alien's medical treatment, and then only under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States for a period in excess of that for which he was granted permission to land shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 155). Any such alien seaman who departs from the United States during the pendency of his application for admission shall be considered to have withdrawn his application for admission.

(B) Any alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of the conditional permit granted him by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall come ashore temporarily, or be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States, except temporarily to attend to matters connected with the vessel's departure or for the alien's medical treatment, or who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 155). Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States for a period in excess of that for which he was granted permission to land shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 155). Any such alien seaman

ALIEN CREWMEN

SEC. 10. A. Alien seamen excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside the United States shall be required to land in the United States, except such seamen employed on vessels touching at ports in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, and such seamen shall be subject to such conditions governing their landing and such requirements as to bond for their return to the vessel or other means of departure from the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such seamen may be required to present themselves for examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge. Any such seaman who is certified by such medical officer to be suffering from a communicable disease specified in section 362 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 265) shall be placed in a hospital for treatment and observation at the expense of the owner of the vessel on which he arrived unless the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare shall determine that he may be treated adequately elsewhere without danger to the public health. Any such seaman who is certified by such medical officer to be suffering from any other disease or physical or mental defect or disability shall be subject to the provisions of section 2 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917 (8 U.S.C. 136), and any such seaman who becomes a public charge within five years after entry shall be deported pursuant to section 241(a)(8) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251(a)(8)).

B. Any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have remained in the United States for more than the period of his authorized stay or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was admitted, or any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have failed to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 241 and 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251, 1252). Deportation of crewmen shall be limited to the ports, places, and airports designated by the Attorney General. Any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have remained in the United States for more than the period of his authorized stay or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was admitted shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 241 and 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251, 1252). Deportation of crewmen shall be limited to the ports, places, and airports designated by the Attorney General. Any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have failed to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 241 and 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251, 1252).

(b) Every alien crewman deported pursuant to this section shall be deported to the country of which he is a national, or in which he resided, or to which he belongs by birth, or to any other country which will accept him, at the option of the Attorney General. Any alien crewman who is deported pursuant to this section shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If the Attorney General shall deem it necessary, such alien crewman may be detained on board vessel or at such other place as he may designate pending his departure from the United States. Any alien crewman who is deported pursuant to this section who shall thereafter enter the United States without the consent of the Attorney General shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by both such imprisonment and fine. Any such alien crewman who shall thereafter enter the United States without the consent of the Attorney General shall be deported as provided in section 241(a)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251(a)(5)).

(c) If the Attorney General shall deem it necessary, such alien crewman may be detained on board vessel or at such other place as he may designate pending his departure from the United States. Any alien crewman who is deported pursuant to this section who shall thereafter enter the United States without the consent of the Attorney General shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by both such imprisonment and fine. Any such alien crewman who shall thereafter enter the United States without the consent of the Attorney General shall be deported as provided in section 241(a)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251(a)(5)).

(d) Every alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have remained in the United States for more than the period of his authorized stay or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was admitted, or any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have failed to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 241 and 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251, 1252). Deportation of crewmen shall be limited to the ports, places, and airports designated by the Attorney General. Any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have remained in the United States for more than the period of his authorized stay or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was admitted, or any alien crewman who is found after a hearing by a special inquiry officer to have failed to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 241 and 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1251, 1252).

For effective date of amendment of paragraph 1, 2, or 3 of section 10(a), see section 5, 71 Stat. 650, set out as a note under section 1182 of Title 8, Aliens and Nationality.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the destination (by States and cities) of each alien employed, and which lists shall be verified by the oath of the master and surgeon of such vessel, and such other lists and information in addition thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration or the Secretary of Labor. Whenever any alien shall be found on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States who has not been included in the lists required by this section, the master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such alien, and the vessel may be libeled for the payment of such penalty. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, under such regulations as he may prescribe, authorize the immigrant inspectors to detain for treatment upon the vessel on which they arrive any alien who may be found to be afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in section 2 of this Act, and the cost of such detention shall be paid by the owners of the vessel.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than from Canada or Mexico solely on account of substantial interruption in the transportation by rail or water service) any alien who has been refused admission to the United States shall be required to remove such alien on the vessel or other transportation line which brought him to the United States to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he resided and which is willing to receive him, or, if such country refuses to receive him, then to any country which is willing to receive him and pay for his transportation. Such removal shall be at the expense of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, except that if such alien has been admitted to the United States and has become a public charge within one year after entry from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to entry, the cost of such removal shall be paid by the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Such alien may be detained on board vessel or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port pending such removal, but not for more than five days unless further detained by the Board of Special Inquiry. Any alien who shall come in contravention of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien not duly admissible to the United States, or who shall bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in section 2 of this Act, or who shall bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who has been deported under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and may be arrested upon arrival and detained on board vessel or taken before any court of competent jurisdiction, and may be required to give bond for each such alien in the sum of $1,000 conditioned for the payment of the penalty that may be imposed for each such alien: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, under such regulations as he may prescribe, authorize the immigrant inspectors to detain for treatment upon the vessel on which they arrive any alien who may be found to be afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in section 2 of this Act, and the cost of such detention shall be paid by the owners of the vessel.

SEC. 150.5 Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. (Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of departure has been furnished with a list of all the crew members in addition to the information required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1201) which is required by section 33 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1201) to be furnished by the master, the consular officer shall not grant clearance to any vessel having on board any alien employee in addition to those specifically named in the consular certificate, unless the master shall establish to the satisfaction of the consular officer that the additional alien employees are necessary for the navigation of the vessel during the voyage to the United States. Whenever the consular officer shall refuse clearance to any vessel for the reason that the number of alien employees is in excess of the number necessary for the navigation of the vessel during the voyage to the United States, he shall report the facts to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and shall furnish the master a duplicate of such report. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of departure has been furnished with the lists required by section 36

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and whether they are citizens thereof or not, which list or manifest shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place as may be prescribed by regulations to be made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in such form and contain such additional information relative to each person listed thereon as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or by regulations prescribed by them: Provided, That the master of any vessel may lawfully refuse to permit to land in the United States any person who has been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is an anarchist, or who is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in the practice of polygamy, or who is coming to the United States for the purpose of practicing polygamy, or who is an idiot, or who is insane, or who has had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who is epileptic, or who is a professional beggar, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who is under a contract, express or implied, parol or special, to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this Act, or who has been deported under any of the provisions of this Act, and the question as to which of the foregoing classes any such person belongs shall be determined by such inspection officer or officers as the Secretary of Labor may rules or regulations prescribe: And whenever the master of any vessel shall refuse to permit to land any person who shall be found upon inspection by the proper officer to belong to any of the foregoing classes, he shall cause such person to be detained on board such vessel, and it shall be the duty of the master to return such person to the country whence he came, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for that country, or by any other means and route required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the cost of such detention and of the return passage to be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such person to the United States: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of detaining any such person on board, deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration such sum of money as the said Commissioner General of Immigration may require, not exceeding $300, to insure the return of such person to the country whence he came, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for that country, or by any other means and route required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the cost of such detention and of the return passage to be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such person to the United States: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of detaining any such person who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration such sum of money as the said Commissioner General of Immigration may require, not exceeding $1,000, for each alien seaman in respect of whom such affliction occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inquiry as to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such affliction occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all penalties which shall not have been reported by the collector of customs at the time of the approval of the vessel on which the penalty is incurred.

(d) That any alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be shown reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will be unduly burdensome or will result in unusual hardship, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall not be cleared while such alien seaman remains in the United States unless the cost of his deportation is paid. Unless otherwise provided by the Secretary of Labor, the provisions of this section shall not apply to alien seamen who have been granted shore leave temporarily by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. (43 Stat. 161–162, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or departing therefrom for any place in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except from a vessel actually engaged in the business of a common carrier, such seamen employed on such vessel as may be certified by the master thereof, or by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or such other immigration officer as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, as necessary for the normal operation and navigation of the vessel, and as may be allowed to land by such immigration officer, in his discretion, and under such conditions as he may prescribe, but no such seaman shall be employed in the place of any worker then employed in the United States if, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, such employment will adversely affect the wages and working conditions of workers in the United States similarly employed. Such seamen shall be entered on such vessel's articles, and shall be returned to the country whence they came on the vessel bringing them to the United States, or on the vessel on which they shall be employed when ordered to depart, or on such other vessel as may be required to take them to the country whence they came, or, if practicable, to the port in which they were originally shipped or engaged, and shall be treated while in the United States in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any such seaman who has been granted shore leave temporarily by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival may be required by the Attorney General to deposit with the immigration officer such sum of money, not exceeding $300 in any case, as the Attorney General may think sufficient to insure that such seaman will depart to the country whence he came on the vessel on which he arrived, or on such other vessel as may be required to take him to such country, or, if practicable, to the port in which he was originally shipped or engaged, and will pay the cost of his maintenance while detained and any expenses incident to his return. Any such deposit may be remitted in whole or in part, or repaid, in the discretion of the Attorney General. Any such seaman who departs from the United States without having been granted shore leave temporarily by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or who fails to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or on such other vessel as may be required to take him to the country whence he came, or, if practicable, to the port in which he was originally shipped or engaged, shall be deemed to have violated this section, and, in addition to any penalty otherwise provided, shall be liable to the payment of a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (43 Stat. 161, 58 Stat. 118; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and whether they have been naturalized or not, or whether they have any right to admission into the United States or not, which list or manifest shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place as may be prescribed by regulations to be made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in such form and contain such additional information relative to each person listed thereon as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or by regulations prescribed by them: And provided further, That the master of any vessel may lawfully refuse to permit to land in the United States any person who has been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is an anarchist, or who is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in the practice of polygamy, or who is coming to the United States for the purpose of practicing polygamy, or who is an idiot, or who is insane, or who has had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who is epileptic, or who is a professional beggar, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who is under a contract, express or implied, parol or special, to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this Act, or who has been deported under any of the provisions of this Act, and the question as to which of the foregoing classes any such person belongs shall be determined by such inspection officer or officers as the Secretary of Labor may rules or regulations prescribe: And whenever the master of any vessel shall refuse to permit to land any person who shall be found upon inspection by the proper officer to belong to any of the foregoing classes, he shall cause such person to be detained on board such vessel, and it shall be the duty of the master to return such person to the country whence he came, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for that country, or by any other means and route required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the cost of such detention and of the return passage to be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such person to the United States: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of detaining any such person on board, deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration such sum of money as the said Commissioner General of Immigration may require, not exceeding $300, to insure the return of such person to the country whence he came, by the vessel on which he arrived, or by the first vessel sailing for that country, or by any other means and route required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the cost of such detention and of the return passage to be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such person to the United States: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of detaining any such person who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration such sum of money as the said Commissioner General of Immigration may require, not exceeding $1,000, for each alien seaman in respect of whom such affliction occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inquiry as to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such affliction occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all penalties which shall not have been reported by the collector of customs at the time of the approval of the vessel on which the penalty is incurred in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be shown reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will be unduly burdensome or will result in unusual hardship, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall not be cleared while such alien seaman remains in the United States unless the cost of his deportation is paid. Unless otherwise provided by the Secretary of Labor, the provisions of this section shall not apply to alien seamen who have been granted shore leave temporarily by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. 58 Stat. 118; 8 U. SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete manifest of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the position they respectively held in the ship's company; where and where they were respectively born as far as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all aliens illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or charterer to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been taken on board during the stay of the vessel in port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or charterer so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or wholly fails to report such desertion, respectively, or so to report each case of desertion or landing, such master, agent, consignee, or charterer shall, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or so reported: Provided, That clearance papers shall not be withheld by the Attorney General by reason of the illness of any alien employee when a certificate of the medical officer of the vessel, approved by the immigrant inspector in charge, shall be presented stating that such alien is incapacitated by illness from proceeding to sea within the period of the ordinary sailing of the vessel: Provided further, That no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while the master thereof is under arrest upon the warrant of any court in any suit or proceeding brought to enforce the payment of such penalty: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unavoidable detention as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or for hospital treatment or burial, or to secure other seamen to proceed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection it shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seamen on board after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so) and pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens, whether or not they are coming in the direction of the United States from any place outside thereof, or have been transported by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was transported by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time required for the voyage or the circumstances in connection therewith, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The Act of February 2, 1917, as amended, provides that no person shall be admitted to the United States who is physically capable but unable to read and understand some language or dialect, including Yiddish, Hebrew or Polish, except that any admissible alien or any citizen or national of the United States may bring in his parents or grandparents, if they are otherwise admissible, and that any admissible alien may bring in his wife and minor children regardless of their ability to read. Any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, reentry permit, border crossing identification card, or other travel document required by the Immigration and Nationality Act, at the time of application for admission, is excludable. Any alien who by fraud or willfully misrepresenting a material fact seeks to procure, or has procured, a visa or other documentation, or admission into the United States or other benefit provided under the Act is excludable. Any immigrant who at the time of application for admission is excludable under the Act will be refused a visa.

An immigrant who is excludable because he is afflicted with a communicable disease specified in section 212(a)(6) of the Act may be admitted in the discretion of the Attorney General under such conditions as he may prescribe for a period of time sufficient to complete treatment. Immigrants who are excludable because they are afflicted with any other medical condition specified in section 212(a)(1) of the Act may be admitted under bond in such amount as the Attorney General may prescribe, conditioned upon the alien's obtaining treatment which will result in his ceasing to be excludable within such period of time as may be specified by the Attorney General.

Immigrants who are excludable because they are illiterate, seek to enter for an immoral purpose, are aliens who have been deported, are aliens who have been excluded and subsequently deported, are excludable because of a prior conviction and sentence to imprisonment for a felony or because they are persons who have been convicted of two or more offenses for which the aggregate sentence was five years or more, may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be admitted if otherwise admissible. Immigrants who are excludable because they are coming to perform skilled or unskilled labor may be admitted if the Secretary of Labor has certified that there are not sufficient workers in the United States who are able, willing, qualified, and available at the time of application for admission to perform such labor and that the employment of such immigrants will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of workers in the United States similarly employed. Immigrants who are excludable because they are aliens who have been excluded and deported, who have been convicted of two or more offenses for which the aggregate sentence was five years or more, who have been convicted of a felony, who are persons who have been convicted of two misdemeanors involving moral turpitude, who are excludable because they are aliens who have been convicted of violating or conspiring to violate any law relating to narcotic drugs, who are excludable because they are aliens who have been convicted of violating any law relating to traffic in persons for the purpose of prostitution, or who are excludable because they are aliens who have been convicted of violating any law relating to the unlawful importation into the United States of alien women for the purpose of prostitution, may be admitted in the discretion of the Attorney General if they are otherwise admissible at the time of application for admission.

Sec. 3E. That none mentioned in this section to be excluded from the United States shall be admitted to the United States or any State, District, Territory, insular possession, or other place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, during the period of time during which the entrance of laborers is prohibited by this section.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

Sec. 19. That from and after the expiration of one month after the passage of this Act, it shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to prepare, print, issue, or circulate, or cause to be prepared, printed, issued, or circulated any book, pamphlet, paper, handbill, or any written or printed notice or advertisement for the purpose of encouraging or inducing the importation into the United States of any alien, unless such book, pamphlet, paper, handbill, or notice or advertisement shall contain a statement of the fact that the importation of such alien is prohibited by this Act, and that any violation of the provisions of this section is punishable by the penalties provided in this Act. Any person, company, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall forfeit and pay for every such offense not more than $1,000, to be recovered by the United States, or any person who shall sue for the same, in his own name, or in the name of the United States, with costs of suit; and it shall be the duty of the United States attorney of the district in which the violation occurs to prosecute every such case when brought to his notice by any person. Any alien who shall come in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

Sec. 20. That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this Act, and shall have charge of the administration thereof, and he may from time to time confer such powers in respect to the execution of this Act as may seem best and necessary upon any person employed in the service of the United States, and may establish such regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the United States, as may be necessary to protect the rights of aliens intending to land in the United States, and may require such bonds of masters of vessels coming to the United States as may be necessary to insure the proper care while on board their vessels of such aliens as may be afflicted with contagious diseases, and the return of such aliens as may become public charges from causes existing prior to their landing, to the country whence they came, and may require such aliens to be kept on board vessels or at such designated places while in the United States as may be necessary for the enforcement of this Act, and may employ such agents, clerks, and other assistants as he may deem necessary, and may make all rules and regulations necessary for the execution of the duties imposed upon him by this Act, and may, whenever he deems it necessary for the efficient conduct of the work of his office, appoint, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, one or more boards of special inquiry, consisting of three members each, any two of whom shall have power to act, which boards shall have power to administer oaths, to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and shall perform such duties as shall be required by this Act or by such rules and regulations as may be made pursuant thereto; and the decision of any two members of any board shall be the decision of such board. The Commissioner General of Immigration shall have power to appoint, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, such number of assistant commissioners, chief inspectors, special agents, inspectors, clerks, and other employees as may be deemed necessary for the efficient performance of the duties and exercise of the powers conferred upon him by this Act, and to remove such appointees at his discretion. He shall have charge of all buildings and grounds owned or occupied for the purposes of this Act by the United States, and of the boarding, maintenance, and care of immigrants detained therein, and of the supplies therein, and shall make all contracts relating thereto, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Labor. He shall establish such offices, and shall appoint such inspectors at seaports of the United States and such other places in foreign countries as he may think necessary for the efficient administration of this Act, and may detail for duty at any such office or place any inspector or other employee selected by him for appointment. He shall have charge of the offices established for the protection of immigrants, and shall establish such offices and shall appoint such employees as he may think necessary for the efficient administration of such offices, and may detail for duty at any such office or place any

SEC. 3. That from and after the 1st day of July, 1917, in addition to the persons now excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons who are physically capable and not exempted hereinafter from reading and writing who can not read and write the English language or some other language or dialect including Hebrew or Yiddish, German or Polish, Bohemian or Slovak, Spanish or Portuguese, Italian or French, Japanese or Chinese, Russian or Finnish, except that any such persons may enter or attempt to enter the United States if they are in transit through the United States from one foreign country to another, or if they are seeking admission to the United States solely for the purpose of escaping from religious persecution, provided that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the operation of this section as to any class or classes of aliens coming in search of employment when in his opinion the number of aliens of any such class or classes coming in search of employment at any time will not affect the labor market to the detriment of workers in the United States, and may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this section: Provided, That nothing in this section shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who return after a temporary visit abroad: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude persons who are exempted by existing treaty relations: Provided further, That this section shall not apply to persons who have been in the United States two years at the time of the passage of this Act: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude persons who have resided continuously in the United States for five years and who are returning to the United States from temporary visits abroad.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shore leave granted by such immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration laws and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for such detention of such alien from the United States, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation, or because of such alien's departure from a hospital, or who fails to report the death of any such alien seaman, or who fails to deliver to such immigration officer the certificate or certificates issued in lieu of the landing card of each such alien seaman, or who fails to deliver to the Attorney General (or to any immigration officer when directed by the Attorney General) the passport of each such alien seaman who was issued a passport, or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been notified of the intended departure of such alien seaman and has had reasonable opportunity to examine the certificate or certificates issued in lieu of the landing card of such alien seaman, or who fails to deliver to the master of such vessel the certificate or certificates issued in lieu of the landing card of each such alien seaman employed on such vessel at the time of her departure for a foreign port or place not contiguous to the United States, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any such alien seaman who was not discharged before the departure of such vessel from the United States, or who fails to deliver to the master of such vessel before her departure from the United States each such certificate delivered to him, or who fails to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or hospitalization of any such alien seaman who was discharged before the arrival of such vessel at such port, or who fails to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of arrival the certificate or certificates issued in lieu of the landing card of each such alien seaman who was discharged before the arrival of such vessel at such port, shall pay for each such alien seaman concerning whom any such violation occurs a sum not exceeding $1,000 nor less than $300 as the Attorney General shall determine, which sum may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms as he shall deem just, and may also be withheld from the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel and applied to the payment of such sum or sums: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the remission or mitigation thereof upon the deposit of such sum or sums or of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission or mitigation of such penalties, the conditions upon which clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the giving of such bond, and the refund of sums deposited as security for the payment of such sum or sums or bonds given to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not receive medical treatment in the United States because of such refusal, neglect, or inability of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to detain such alien seaman on board or to report the illness or hospitalization of such alien seaman as required by this section shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is necessary because such alien seaman is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and that clearance cannot be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the remission or mitigation thereof, such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge pending the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the remission or mitigation thereof, or such alien seaman may be required to be detained in the custody of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel at a bond not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman so detained, conditioned upon the production of such alien seaman when required for deportation, or such alien seaman may be required to be detained in a hospital designated by the Attorney General at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel may proceed on her voyage without such alien seaman if adequate provision is made to the satisfaction of the Attorney General for the hospitalization of such alien seaman and for his deportation when he is able to be removed from the hospital. SEC. 36. That when a master of a vessel of the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all aliens who have been taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place, and the names of all aliens who are to be landed at such port or place, the nationality, last residence, and destination of each such alien, and such information shall be certified to said inspector by the master of such vessel before any such alien shall be landed from the vessel. Except a description of such alien, to whatever class he may belong, need not be furnished for any alien child under the age of ten years, nor the nationality of any alien who is a citizen of the United States. Any master of a vessel who knowingly or willfully refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or knowingly or willfully delivers a false or incorrect list or manifest, or refuses to allow the immigrant inspectors to come aboard such vessel, or conceals or attempts to conceal, or permits the concealment of any alien on board such vessel, or who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, or who refuses to carry back any alien who may be certified to be excluded, to the country from which he came, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly or willfully refuses to allow the inspection of the vessel, as provided for in this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shore leave granted by such immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration laws and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for such detention of such alien seaman have been complied with, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to report such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer at the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission or mitigation of such penalties, the conditions upon which clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the giving of such bond, and the refund of sums deposited as security for the payment of such sum or sums or bonds given to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not receive medical treatment in the United States because of such refusal, neglect, or inability of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to detain such alien seaman on board or to report the illness or hospitalization of such alien seaman as required by this section shall include a personal appearance and examination by the medical examiners). The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission or mitigation of such penalties, the conditions upon which clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the giving of such bond, and the refund of sums deposited as security for the payment thereof. The Attorney General may also withhold clearance pending the determination of the Attorney General as to the payment of such sum or sums or the remission or mitigation thereof upon the deposit of such sum or sums or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Such bond may be canceled and surrendered when it becomes unlikely that such alien seaman will become a public charge, or when he is actually deported, or when he departs from the United States, or when he dies, and in the event such alien is deported, or departs from the United States, or dies, no such payment shall be required, or if required and made shall be refunded. Clearance may be granted by the Attorney General upon the deposit of such sum as he may deem sufficient to cover the probable cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman and his return to a foreign port or place not contiguous to the United States, or upon the deposit of sufficient security to indemnify against such probable cost, and such clearance may be granted regardless of the provisions of any bond theretofore given to secure the immigration of such alien seaman. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector promptly upon arrival of the boat at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a duplicate to that either should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or commander of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they have severally been employed in the port of arrival; to make declaration in the form of the list as to the truth thereof; and to deliver to the said immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, locality, and circumstances of such landing, and the name, if known, of the master or other officer of the vessel who connived at or assisted in such landing; and to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, information which may thereafter come to the master's knowledge concerning the illegal landing of any such alien, and the name and present address of the master or other officer of the vessel who connived at or assisted in such landing. Before the departure of any vessel from a port of the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the name of every alien employed on board such vessel who has been reported to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel as a deserter, and the last known address of such deserter, and shall make oath to the truth of such list and of any additions thereto before the departure of the vessel from such port. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel who refuses or neglects to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section, or who makes any false oath in connection therewith, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each such offense. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who fails to deliver to any such immigration officer any such list or addition thereto, or who fails to report the illegal landing of any such alien, or who refuses to permit any such immigration officer to enter upon and search the vessel for any such alien, shall pay to the collector of customs for the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in the direction shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration districts independent of June 2, 1910.

(a) Proof that any alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman for medical examination by the immigration officer at the port.

(b) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165. 8 U. S. C. 810; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

SEC. 150.1. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless such lists are complete in all particulars. Any person knowingly and willfully to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1001) making a false statement in connection therewith, the penalty prescribed in 18 U.S.C. 1001, may have been incurred, and not then unless such lists are complete in all particulars. Any person knowingly and willfully to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1001) making a false statement in connection therewith, the penalty prescribed in 18 U.S.C. 1001, may have been incurred.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the purpose of obtaining transportation to such alien's foreign country, or for such other reasons as may be deemed proper by the Secretary of Labor. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel prior to departure therefrom the list or lists required by section 18 of this Act, or who fails to deliver to the master of such vessel a sufficient number of such lists to enable the master to deliver a list to each immigrant inspector at the port of arrival at the time of inspection

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at any seaport in the United States from foreign port or place in the Dutch East Indies, or arriving at any seaport in the United States from any other foreign port or place, and who are natives of the Dutch East Indies archipelago, or Arabian nomadic tribes entering Africa through Turkish possessions, or Independent Persia, or Siam, or Afghanistan, or a country adjacent to Asiatic Russia, to which the provisions of the contract labor law do not apply, or who are seamen employed in the transportation of passengers or merchandise or both between the United States and the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Panama, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Guam, Tutuila, or Virgin Islands, or who are seamen employed in the transportation of passengers or merchandise or both between the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Panama, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Guam, Tutuila, or Virgin Islands and foreign ports or places, or who are seamen employed in the transportation of passengers or merchandise or both between the United States and foreign ports or places, and who are natives of the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Panama, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Guam, Tutuila, or Virgin Islands, or who are seamen employed in the transportation of passengers or merchandise or both between the United States and foreign ports or places, and who are natives of countries adjacent to Asiatic Russia, to which the provisions of the contract labor law do not apply, shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act relating to aliens coming into the United States: Provided, That the provisions of this Act relating to the physical examination of aliens shall not be applicable to seamen who are employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States and which do not remain therein more than seven days, to the certification by the consular officers of the payment of the head tax, or to the immigration officers at the ports of arrival of the payment of the head tax by masters or agents of vessels, or to the detention of aliens for the purpose of the payment of the head tax, or to the provisions of section 2 of this Act relating to the collection of the head tax from aliens in transit through the United States: Provided further, That seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States shall be subject to the provisions of this Act to the same extent as aliens coming to the United States to take up permanent residence: Provided further, That any seaman who has been admitted into the United States shall not be deported without first having been certified by the Secretary of Labor as having been found upon special inquiry not to belong to any of the classes excluded by law: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country whence he came, upon the same conditions as if he had entered the United States from such country: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or denizen, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country from which he embarked, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country in which he was born, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country in which is situated the foreign port at which he embarked, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country in which is situated the foreign port for which he was destined when he arrived in the United States, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to the country in which is situated the foreign port at which he last embarked, if such country will accept him in its territory, unless the Secretary of Labor shall consent to his deportation elsewhere: Provided further, That any seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States and who shall have remained therein for a period of one year shall thereafter, in the case of his deportation, be deported to any country which

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens in charge of the master, or chief officer, of each vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "non-quota" immigrant, in addition to that office should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens entitled on such vessel, special lists of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and also all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged in groups according to the ports at which they were respectively signed on, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be in the master's control, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, special lists of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension, and also a duplicate list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival and the names of those who left the vessel at the port of arrival, and the cause for their leaving, which lists shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival; and in case of the failure of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he, and, in the event such failure is continued, each day during which such failure continues after the discovery thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom proper entries have not been made in the lists required to be delivered, or a term of imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the Panama Canal Zone, or any island adjacent thereto subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, shall, before any alien, other than a bona fide member of the crew employed on such vessel, shall have been inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or at such other place as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall have obtained from such officer a permit stating that such alien has been duly inspected and admitted or admitted on parole, as the case may be, and specifying the number of aliens to be landed, and the ports at which they are to be landed, if they are destined to more than one port within the United States. Such permit shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of such vessel before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival. Any such vessel departing from any port of the United States without having obtained such permit, or any person who shall refuse to present any such vessel for inspection, or any person who shall refuse to present any such vessel for inspection, or any person who shall refuse to present any such vessel for inspection

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the immediate departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by such immigration officer or the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such fine, or portion thereof, if he is satisfied that the fine was incurred without intention to evade the law. The decision of the Attorney General in the premises shall be final. Fines imposed under this section shall not be remitted or refunded except upon the certificate of the Attorney General as herein provided. [39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 180.]

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrives in the United States or who deserts or remains in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156), as amended, and pending deportation shall be detained on board or at such place as the immigration officer in charge may designate. The cost of maintenance while so detained shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, to be collected as provided for the collection of head taxes imposed by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1214; 8 U. S. C. 132), as amended by section 1 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 132). [39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 180.]

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. [43 Stat. 164–165; 24 Stat. 419; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).]

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance, deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except vessels temporarily touching only for the purpose of taking on board mail, express, or baggage and not engaging in the discharge or taking on board of any merchandise or passengers) shall immediately report the presence on board such vessel of any alien crewman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien crewman so reported, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fund, or while the fund remains pending, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fund, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit (or any part thereof) to such person as may be entitled thereto. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers in any district in which the port of arrival is located while any alien crewman remains in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may prescribe for the collection of such fund, or any part thereof, by action to be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the United States, and may also remit or refund all or any part of such fund, or any part of any bond given pursuant to this section, under such terms and conditions as he may deem appropriate. Such fund shall not be available to pay the expenses of any proceeding for the deportation of any alien seaman, or for the maintenance of any such alien seaman, or for the payment of his wages, but such fund shall be available for the payment of the cost of his removal to the port of embarkation, or for the payment of his wages, or for his maintenance and removal, or either, to any other port or place to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived may agree, or for the payment of such wages and such cost of removal, in part, to such port or place, or for the refund of such part of the fund deposited as may be in excess of the sum necessary for such purposes. Any such deposit shall be applied first to the payment of such wages and such cost of removal, and the remainder, if any, shall be available for the other purposes specified in this section. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, which is not applied within two years from the date of the vessel's departure from the port of arrival to the payment of such wages or such cost of removal, or to the refund of such deposit or part thereof, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts. Any bond given pursuant to this section may be sued in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of any sum due thereon, and the proceeds thereof shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts. Any bond given pursuant to this section may be sued in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of any sum due thereon, and the proceeds thereof shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands to such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to declare or depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such seaman may be granted a period of not to exceed 29 days within which to depart, but such period shall not be extended beyond the time when the vessel is ready to depart. Any alien seaman who fails to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General, and such vessel has left the port, shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable for the payment of the cost of his maintenance and removal, or either, to any other port or place to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived may agree, or for the payment of such wages and such cost of removal, in part, to such port or place, or for the refund of such part of the fund deposited as may be in excess of the sum necessary for such purposes. Any such deposit shall be applied first to the payment of such wages and such cost of removal, and the remainder, if any, shall be available for the other purposes specified in this section. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, which is not applied within two years from the date of the vessel's departure from the port of arrival to the payment of such wages or such cost of removal, or to the refund of such deposit or part thereof, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts. Any bond given pursuant to this section may be sued in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of any sum due thereon, and the proceeds thereof shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the United States, and the amount due to each alien seaman, and the destination of each such alien seaman who is to be discharged in the port of arrival; or state explicitly that no such aliens are employed. Such lists shall be subscribed and sworn to by the master of such vessel, and shall be produced to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry at the port of arrival, and before any such vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Such immigration officer shall thereupon examine all such aliens seamen, and no such alien seaman shall be allowed to land in the United States from such vessel until he has been duly admitted by such immigration officer, or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor, if appealed from, shall have been received. Any such alien seaman who is not admitted to land shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of aliens who become public charges within one year after they shall have landed. Such immigration officer shall have power to order any such alien seaman who may be found on board such vessel after she has been granted clearance papers to be detained on board until such vessel shall depart from the United States, and to prevent the departure of any such alien seaman from the United States in any manner contrary to law. Such immigration officer shall have power to take and consider evidence concerning any matter involved in the inquiry touching the admissibility of any alien seaman, and shall have access to the records of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel relating to the shipping, discharge, and description of the alien seamen employed thereon. Such immigration officer shall also have power to administer oaths and to require any person to appear and testify before him during the consideration of any such matter, and to require the production by any such person of any book, paper, or document relating to any such matter under consideration. Any person who willfully makes a false statement under oath in the consideration of any such matter shall be guilty of perjury and shall be punished as provided by law for that offense. Whoever, in connection with any such matter, knowingly makes any false statement or false claim or uses any false writing or document knowing the same to contain any false statement or entry, or fraudulently conceals or covers up any material fact, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. Whoever, in connection with any such matter, knowingly and willfully falsifies, conceals, or covers up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or makes any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements or representations, or makes or uses any false writing or document knowing the same to contain any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent to June 5, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship such alien to depart other than on such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such alien shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or all payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, manifest the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they severally received their sailing papers or clearance, and specifying those of the persons mentioned in said lists who intend to depart from the United States, and such further information relative to said persons as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of Labor. Duplicate lists of all such persons shall be delivered by the master to the officer in charge of the immigration station at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of arrival in the United States. Any master who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer any list required by this section, or who refuses to furnish such information relative to the persons mentioned therein as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of Labor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry in the case of any alien concerning whom a bond in the penalty of $1,000 has been given conditioned for the production of such alien for such determination when required: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry in the case of any alien concerning whom a bond in the penalty of $500 has been given conditioned for the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 880–881; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; manner, clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to any officer prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) has been made. The lists required to be prepared and delivered by the master, commander, agent, or consignee of a vessel shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner(s), and shall be prepared on Form I–418 in accordance with the instructions printed thereon. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival in the United States from any place outside the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel sailing in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily to receive entrants in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except upon a certificate, to be issued by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival after inspection of such alien, that such alien has been given a physical examination by the medical examiner(s), and such certificate shall be delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival at the time of the vessel's entry. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel failing in the performance of any duty imposed by this section, or who refuses to furnish such information relative to the persons mentioned therein as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of Labor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any of the violations described occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may direct the discontinuance of any prosecution to recover the same. (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 170.)

(b) For each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action may be brought in the name of the United States by the Attorney General or by any person thereto authorized by him.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has complied with the provisions of this section as to any alien, he may in his discretion remit any fine or penalty incurred or which may be incurred by such master under this section in connection with the bringing of such alien to the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the purpose of rendering assistance as the Attorney General may prescribe for the nationals thereof, or for the purpose of obtaining a passport and visa, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Attorney General. Upon the departure of such vessel from the United States, every such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens stowaways in section 2 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except temporarily because of illness, shall be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance while he remains in the United States and the cost of his deportation, unless such deposit or security therefor is waived by the Attorney General. Any such deposit may be used to pay the cost of such maintenance and deportation, and any balance remaining shall, upon the departure of the alien seaman, be returned to him or his legal representatives. Failure to make such deposit shall not prevent the deportation of any such alien seaman if security therefor is furnished by the master of the vessel on which he arrived, but such security may be forfeited if the alien seaman on whose account it was furnished fails to depart on such vessel or any other vessel within the period fixed by the Attorney General. Any master who fails to deport any alien seaman as required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the district in which the port of entry is located while any master thereof is liable to the payment of any such sum, or while the Attorney General has notified the collector of customs that the owner of such vessel is contesting the liability to the payment thereof, unless a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, which shall be filed with the collector of customs, grant clearance papers for any vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such amount as may be required by the Attorney General, not exceeding the amount of such fine. Such bond shall be void upon the payment of such fine. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the case is pending an appeal, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, which shall be filed with the collector of customs, remit or cancel any such fine, or any part thereof, or any deposit or bond made to secure the payment thereof. This section as amended shall apply to all immigration arrests subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or from any place outside thereof, or shall not be duly reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily to perform duty on board such vessel while in port, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of illness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall cause each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), to who fails to depart such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which accrue subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to depart with such seaman because of his illness or injury, the expenses of the vessel on account of such illness, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector performing the service at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crew (D30) shall not be detached or bound, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "MOTHMAN," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [here insert name of port] a complete list or manifest of all persons on board the same, including the master thereof, which list shall contain as many as the following particulars as may be required of the master by any rule or regulation which may be made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, viz: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by other persons or by the government, whether in possession of money and how much, whether in possession of a railroad ticket or other through transportation ticket, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, promise, agreement, or solicitation to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person or corporation, society, church, or other body in the United States, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and whether going to the United States with the intention of returning after temporary absence or intending to become a permanent resident of the United States, the age, sex, marital condition, last occupation, last residence, and birthplace of each alien, and the relationship, if any, to the person giving the information, and such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master shall also report the name of every passenger who may be found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and shall detain in a place designated by the immigrant inspector in charge any alien who may be suffering from such disease, pending the examination and certification of the case by the medical officer of the port. The master shall report the illness or injury to any passenger occurring while en route to the United States, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all passengers who have been ill during the voyage, the character of the illness, and the condition of the passengers at the time of arrival. The master shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all passengers who have died during the voyage, the date of death, the cause thereof, and the age, sex, and nationality of the passengers. The master shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all passengers who were not admitted to the United States at the time of their embarkation at the last port, the cause for their exclusion, and the final disposition of the case, if known. Any master who refuses or neglects to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section shall pay a penalty of $100 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the application to the payment of such penalty; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the application to the payment of such penalty in the event such application is made within the time specified: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been paid, or bond approved by the Secretary of Labor in double the amount of such fines, conditioned for the payment thereof to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and shall not then unless notice of intention to make application for such clearance has been posted in a conspicuous place in the office of the collector of customs for a period of not less than 48 hours prior to the granting of such clearance.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained for such period as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or deportation to a foreign port or place other than the country whence such seaman came (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board prior to the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival (unless such seaman is rejected by the immigrant inspector or is detained ashore by the immigration officer at the port for the purpose of being treated in a hospital or otherwise cared for on account of illness, injury, or infirmity, and is certified by such officer to be unable to proceed with the vessel without danger to his life, and such certification is not overruled by the Secretary of Labor).

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the length of time required by the master to secure a passport from the country to which he is to be deported or another vessel on which to return, and such vessel will be available within a reasonable time, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ of the _____, do depose and say that I am the master (or commanding officer, or first or second officer) of the vessel _____ which arrived at the port of _____ on the _____ day of _____, 19__; that the following is a full and true list of all the crew now employed in and belonging to said vessel, and that no person has been employed in any capacity on board said vessel during her present voyage except as appears in the following list; that I have carefully examined the certificate of each person named in said list, and that each such person is described therein to the best of my knowledge and belief; that I have complied with the requirements of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the residence of aliens in, the United States," approved May 26, 1924, and with section 8 of the Act of May 22, 1924, entitled "An Act to limit the immigration of aliens into the United States," approved May 26, 1924, and with the regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to said sections; that I have caused the said certificates to be returned to the said crew members; that I have not received any fee or reward for procuring certificates for said crew members, or for any of them, or for procuring or assisting them to procure certificates, or for making out the list of said crew, or for any other service connected with the shipping of said crew, and that I will not demand or receive any fee or reward for any such service from any of said crew members; that I have not, directly or indirectly, paid, offered, or agreed to pay any fee or reward for any such service to any person; that I have not, directly or indirectly, made any deduction from the wages of any of said crew members, nor have I given any order for the delivery of any part of the wages of any of said crew members to any person, nor have I paid or agreed to pay any sum to any person on account of the shipping of said crew members; that I will not demand or receive any fee or reward for any such service from any of said crew members, or for any other service connected with the shipping of said crew members, or for making any deduction from the wages of said crew members; that I will not make any deduction from the wages of said crew members, or give any order for the delivery of any part of their wages, except such allotments as are allowed by law; that I will not refuse to ship any person who has been duly certified by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agents as having been inspected and admitted into the United States, unless I shall have been notified that such certificate has been withdrawn or revoked in the manner provided by law; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe intends to enter the United States in violation of law; that I will not engage any person to ship at a foreign port unless he appears before the United States consular officer there and is duly certified by him to me to be entitled to enter the United States; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is insane, or who has been insane at any time previous to shipping, or who I have reason to believe has been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless a pardon has been granted; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is a professional criminal, or who has been deported from any country; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is a prostitute or procurer, or who has been such within one year previous to shipping; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is a member of the anarchistic or revolutionary classes, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching disbelief in or opposition to organized government, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or who is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching the assassination of public officials; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is a native of a country adjacent to the United States, unless such person is in possession of a passport viséed by a consular officer of the United States; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is under the age of sixteen years, unless such person has the written consent of his parent or guardian or other person having legal custody of him, and unless I have satisfied myself that such person intends to follow the sea as a vocation; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is under the age of eighteen years, unless such person has a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is under the age of twenty-one years, unless such person has a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, or has the written consent of his parent or guardian or other person having legal custody of him; that I will not ship any person who I have reason to believe is under the age of twenty-one years, unless such person has a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, or has the written consent of his parent or guardian or other person having legal custody of him, and unless I have satisfied myself that such person intends to follow the sea as a vocation

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That alien entering or remaining in the United States from any foreign port or place in Asia shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry place containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ships crewing; when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and where they are bound; and before the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States to any foreign port the master thereof shall deliver a like list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel since the last immigration officer boarded the same, or since the vessel entered the port, and the intended destination of each alien. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall fail to exercise due diligence to prevent the landing of any alien not entitled to land under the provisions of this Act, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien at any port or place other than a port or place designated for the landing of aliens by the Commissioner of Immigration, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any alien on board vessel when ordered so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal, or who shall aid or abet any alien in concealing himself or herself on board such vessel, or in any way whatever to evade any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any duty required of him or it by any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall in any way violate the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and in addition thereto, such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every alien landed or brought in contrary to the provisions of this Act, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or by any person who shall sue for the same in the name of the United States, and such penalty shall constitute a lien upon such vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be seized and detained under process issued pursuant to such libel by any court having jurisdiction thereof. The Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival may, in his discretion, require the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any foreign port to enter into a bond in such sum, not exceeding $300 for each alien, as may be determined upon by the Commissioner of Immigration, conditioned for the payment of the tax provided for in this Act and the return of such alien to the country whence he came, or such other country as may be willing to receive him, within one year from the date of such bond, if such alien shall within such period become a public charge from causes existing prior to his landing, or if he shall be found within the United States in violation of this Act. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a bond or tax as a condition precedent to the landing of any alien entitled to enter the United States solely because he is a member of a race which is required to pay a head tax or to give a bond under the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employment; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the time limitation, if any, prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1001) has expired, the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of such vessel has complied with the requirements of said section 38 of said Act, and the Commissioner of Immigration has certified that the provisions of said section have been complied with. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the head tax prescribed by section 2 of said Act (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 171) has been paid, or the vessel shall have been ordered detained at the port of departure by the Commissioner of Immigration, or his authorized representative, for the purpose of collecting such tax. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the payment of such tax, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the payment of such tax, or while the tax remains unpaid, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond in whole or in part, if in his opinion the reasons therefor exist. (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman (except those employed on board vessels regularly plying between the United States and foreign contiguous territory) shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and for a period not to exceed the period of the stay of the vessel in port, unless he is in possession of a valid seaman's identification certificate issued to him by the Secretary of Commerce, or such other person as he may designate for the purpose, which certificate shall contain a photograph of the seaman and such other means of identification as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe, and unless he is in possession of a valid passport issued by the country of which he claims nationality, or such other document as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State, and a valid visa of such passport or document by a consular officer of the United States, except that no visa shall be required in the case of any alien seaman who is a native of the foreign contiguous territory to which he is employed and who is employed on a vessel plying between such territory and the United States.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(e) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(i) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(k) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(l) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Secretary of Labor shall grant him a further period of time in his discretion and his landing shall be deemed to be for the purpose only of such further period. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be presumed to have landed with the intention of remaining permanently in the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration, upon his application for a review of the case, that he had no such intention.

(m) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart in accordance with the terms of any order of deportation made against him under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(n) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the time limited by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law prohibits the crews of the boat to depart from the vessel. The list of members of each crew must be handed to the boat's officer; and shall be in the custody of the master to the immigrant inspector. Failure to deliver to the immigrant inspector will cause a fine of $1000 and imprisonment for one year. A fine of $300 may be imposed, and the person may be arrested on board and taken from the vessel. Failure to deliver to the immigrant inspector will cause a fine of $1000 and imprisonment for one year. A fine of $300 may be imposed, and the person may be arrested on board and taken from the vessel.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or upon the departure of any vessel from one port to another in the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or departure, and shall in no instance be refused by the master to the immigrant inspector, a correct list or manifest of all the persons on board the vessel, including the crew, cabin passengers, and those in transit, showing the full name, nationality, last residence, and destination of every such person, whether he or she is a citizen or subject of the United States or an alien, whether he or she has been lawfully admitted to the United States or not, whether in possession of an unexpired immigration visa or not, whether destined to the United States or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration under his direction and control. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board who are destined to the United States, which list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration under his direction and control. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board who are destined to the United States, which list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration under his direction and control.

SEC. 37. (a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to a port of the United States shall prevent any such alien from landing at any port in the United States at any time or place not designated by the immigrant inspector for the landing of aliens, except in case of accident to the vessel or other unavoidable cause, until the alien has been duly inspected by the immigrant inspector, or, if the alien has been certified to a hospital for treatment or observation, until he has been so treated or observed and certified by the proper medical officer that he may be landed without danger to the public health. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel at the port of arrival a sufficient length of time to enable the immigrant inspector at such port to go on board such vessel and inspect such alien, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall have been notified that such alien will be certified to a hospital for treatment or observation as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) Any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at the cost of the person bringing him to the United States in such vessel, in addition to any other penalty which may be imposed by law.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (except Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, or the islands adjacent thereto under the territorial jurisdiction of Great Britain or France, and except such seamen as may be employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely in the course of a voyage through the Panama Canal to ports of the same country of which they are citizens or subjects, or to ports of some country other than that from which they last arrived upon the completion of the unloading of their cargoes) shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency requiring surgical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining supplies or making repairs to the vessel, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, to secure the immediate departure of such seamen from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States and the expenses incident to the departure from the United States of such alien seaman, including the payment of hospital dues and burial expenses, and the furnishing of such bond or deposit of money as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to insure compliance with such responsibility. Upon the refusal or failure of any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section, he shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any penalty incurred under this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of money or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Clearance may also be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty; upon application in writing therefor, and upon the production of a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Service that the sick or injured alien seaman in respect of whom such application is made is not suffering from any contagious disease. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any penalty incurred under this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, and may refund any money deposited with him as a bond or deposit, or any part thereof, which he may find was improperly exacted or received.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with the vessel by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman to the proper immigration officer at the time of departure of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to obtain the permission of such officer to the landing of such alien seaman, unless such master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the alien seaman was prevented from so departing with the vessel by reason of his detention for the purpose of and during the prosecution by the proper authorities of any criminal charge against such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman was so detained in a hospital, or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States departed from the United States before the expiration of the time allowed such alien seaman to remain in the United States, or that such alien seaman was not a member of the crew of such vessel, or that such alien seaman was lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a failure to deport an alien seaman or the presence of such alien seaman in the United States is due to the action of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel departed from the United States before the expiration of the time allowed such alien seaman to remain in the United States, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer refused or failed to detain such alien seaman on board or otherwise for deportation, or connived at or aided such alien seaman to remain in the United States unlawfully, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any penalty incurred under this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of money or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Clearance may also be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty; upon application in writing therefor, and upon the production of a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Service that the sick or injured alien seaman in respect of whom such application is made is not suffering from any contagious disease. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any penalty incurred under this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, and may refund any money deposited with him as a bond or deposit, or any part thereof, which he may find was improperly exacted or received.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with the vessel by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman to the proper immigration officer at the time of departure of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to obtain the permission of such officer to the landing of such alien seaman, unless such master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the alien seaman was prevented from so departing with the vessel by reason of his detention for the purpose of and during the prosecution by the proper authorities of any criminal charge against such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman was so detained in a hospital, or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States departed from the United States before the expiration of the time allowed such alien seaman to remain in the United States, or that such alien seaman was not a member of the crew of such vessel, or that such alien seaman was lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that a failure to deport an alien seaman or the presence of such alien seaman in the United States is due to the action of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel departed from the United States before the expiration of the time allowed such alien seaman to remain in the United States, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer refused or failed to detain such alien seaman on board or otherwise for deportation, or connived at or aided such alien seaman to remain in the United States unlawfully, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any penalty incurred under this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of money or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Clearance may also be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of such penalty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty; upon application in writing therefor, and upon the production of a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Service that the sick or injured alien seaman in respect of whom such application is made is not suffering from any contagious disease. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any penalty incurred under this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, and may refund any money deposited with him as a bond or deposit, or any part thereof, which he may find was improperly exacted or received.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law requires that a complete list of all the crew must be delivered to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival before any member of the crew is allowed to land from the vessel. The list must show the correct name of each member, his rating, the capacity in which he is employed, the place of his birth, his last foreign residence, his nationality, and the name and address of the nearest relative in the country from which he comes. Any member of the crew who is discharged from the vessel in a foreign port must be reported to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of departure, and a similar report must be made to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival in the case of any member of the crew who is left behind in the hospital. Any member of the crew who is not a citizen of the United States must be in possession of a certificate of identity issued by the Department of Labor before he will be allowed to land from a vessel arriving at a port in the United States. Masters of vessels will be required to deposit with the Immigrant Inspector at the port of departure a sufficient sum of money to pay the cost of the return passage of any alien sailor employed on the vessel who may be refused a landing in the United States, unless the master shall satisfy the Immigrant Inspector that security for such return passage has been given by the owners of the vessel or their agents. Masters of vessels will be required to report the illness or injury to any member of the crew occurring while in port, and to furnish a certificate from the medical officer of the Public Health Service, if there be one present at the port, or, if there be none present, from a medical officer designated by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose, stating the cause of illness or injury and the probable duration of the case. Masters will be required to report the death of any member of the crew and to deliver to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival the certificate of the attending physician, or, if there was no physician in attendance, a statement of the cause of death of such member of the crew, together with the certificate of the coroner or other official who may have viewed the remains, if any such certificate or statement was issued. Masters will be required to deliver to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival the effects of deceased members of the crew, or to account for the same. Penalty for failure to comply with the above requirements, $100 for each alien seaman not reported.

Attest: [illegible]
Commissioner of Immigration.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 10. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel touching at any port of the United States shall be permitted to enter the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or such person or persons as he may designate for the purpose, that he is not within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by section 3 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to have been permitted to enter the United States, but the Secretary of Labor shall by regulations require such alien seamen to secure passports and such other documentation as he may deem necessary, and to deposit with the Immigrant Inspector at the port of entry a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor to defray the cost of maintenance while in the United States and the return passage of such alien seaman, not to exceed $30 in any case, which deposit shall be refunded to the master upon the departure of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or upon the departure of such alien seaman on any vessel sailing for a foreign port, or upon the certification by the Immigrant Inspector that such deposit is not required to cover the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman. Any deposit or part thereof not refunded within two years after the same was deposited shall be covered into the Treasury as a head tax. Masters of vessels will be required to detain on board the vessel sufficient deposits from the wages of alien seamen to comply with the requirements of this section, and the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules and regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. Masters will be required to report the illness or injury to any member of the crew occurring while in port, and to furnish a certificate from the medical officer of the Public Health Service, if there be one present at the port, or, if there be none present, from a medical officer designated by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose, stating the cause of illness or injury and the probable duration of the case. Masters will be required to report the death of any member of the crew and to deliver to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival the certificate of the attending physician, or, if there was no physician in attendance, a statement of the cause of death of such member of the crew, together with the certificate of the coroner or other official who may have viewed the remains, if any such certificate or statement was issued. Masters will be required to deliver to the Immigrant Inspector at the port of arrival the effects of deceased members of the crew, or to account for the same. Penalty for failure to comply with the above requirements, $100 for each alien seaman not reported.

(b) Upon such an alien seaman shall be given a certificate of identity by the Secretary of Labor, or such person or persons as he may designate for the purpose, which certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the alien to whom it was issued to enter the United States for the period and under the conditions stated therein.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor or such person or persons as he may designate for the purpose shall be satisfied that any alien seaman who has been granted a certificate of identity has remained in the United States beyond the period stated therein, or has violated any of the conditions under which he was admitted, such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917, as amended.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That when used in this Act the term "seaman" includes every person employed or engaged in any capacity on board any vessel, except masters, pilots, and persons employed solely as cooks or stewards on vessels plying exclusively on rivers or their tributaries within the United States of America or on the navigable waters connecting therewith, or on vessels of less than two hundred tons gross engaged in the coasting trade on the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters as far east as Montreal, or in the traffic on the Canadian boundary lakes as far west as Lake Superior, not carrying passengers and not towing vessels subject to such inspection, or on fishing vessels or vessels employed in the whale fishery, or on yachts of pleasure, or on tugs employed exclusively in towing vessels, or on canal boats or other craft not navigating the high seas, or on vessels of the United States Government, or on vessels plying between the mainland and islands belonging to the United States, or between islands belonging to the United States, or on vessels temporarily employed in the service of the United States Government, or on vessels employed in laying submarine telegraph cables, or on vessels employed in the service of the Light-House Board exclusively, or on scows, dredges, or vessels employed in improving rivers and harbors of the United States, or on vessels navigating the Panama Canal or the waters connecting therewith, or on vessels of the Isthmian Canal Commission, or on vessels employed in the service of the Panama Railroad Steamship Line, or on vessels of less than one hundred net tons as measured under the rules for measurement of vessels used in the merchant service.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Upon a discharge shall not be granted any seaman until he has surrendered to the master or person in charge of the vessel from which he is discharged all clothing and other property belonging to such vessel which was furnished to such seaman.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 18. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival the names and ports of embarkation and nationality as given on ship's manifest, and also such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the financial responsibility, destination, and purpose of each alien applying for admission to the United States, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain such alien on board or in proper custody as directed by the immigrant inspector in charge until admitted or excluded from admission by the proper immigrant inspector, or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in case of appeal is known, and to return any such alien excluded from admission to the country whence he came, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien, at the expense of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board vessel or other means of custody of aliens who are not under the immediate control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States, and may issue a permit to any such master, agent, consignee, or owner to take such aliens ashore temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or because of the necessity for housing such aliens pending the adjustment of their cases, or pending their departure from the United States, or for any other reason deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, and may prescribe the conditions upon which such permits shall be granted: Provided, That no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to detain on board his vessel any alien who has been certified to a board of special inquiry for examination for a period longer than seven days after such certification, or for a period longer than forty-eight hours after such alien has been certified by such board of special inquiry to be clear subject to the action of the commissioner of immigration, unless such alien is certified by such board of special inquiry for further observation by reason of the existence of a mental or physical defect which may affect the ultimate admissibility of such alien, or unless such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel is unable to provide such alien with suitable accommodations on board his vessel, or unless such alien is detained as a witness in connection with any case or proceeding before the department or the courts, or unless such alien is detained for the purpose of prosecution for any violation of this Act, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by such master, agent, consignee, or owner: Provided further, That in the event any such alien shall be certified by a special board of inquiry for further observation by reason of the existence of a mental or physical defect which may affect the ultimate admissibility of such alien, the cost of such further observation shall be borne by such master, agent, consignee, or owner unless such alien shall be finally admitted to the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board vessel or other means of custody of aliens who are not under the immediate control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States.

SEC. 150.15 Limit of alien employees; move clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration laws and employment contract required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917, (39 Stat. 890; 8 U. S. C. 137) have been complied with, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has entered into a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each alien employed, conditioned upon the departure of such alien with the vessel, or upon the deposit thereof with the collector of customs, in the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman employed, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman with the vessel, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the discretion of the collector of customs. The attorney (general may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be reduced to an amount not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such fine is incurred, or to cancel such bond upon the satisfaction of the attorney (general in the discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all immigration bonds unpaid on June 2, 1940.

(b) Fines and penalties; remission. Fines and penalties shall not be remitted by the master of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the names and ports of embarkation and nationality as given on ship's manifest, and also such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the financial responsibility, destination, and purpose of each alien applying for admission to the United States, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain such alien on board or in custody as directed by the immigrant inspector in charge until admitted or excluded from admission by the proper immigrant inspector, or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in case of appeal is known, and to return any such alien excluded from admission to the country whence he came, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien, at the expense of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board vessel or other means of custody of aliens who are not under the immediate control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or the immigration officer at any port of arrival may, in his discretion, permit any alien seaman employed on such vessel, whether the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified or not as to the sufficiency of the bond or other security provided by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, whether the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived has been admitted to entry or not, to be landed temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of necessity for housing such alien pending the adjustment of his case, or pending his departure from the United States, or for any other reason deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, and may prescribe the conditions upon which such permits shall be granted: Provided, That no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel longer than seven days after the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified that such alien seaman is ready to be examined, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who (after inspection or examination by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been admitted to entry, or to detain on board or in custody any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified that such alien seaman is ready to be examined, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any physical defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry as to payment of such fine or fines, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance pending the determination of such question may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the discretion of the collector of customs. The attorney (general may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be reduced to an amount not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such fine is incurred, or to cancel such bond upon the satisfaction of the attorney (general in the discretion shall think proper.

(c) Fines and penalties; remission. Fines and penalties shall not be remitted by the master of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the names and ports of embarkation and nationality as given on ship's manifest, and also such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the financial responsibility, destination, and purpose of each alien applying for admission to the United States, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain such alien on board or in custody as directed by the immigrant inspector in charge until admitted or excluded from admission by the proper immigrant inspector, or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in case of appeal is known, and to return any such alien excluded from admission to the country whence he came, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien, at the expense of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board vessel or other means of custody of aliens who are not under the immediate control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or the immigration officer at any port of arrival may, in his discretion, permit any alien seaman employed on such vessel, whether the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified or not as to the sufficiency of the bond or other security provided by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, whether the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived has been admitted to entry or not, to be landed temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of necessity for housing such alien pending the adjustment of his case, or pending his departure from the United States, or for any other reason deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, and may prescribe the conditions upon which such permits shall be granted: Provided, That no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel longer than seven days after the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified that such alien seaman is ready to be examined, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any physical defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry as to payment of such fine or fines, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance pending the determination of such question may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the discretion of the collector of customs. The attorney (general may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be reduced to an amount not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such fine is incurred, or to cancel such bond upon the satisfaction of the attorney (general in the discretion shall think proper.

(d) Fines and penalties; remission. Fines and penalties shall not be remitted by the master of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the names and ports of embarkation and nationality as given on ship's manifest, and also such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the financial responsibility, destination, and purpose of each alien applying for admission to the United States, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain such alien on board or in custody as directed by the immigrant inspector in charge until admitted or excluded from admission by the proper immigrant inspector, or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in case of appeal is known, and to return any such alien excluded from admission to the country whence he came, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien, at the expense of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board vessel or other means of custody of aliens who are not under the immediate control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or the immigration officer at any port of arrival may, in his discretion, permit any alien seaman employed on such vessel, whether the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified or not as to the sufficiency of the bond or other security provided by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, whether the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived has been admitted to entry or not, to be landed temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of necessity for housing such alien pending the adjustment of his case, or pending his departure from the United States, or for any other reason deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, and may prescribe the conditions upon which such permits shall be granted: Provided, That no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel longer than seven days after the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has been notified that such alien seaman is ready to be examined, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, or to detain on board or in custody any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any physical defect of such a character as to make it probable that such alien seaman will become a public charge, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry as to payment of such fine or fines, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance pending the determination of such question may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the discretion of the collector of customs. The attorney (general may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be reduced to an amount not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such fine is incurred, or to cancel such bond upon the satisfaction of the attorney (general in the discretion shall think proper.

(e) If the Attorney (general finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to obtain a certificate from any foreign country, other than the country to which such alien seaman may be entitled to enter, causes him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney (general.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon written application of any person in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [sic] complete manifests containing as many of the following facts concerning each alien on board, and such other facts as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, as can be ascertained from the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, namely: the number of all aliens in the vessel, their sex, age, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether they have been previously in the United States, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been assisted in coming, and by whom, whether they have the money required by law, and whether they are in possession of a passport, and whether they are destined to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether they have been in prison or almshouses or institutions for the insane or supported by charity, whether they are coming under contract to perform labor, whether they are connected with any business or profession, and what their occupation is, whether they are married or single, the age, sex, and relationship to the alien of those with whom they intend to live, whether they intend to return to their former homes after temporary stay in the United States, whether they are idiots, insane persons, epileptics, or persons who have been insane or epileptic, whether they have ever been afflicted with tuberculosis or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, whether they have been in jail, prison, or almshouse within five years, whether they are polygamists, whether they are anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate or are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow of Government, or who advocate or are members of or affiliated with any organization, publishing or distributing any printed or written matter advocating or suggesting such overthrow of Government, and whether they have ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for deportation, and whether they have been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor, and the cause for such conviction, and whether they are coming in pursuance of a previous promise, agreement, or solicitation, and whether they are coming in response to letters, papers, circulars, advertisements, or oral representations, and whether they have paid their own passage or whether it was paid by others, and what others, and whether they are stowaways, and whether they have been deported at the expense of any private association, society, or body, and whether they are members of the anarchistic or other objectionable classes above described. Any person who shall refuse to furnish information required by this section, or who shall willfully furnish false or misleading information concerning the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom information is required by this section and is not furnished, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while such penalty remains unpaid. (43 Stat. 162, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 40. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board and at the alien's destination immediately upon inspection of the alien by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [sic] a true and correct list of all aliens on board such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom information is required by section 36 of this Act and is not delivered as aforesaid, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, and crew of such vessel have complied with all the requirements of section 36 of this Act with respect to such alien, and have exercised due diligence to prevent the landing of such alien who is not entitled to enter the United States, and that such alien has been allowed to land by official action or neglect of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [sic]. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the remission of a fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, or pending an appeal from the decision imposing a fine, or while the question of remission is under consideration by the Secretary of Labor, nor shall any fine imposed by this section be remitted unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the fine was imposed without willful negligence or fraud on the part of the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, and crew of the vessel and that every reasonable effort has been made by them to prevent the landing of aliens not entitled to enter the United States. The decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the remission of fines, as provided for in this section, shall be final. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 140.)

(b) Penalties under this section shall apply to all immigration officers and employees of the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be detained to such reasonable time as may be necessary to enable the Attorney General to determine whether such alien shall be deported, but shall be released upon the giving of such bond or undertaking as the Attorney General may require to assure the performance of the duties imposed upon him by this section. Clearance may be granted to such vessel notwithstanding the detention of such alien or the giving of such bond or undertaking. (43 Stat. 164, 165, 58 Stat. 219; 8 U. S. C. 140 (a), 141 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 138.)

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board and at the alien's expense such alien or aliens assigned to such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [sic] has had sufficient time in which to inspect or examine each such alien and to order such alien to be detained for special inquiry by boards of special inquiry, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assigned in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the payment of such fine or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission of a fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof upon such terms as he may deem just and proper.

(b) Penalties under this section shall apply to all immigration officers and employees of the United States.

(c) This section as amended shall apply to all immigration officers and employees of the United States from and after January 1, 1940.

(d) Fines and penalties for each violation of this section accruing prior to January 1, 1940, may be remitted or mitigated in accordance with the provisions of this section as amended, but only upon an application therefor filed with the Attorney General prior to January 1, 1941.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be detained to such reasonable time as may be necessary to enable the Attorney General to determine whether such alien shall be deported, but shall be released upon the giving of such bond or undertaking as the Attorney General may require to assure the performance of the duties imposed upon him by this section. Clearance may be granted to such vessel notwithstanding the detention of such alien or the giving of such bond or undertaking pursuant to this subsection.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall desert from the vessel on which he arrived, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily, during the period such vessel is in port, unless such alien seaman (except nationals of countries contiguous to the United States) shall furnish a bond in the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so landed, with sureties approved by the Attorney General, conditioned on the return of such alien seaman on board such vessel or another vessel owned by the same interests before the departure of such vessel from the port, or within such other period of time as may be allowed by the Attorney General: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent the substitution of another bond in the case of any alien seaman who has been lawfully granted permission to land temporarily in the United States, or who has been granted a hospital allowance, or who has been treated in a hospital at the time of the departure of the vessel from port, or who has been granted permission by the Attorney General to depart from the United States within such time as he may designate, or who has been granted permission by the Attorney General to proceed to any foreign port and return to the United States in order to ship on board the vessel on which he arrived, or who has been granted permission by the Attorney General to ship on board any vessel at any port in the United States for the purpose of proceeding to any foreign port and return to the United States in order to ship on board the vessel on which he arrived, and no bond shall be required in the case of any alien seaman who is EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1824, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the nonimmigrant classes referred to in section 101(a)(15) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or to visit a relative to whom a grant of preliminary nonimmigrant visa has been issued by the consular officer at the port at which such alien last arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or unless such alien is in possession of a valid passport and nonimmigrant visa. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause to be detained on board such vessel each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or has caused such seaman to be otherwise duly inspected by an immigration officer at such port. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall fail to detain on board such alien seaman or who shall land or cause to be landed any such alien seaman (other than a stowaway) in any place in the United States from such vessel without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to report and deliver on demand to any such immigration officer any such alien seaman so detained on board, or who shall fail to pay the cost of maintenance and treatment of such seaman while detained, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, such sum may be remitted, shall be paid to all persons equitably entitled thereto, or may be refunded, in whole or in part, to the master of such vessel as a deposit, shall be paid into the proper district of the United States from which such seaman was ordered on board, or otherwise disposed of as the Attorney General may direct.

(b) Proof shall be filed and determined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States from which any alien seaman was ordered on board any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman by the master of such vessel on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman was ordered on board any vessel as a deserter. Such proof shall be filed and determined within one year from the date of such arrival, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, such sum may be remitted, shall be paid to all persons equitably entitled thereto, or may be refunded, in whole or in part, to the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General. Such proof shall be filed and determined within one year from the date of such arrival, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, such sum may be remitted, shall be paid to all persons equitably entitled thereto, or may be refunded, in whole or in part, to the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General. If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected upon the outbound manifest of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien seaman by the master of such vessel, and such alien seaman may be arrested without warrant and delivered on board such vessel or any vessel owned or operated by the master thereof, and such vessel may be required to remain in the port of arrival or to depart therefrom and proceed to any port designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, until such alien seaman has been inspected by the immigration officer at such port. The Attorney General shall have the power to establish such regulations as he may deem necessary for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this section, and to prescribe the terms and conditions upon which any such alien seaman may be permitted to land temporarily without inspection, and may refuse such permission to any such alien seaman. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States except in accordance with such regulations may be arrested without warrant and deported in accordance with the provisions of section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Nothing in this section shall be construed as repealing, amending, or affecting section 2 of the Act of February 27, 1917 (39 Stat. 874), as amended (8 U. S. C. 201), or any other provision of law relating to the admission, detention, or deportation of persons who are members of the anarchistic and other classes therein mentioned.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the position therein filled by each such alien seaman, the nationality of each such alien seaman as claimed by him, the last vessel on which each such alien seaman was employed, the date of his last arrival in the United States, if previously arrived therein, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and whether it is his intention to return to the country to which he belongs after the performance of the duty on board the vessel on which he arrives, or to proceed to some other country, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the positions therein filled by each such alien seaman, the nationality of each such alien seaman as claimed by him, the last vessel on which each such alien seaman was employed, the date of his last arrival in the United States, if previously arrived therein, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and whether it is his intention to return to the country to which he belongs after the performance of the duty on board the vessel on which he arrives, or to proceed to some other country, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe; and after the arrival of any vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the positions therein filled by each such alien seaman, the nationality of each such alien seaman as claimed by him, the last vessel on which each such alien seaman was employed, the date of his last arrival in the United States, if previously arrived therein, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and whether it is his intention to return to the country to which he belongs after the performance of the duty on board the vessel on which he arrives, or to proceed to some other country, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe; and after the arrival of any vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the positions therein filled by each such alien seaman, the nationality of each such alien seaman as claimed by him, the last vessel on which each such alien seaman was employed, the date of his last arrival in the United States, if previously arrived therein, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and whether it is his intention to return to the country to which he belongs after the performance of the duty on board the vessel on which he arrives, or to proceed to some other country, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe; and after the arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the positions therein filled by each such alien seaman, the nationality of each such alien seaman as claimed by him, the last vessel on which each such alien seaman was employed, the date of his last arrival in the United States, if previously arrived therein, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and whether it is his intention to return to the country to which he belongs after the performance of the duty on board the vessel on which he arrives, or to proceed to some other country, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe; and after the arrival of any vessel at any port

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors pending the vessel's arrival in the port of entry. The list of persons on board must be prepared with the same care as a manifest, a duplicate of that copy should be handed on the inspector. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens entitled to enter the United States, the list should be arranged in the following order: Names of all persons who are citizens of the United States; names of all persons who are lawfully entitled to enter the United States upon subsequent examination; names of all persons who are not clearly entitled to enter the United States; and names of all persons who are to be detained on board the vessel. Each of these classes should be subdivided according to the ports at which the persons intend to land, and the ports should be arranged in the order in which the vessel will call at them. The names of all persons destined to the same port should be consecutively listed on the list for that port. Persons in the cabin should be listed separately from those in the steerage. Members of the crew should be listed separately from passengers. The last page of the list should be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel in the presence of the inspector at the port of entry.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they have been discharged at the port of arrival, or have continued on board. Such officer shall have the right to demand and receive from the master, consignee, or agent of any such vessel a bond, to the effect that all aliens employed on board thereof shall be duly reported, and a certificate obtained from the proper officer at the time of the arrival and departure of each alien employed on board, before the departure of any such vessel if such be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to obtain such certificate; and that all such aliens landed from the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with the information likely to lead to its identification: and that no such alien will leave port (except as provided by law) who have not embarked thereon at the time of the arrival and of which officer a future list containing the names of all such aliens embarked who were not embarked thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of its departure, and also the names of all such aliens who have been landed and discharged; and that such bond shall be void and of no effect if such master, consignee, or agent shall in all things comply with the provisions of this section. Any such master, consignee, or agent who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or to enter into such bond, or who shall refuse to deliver to the proper officer a list containing the names of all such persons who have been landed and discharged, and of those who have embarked, and of those who will leave port thereon at the time of departure, and also the names of all such aliens employed upon such vessel, shall, for each such refusal, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, nor then unless a sufficient number of the crew of such vessel, as determined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, are detained on board to assure the departure of such alien with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof to the country to which he belongs, unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, shall grant him an extension of time within which to depart. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States and who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall depart and thereafter return to the United States, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States and who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall depart and thereafter return to the United States, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States and who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall depart and thereafter return to the United States, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. [Feb. 5, 1917, ch. 29, sec. 15, 39 Stat. 889; June 5, 1920, ch. 251, 41 Stat. 1008.]

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof, or the agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, has been informed that the following number of aliens employed on board such vessel will be permitted to land: Provided, That persons employed on board such vessel who are citizens of the United States, or who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or who are entitled to enter the United States upon subsequent examination and who intend to land at a port in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel notwithstanding the provisions of this section. [Sec. 15, Act of Feb. 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889); R. S. C. 1011.] Penalty for violation of regulations: Any person who violates any of the provisions of the foregoing regulations governing the landing of aliens, or who shall refuse to obey any lawful order or requirement of any immigrant inspector, or who shall aid or abet any alien to violate any of the provisions of said regulations, may be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year, or both. [Sec. 20, Act of Feb. 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889); R. S. C. 1032.]

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be prohibited from allowing such alien to land from such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien, under such rules as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall have been granted the right to enter the United States without such permit, or unless such alien shall have been granted a visa by a consular officer and such visa is presented to the immigration officer at the time of application for admission, or unless such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa and is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rules made in pursuance thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any such violation occurs. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section and who thereafter returns to the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof whether or not he has been granted a visa.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port in the United States from any foreign port or place, the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien who is on board such vessel and who is destined to the United States, and such other information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be delivered before the vessel is admitted to entry, and shall be subject to such verification as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall fail to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to permit verification thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall deliver such list or manifest containing the name of any alien who is not entitled to enter the United States, unless prior to the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States such alien was duly and lawfully granted a visa by a consular officer or was lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien. [Sec. 13, Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by Act of June 5, 1930 (46 Stat. 581); R. S. C. 1011 (a), 1011 (c).]

(43 Stat. 164, 165, 22 Stat. 216; R. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

Penalty for failure to deliver list. For failure to deliver the list or manifest required by section 13 (b) of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge of the vessel on which the alien arrived in the United States shall be fined $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of such question or while any such fine is unpaid, nor shall any such fine be remitted or refunded. Payment of any such fine shall not relieve any person from any other liability, civil or criminal, incurred by reason of the violation of any of the provisions of the immigration laws. [Sec. 13 (b), Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by Act of June 5, 1930 (46 Stat. 581); R. S. C. 1011 (b).]

Deportation of alien seamen. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be detained on board thereof until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien, under such rules as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall have been granted the right to enter the United States without such permit, or unless such alien shall have been granted a visa by a consular officer and such visa is presented to the immigration officer at the time of application for admission, or unless such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa and is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rules made in pursuance thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any such violation occurs. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section and who thereafter returns to the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof whether or not he has been granted a visa.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port in the United States from any foreign port or place, the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien who is on board such vessel and who is destined to the United States, and such other information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be delivered before the vessel is admitted to entry, and shall be subject to such verification as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall fail to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to permit verification thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall deliver such list or manifest containing the name of any alien who is not entitled to enter the United States, unless prior to the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States such alien was duly and lawfully granted a visa by a consular officer or was lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien. [Sec. 13, Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by Act of June 5, 1930 (46 Stat. 581); R. S. C. 1011 (b), 1011 (c).]

Penalty for failure to deliver list. For failure to deliver the list or manifest required by section 13 (b) of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge of the vessel on which the alien arrived in the United States shall be fined $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of such question or while any such fine is unpaid, nor shall any such fine be remitted or refunded. Payment of any such fine shall not relieve any person from any other liability, civil or criminal, incurred by reason of the violation of any of the provisions of the immigration laws. [Sec. 13 (b), Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by Act of June 5, 1930 (46 Stat. 581); R. S. C. 1011 (b).]

Deportation of alien seamen. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be detained on board thereof until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien, under such rules as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall have been granted the right to enter the United States without such permit, or unless such alien shall have been granted a visa by a consular officer and such visa is presented to the immigration officer at the time of application for admission, or unless such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa and is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rules made in pursuance thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any such violation occurs. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section and who thereafter returns to the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof whether or not he has been granted a visa.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port in the United States from any foreign port or place, the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien who is on board such vessel and who is destined to the United States, and such other information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be delivered before the vessel is admitted to entry, and shall be subject to such verification as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall fail to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to permit verification thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000. Any such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or person in charge who shall deliver such list or manifest containing the name of any alien who is not entitled to enter the United States, unless prior to the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States such alien was duly and lawfully granted a visa by a consular officer or was lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in the western hemisphere, except Panama, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel of the name of such alien seaman, the intended length of his stay in the United States, and the probability of his return to such vessel, and has granted a permit to such alien seaman to land temporarily. Such permit may be revoked in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor and such alien seaman required to depart from the United States at any time within the period for which he was admitted. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on such vessel or any other vessel, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report such departure to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and in the event of the failure of such alien seaman to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which he may have been permitted to depart, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 16 of this Act for the failure of any alien seaman employed on board thereof to depart therein, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor under such conditions as he may prescribe. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report such departure to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and in the event of the failure of such alien seaman to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which he may have been permitted to depart, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 16 of this Act for the failure of any alien seaman employed on board thereof to depart therein, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor under such conditions as he may prescribe. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report such departure to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and in the event of the failure of such alien seaman to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which he may have been permitted to depart, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 16 of this Act for the failure of any alien seaman employed on board thereof to depart therein, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor under such conditions as he may prescribe. (43 Stat. 164.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the western hemisphere, except Panama, shall, before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of the persons on board such vessel, showing the full name of each person, his sex, his age, his calling or occupation, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country to which he intends to go, the port at which he intends to land in the United States, the place in the United States where he intends to reside, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether his passage has been paid by himself or by others, whether he has in his possession or has been furnished money by others and the amount so furnished, whether he has been in the United States before, whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse or an asylum for the insane or a hospital for persons who are mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract to labor in the United States, whether he has a ticket through to the place of his destination, whether he has been deported from the United States or excluded therefrom and the cause therefor, whether he is under a charge for or has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and whether he is a person who has been or will be refused admission to the United States under the immigration laws or excluded therefrom and the cause therefor. Such list shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such further requirements as to additional information required to be provided thereafter and to such visaing of the list after the departure of the vessel from a foreign port as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deliver a duplicate of such list to the immigration officer in charge at the first port in the United States at which a pilot is employed by such vessel, or, if no pilot is employed by such vessel, at the first port in the United States at which such vessel arrives, and shall deliver a duplicate of such list to the immigration officer in charge at each subsequent port in the United States at which such vessel touches before landing any passengers. Such duplicate lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, when application is made in writing therefor, authorize such person, or class of persons, as he may designate, to prepare such lists, and may prescribe the form thereof. Any person who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in any such list with respect to the information required by this section to be stated therein shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such a false statement is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers for the vessel by the collector of customs until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has reported to the collector of customs that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has complied with the provisions of this section. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers for the purpose of transporting any alien from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place in the western hemisphere, except Panama, or to any port in the United States from which such alien is excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, unless such alien has been granted a permit by the Secretary of Labor to depart from the United States notwithstanding the provisions of section 18 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or from any possession of the United States, or intending to depart therefrom in the employment of the vessel on which he arrived, may be granted a permit to land temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless the consular officer in charge at the port of departure of such alien from the United States certifies that such alien is not ineligible to be admitted to the United States under the immigration laws and that the immigration officer at the port of arrival may safely permit the alien to land temporarily. Upon the granting of such permit to any such alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall furnish a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor in such amount, not exceeding $1,000 in each case, and containing such conditions as he may prescribe, to guarantee the departure of such alien from the United States on board a vessel or otherwise within the period for which he is granted the privilege of remaining temporarily in the United States, or, if he is employed on board any vessel, his employment on board such vessel or some other vessel, and his departure from the United States on board thereof within such period. Such bond may be canceled and surrendered by the Secretary of Labor whenever he is satisfied that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer has complied with the terms and conditions of the bond with respect to the departure of such alien. Any such alien who remains in the United States after the period for which he was granted the privilege of remaining temporarily in the United States shall be deported as provided in this Act, and shall be required to depart in the same manner as other aliens ordered deported. Any such alien who departs from the United States without having obtained a permit to land temporarily, or who fails to depart from the United States within the period for which he was granted the privilege of remaining temporarily in the United States, or who fails to comply with any of the terms or conditions of his permit, shall be deported as provided in this Act, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, and shall thereafter be permanently ineligible to enter the United States. Any such alien who shall land in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall enter the United States by land without inspection, shall be deported as provided in this Act, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, and shall thereafter be permanently ineligible to enter the United States. Any such alien who shall enter the United States by land without inspection, or who shall enter the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall enter the United States by willfully concealing himself on board any vessel, shall be presumed to have entered with the intention to remain permanently in the United States, and shall be deported as provided in this Act, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, and shall thereafter be permanently ineligible to enter the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall be found employed on board any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in this Act, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to such extent as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation of the distress of such alien, but in no event longer than may be necessary for the departure of such alien, or pending the decision on appeal of the question of the admissibility of such alien, or pending the settlement of proceedings which may be instituted for the deportation of such alien. Any such alien employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to such extent as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation of the distress of such alien, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be collected by the Attorney General by libel in any district court of the United States in which the vessel may be found. Pending the deportation of such alien, he shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and the cost of such detention shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be collected by the Attorney General by libel in any district court of the United States in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel having on board any alien who is required by this section to be detained on board such vessel, or who has been ordered deported, until such alien shall have been removed from such vessel or until the cost of such detention shall have been deposited with the Commissioner General of Immigration to reimburse the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws for moneys paid out of such appropriation for such detention.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel within the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time other than that of its arrival without permission, shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws. Any such alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel within the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time other than that of its arrival without permission, shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws. Any such alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel within the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time other than that of its arrival without permission, shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to obtain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer on the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seamen by the master of such vessel as a deserter. Any fine imposed by the master of any vessel under the provisions of this section as amended did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was otherwise by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or that deportation shall finally be effected, shall be subject to remission or mitigation by the Secretary of Labor upon the recommendation of the Commissioner General of Immigration, or such fine may be sued for and recovered by the United States in the district in which the master or commanding officer has his residence or may be found. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalties to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such fine is sought to be imposed, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The decision of the Attorney General as to the remission or mitigation of such fines, as provided for in this section, shall be final.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival [here continue as above] a complete and accurate list or manifest of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, setting down the following additional information in regard to each such alien: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, and final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States, if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charitable institutions, whether connected with any institution or society, and if so what, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States in pursuance of such contract, whether he has been deported and if so how many times and the cause for each deportation, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service, and if so what kind or character of labor or service, the location, length, and character of previous residence in the United States, and such other items of information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which said list or manifest shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place, and shall be produced to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman concerning whom specific information required by this section is not correctly furnished, and shall not be granted clearance until such fine has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be in the hands of the master, agent, or consignee of the vessel before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers or shall depart from the port. The list of members of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "nonimmigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sickness detention, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), prior to the inspection of any alien to be landed on board vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arrival and immediately such seaman (which inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, and, in the case of any such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the failure to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, and, in the case of any such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the failure to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all departure ports independent of June 2, 1940.

(d) Every alien seaman who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be left behind by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central America, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, or the West Indies, except the Virgin Islands of the United States) shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily to secure his wages, or for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States. Any such alien who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any such alien shall be deported to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the Attorney General. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master shall have furnished a list containing the name, nationality, last known address, and intended future address in the United States, if any, of each alien employed on board such vessel who is to be discharged in a port of the United States, and shall have certified that no other alien employed on board such vessel is to be so discharged. Masters of vessels bringing aliens to the United States who are not citizens of the United States shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry lists containing the name, age, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of a ticket, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join a relative or friend and if so what relative or friend and his address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what and where, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor in the United States, the condition of health, mental and physical, of each alien, and such other information as the Commissioner General of Immigration may require. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before sailing as the Commissioner General of Immigration shall prescribe. Masters of vessels who refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the information required by this section, or who deliver incomplete lists, shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom the required information is not contained in the lists delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or pending the payment of any penalty which may be finally imposed therefor, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance in case of the refusal to pay any such penalty, unless, pending the decision as to such refusal, a sufficient sum of money to cover such penalty is deposited with the collector of customs or other officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of the Treasury to receive the same, to be held to abide the decision as to such refusal. Upon the payment of such penalty, or the deposit of such sum of money, any such vessel shall be granted clearance as to the matters involved in such refusal. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of the Treasury upon such terms as he may think proper. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a consular visé as a condition precedent to the granting of clearance to any vessel. The provisions of this section shall be enforced by such officers of the United States as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate for the purpose, and clearance may be withheld from any vessel refusing to comply with the requirements of this section. The Secretary of the Treasury may refuse clearance to any vessel which has on board any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to the provisions of section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), upon the ground that such alien is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and such alien shall not be allowed to land from any vessel until the master shall have been notified by the Secretary of Labor that such alien may be landed. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has complied with the requirements of section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), with respect to the inspection of aliens prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place, and no penalty shall be imposed by section 20 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 180) upon the master of any vessel for bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused a visé by a consular officer, unless such master shall have been notified by the Secretary of Labor not to bring such alien to the United States, and has failed to comply with such notification, or unless such alien has been certified by the Secretary of Labor to the master of such vessel as afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and such alien shall not have been detained by the immigrant inspector at the request of the master of such vessel for the purpose of having such alien treated, or unless such alien has been treated in accordance with the request of the master of such vessel and with the regulations governing the treatment of such alien, and a certificate to that effect has been issued to the master by the immigrant inspector in charge. Any penalty provided for in this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of the Treasury upon such terms as he may think proper. Nothing in this section shall be construed to impose any liability upon any transportation company with respect to any alien not a citizen of the United States who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

Any penalty provided for in this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of the Treasury upon such terms as he may think proper. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a consular visé as a condition precedent to the granting of clearance to any vessel. The provisions of this section shall be enforced by such officers of the United States as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate for the purpose, and clearance may be withheld from any vessel refusing to comply with the requirements of this section. The Secretary of the Treasury may refuse clearance to any vessel which has on board any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to the provisions of section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), upon the ground that such alien is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and such alien shall not be allowed to land from any vessel until the master shall have been notified by the Secretary of Labor that such alien may be landed

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival such manifests and other documents and to answer such questions pertaining to the vessel, its cargo, passengers, and crew in relation to the provisions of this Act as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization and the Attorney General (except that such questions shall not be required of masters of vessels plying exclusively between ports of the United States and Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent to the continental United States, except such as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this Act relating to the admission of aliens). Any master, owner, consignee, or agent who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall be subject to a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom such refusal is made, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or mitigate such penalty to not less than $50 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

(b) Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from any foreign port or place in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or Guam, or arriving at a seaport of the United States from any foreign port or place, shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act relating to aliens arriving at seaports of the United States from foreign ports or places, and for the purposes of this Act the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, and Guam shall be considered foreign countries.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the aliens arriving on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States has been prevented by the immigration officers at the seaport at which such vessel arrived, as a result of the failure of any person to comply with the provisions of this section, or of any person to prevent such failure, or because of the refusal of the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel to receive such aliens on board or to detain them thereon, or to transport them to the immigration officers at the seaport, or because of the refusal of any person to perform any duty required of him by the immigration officers at such seaport in connection with the departure of such aliens, or because of the refusal of any person to receive such aliens when returned to the United States by the immigration officers at such seaport, or because of any combination to prevent the performance of any such duty, such vessel shall be required to remove such aliens from the United States to the country to which they belong or in which they have resided, or to such other country as may be designated by the alien and as may be agreed to by the government thereof, at the expense of the vessel on which they arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 150.15 Limit of alien contraband: when chattels of vessel, plane, vehicle, or railroad train not to be exempted. (Sections 458(1) and 459 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1458(1), 1459), relate to the administrative duty prescribed by said section 10 to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 890; 8 U.S.C. 160 (a)), that the amount of the alien contraband allowed to be carried free of duty by each vessel, plane, vehicle, or railroad train shall not be exempted from the operation of said section 10 by reason of the fact that the value of the alien contraband carried by such vessel, plane, vehicle, or railroad train exceeds the amount of the duty-free allowance.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergencies as the Attorney General may prescribe for the duration of the period of such alien's service on board such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection it is the duty of the master of any vessel having such seaman employed on board to report and deliver such seaman for such inspection), and no such seaman shall be permitted to land at any port other than the port at which he was inspected by the immigration officer except in case of medical emergency or unless he has been granted by the Attorney General a special permit to land temporarily for the purpose of visiting a hospital for treatment, or for any other purpose deemed by the Attorney General to be consistent with the public interest. Upon the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure a complete list of the crew members, specifying any alien seamen employed on such vessel, and no such seaman shall be permitted to depart from the United States except upon the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of departure that such seaman has been duly inspected by him. Any master, owner, consignee, or agent of any vessel violating any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or mitigate such penalty to not less than $50 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission or mitigation the vessel may be granted clearance. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. As amended, shall apply to all foreign seamen employed on vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or from any port or place in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or Guam, on or after the effective date of this section, but shall not apply to any seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or from any port or place in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or Guam, prior to the effective date of this section, irrespective of the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of departure of such seaman.

(d) Travel time an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or detain alien seamen, respectively, by the master of such vessel on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the aliens arriving on the vessel on which he arrived has been prevented by the failure of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to deliver for medical treatment or hospital treatment any alien seaman who is afflicted with any disease or mental defect, or by the refusal of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to detain any alien seaman who is afflicted with any disease or mental defect, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law requires that a list be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department that is ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the first port of arrival. Please communicate with these officials as soon as possible, in order that the necessary arrangements may be made for the inspection of the crew. Special attention is called to the penalty provisions of section 10 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended (8 U.S.C. 160 (a)), relating to the failure to report alien seamen, and to section 35 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (8 U.S.C. 155), relating to the failure to report the illness or death of any person on board vessel.

Penalty for failure to deliver list or for making incorrect statements therein: Fine not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not more than one year, or both, for each offense. (Sec. 8, Act of May 19, 1921, 42 Stat. 5.)

Form I-418

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the inspector. The list of aliens of each nationality shall be separately numbered, beginning with number one. (Form I-418) A notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, immigration officers at the port of arrival are authorized to require the production of the list at any time during the inspection of the vessel. The list of aliens shall not be destroyed or mutilated and shall be retained on board the vessel for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the next port of call, if any, in the United States, and thereafter for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of final arrival. Failure to comply with these instructions will subject the master to the penalty prescribed in section 273 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

SEC. 36. That upon warrant of the Secretary of Labor any alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place or while in transit through the United States from any foreign port or place to any port or place in the United States may be taken by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, steamship, railroad car, or other conveyance in which such alien arrives, or by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any subsequent vessel, steamship, railroad car, or other conveyance in which such alien departs from the United States, to any port or place designated in such warrant, and detained on board or at such port or place until the departure of such vessel, steamship, railroad car, or other conveyance from the United States, or, if such alien is destined to the United States, until the decision of the immigration officer at the port of first arrival as to the admissibility of such alien: Provided, That such alien shall be detained on board unless the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, steamship, railroad car, or other conveyance shall furnish a bond to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge of the port of first arrival in such amount, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by such immigration officer, conditioned for the payment of the cost of maintenance of such alien while detained at such port of first arrival and for the payment of the hospital dues and other charges in connection with the medical examination of such alien, and conditioned further for the payment of the cost of transportation and maintenance of such alien to the port or place where he is destined, in case he is not admitted to the United States, and for the payment of the cost of his maintenance while in transit through the United States: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel, steamship, railroad car, or other conveyance may, in lieu of detaining such alien on board or at the port of arrival, deposit with the immigration officer in charge at such port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such maintenance and transportation as determined by such immigration officer, but not exceeding $10 per day for the period of detention involved. Any such deposit may be refunded in whole or in part, or additional sums required, by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, according to the circumstances of each case. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the detention on board or at the port of arrival of any alien who has been admitted to the United States and has departed therefrom temporarily.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof until such alien shall have been granted a landing certificate or permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported: Provided, That any alien seaman employed on such vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof for the purpose of accompanying the vessel in which he arrived and solely to perform duty connected with the departure of such vessel, may be granted a landing permit for the period of time the vessel will remain in port, but not to exceed five days, unless such period is extended by the Attorney General in his discretion for an additional period not exceeding five days in any case where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the vessel has been unable to depart within the period originally authorized: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien who has served in the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard during the present war, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, if such alien is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than transportation in connection with a vessel engaged in the coastwise trade) shall pay for the hospital treatment and maintenance, at the discretion of the Attorney General, of any alien seaman employed on such vessel who may become ill during the period of such employment, and for the burial expenses of any such seaman who may die during such period, and shall indemnify and hold harmless the United States against any claim for such hospital treatment, burial expenses, or maintenance. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall deposit with the Attorney General, prior to the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States, such sum as the Attorney General may require, not exceeding $300 for each seaman employed, to guarantee the payment of such expenses. Any such deposit may be refunded in whole or in part, or additional sums required, by the Attorney General, according to the circumstances of each case. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in his discretion, return to the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel the amount deposited by him in respect of any seaman employed on such vessel who shall have been certified by the United States Public Health Service to the Department of Labor as having been cured of any disease or injury theretofore found to exist, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor not to have been suffering from any such disease or injury at the time of his arrival in the United States, or who shall have died during such employment, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a stowaway, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a deserter from a vessel of a country which is at war with a country with which the United States is at war at the time of such desertion, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a deserter from any vessel in the United States service. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in his discretion, return to the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel the amount deposited by him in respect of any seaman employed on such vessel who shall have been certified by the United States Public Health Service to the Department of Labor as having been cured of any disease or injury theretofore found to exist, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor not to have been suffering from any such disease or injury at the time of his arrival in the United States, or who shall have died during such employment, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a stowaway, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a deserter from a vessel of a country which is at war with a country with which the United States is at war at the time of such desertion, or who shall have been found by the Department of Labor to be a deserter from any vessel in the United States service. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien who has served in the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard during the present war, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, if such alien is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immigration officer at the port of such arrival as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel is impracticable or unreasonable, or that the cost of such deportation will be unduly burdensome, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing upon the question whether he shall be allowed to enter the United States. Such hearing shall be conducted after the giving of notice and in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. The decision of the special inquiry officer shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals within such time and in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Pending final decision in the case, the alien seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such amount and with such security as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman when ordered. Compliance with the conditions of any such bond shall relieve the obligors with respect to the alien seaman to whom it relates from any and all liability under such bond. Any such alien seaman who shall fail to comply with the conditions of the bond required of him shall be deported in addition to being subject to the penalties prescribed by this section. Deportation proceedings under this section may be conducted in such manner as the Attorney General may deem appropriate, but the decision of the Attorney General shall be based only upon the evidence adduced at the hearing. Any alien seaman who shall be ordered deported under the provisions of this section shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel in the United States service, unless the Attorney General finds that deportation on such vessel is impracticable or unreasonable or that the cost of such deportation will be unduly burdensome, in which case he may cause such alien seaman to be deported to any country which he may designate that will accept such alien seaman, including any country of which such alien seaman is a national, or any country in which he resided before coming to the United States, or to any other country which may be willing to receive him. Any alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported and who shall have been found by the Attorney General to have come to the United States with the intention of abandoning the vessel on which he arrived, and who shall have deserted such vessel, shall be deported to the country in which he shall have resided before coming to the United States, unless the Attorney General shall find that deportation to such country

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1824, AS AMENDED

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to attend to the sick, during the vessel's stay in port, unless a bond in the penal sum of $500 for each alien seaman is given by the master of the vessel that such alien seaman will be returned on board when the vessel leaves port, or unless such alien seaman shall be returned to the country to which he belongs, or unless the consul of the country to which he belongs shall certify in writing that he has no objection to such alien seaman's landing. Such certificate shall be delivered to the master of the vessel, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed with the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. Any master who shall refuse to return any alien seaman as provided herein shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such refusal occurs. Such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just. Before any master of a vessel shall be granted clearance papers, the collector of customs shall require the production of a certificate from the immigrant inspector at the port showing that the master has complied with the provisions of this section. Such certificate shall be delivered to the collector by the immigrant inspector before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any master who shall refuse to produce such certificate upon demand shall be liable to a penalty of $500. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any penalty incurred under the provisions of this section or any part thereof upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just. (43 Stat. 161, 162; 8 U.S.C. 1940 ed., sec. 207.)

(b) Every alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section and who fails to return to the vessel or to depart from the United States with the vessel upon which he arrived in the United States or upon any other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the granting of shore leave, or within such period of time as may thereafter be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States without inspection and shall be subject to deportation as provided in section 19 hereof. (43 Stat. 161, 162; 8 U.S.C. 1940 ed., sec. 207.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is impracticable or inadvisable, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on such vessel or, at the expense of the vessel or master, in such manner as he may direct, until such alien seaman shall have been issued a permit to enter the United States or shall have been removed from the United States. Detention of aliens as herein provided shall not be deemed imprisonment or punishment of the offense, if any, for which such aliens may be detained. Nothing contained in this subsection shall be construed to authorize the detention of any alien seaman for a longer period than is necessary to accomplish the purposes of this subsection with reasonable dispatch. (43 Stat. 161, 162; 8 U.S.C. 1940 ed., sec. 207.)

SEC. 36. After three months from the passage of this Act no person of the following classes shall be admitted to the United States: Idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, epileptics, insane persons; persons who have had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; persons afflicted with constitutional psychopathic inferiority; persons with chronic alcoholism; paupers; professional beggars; vagrants; persons afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, but not including persons who have been convicted of purely political offenses, or persons who have committed only an offense purely political by reason of the laws of the country in which the offense was committed; polygamists, or persons who practice polygamy or believe in or advocate the practice of polygamy; anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials; persons who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property; persons coming to the United States to perform labor if it be shown that skilled labor of the kind they propose to perform can be found in this country, unless it be conclusively shown that such labor is not displacing labor otherwise employed, and that the wages paid for such labor are not lower than those prevailing for such labor in the locality to which they intend to go; persons who have come in consequence of advertisements for laborers or solicitations or inducements to immigrate sent or published in foreign countries by persons in the United States who are engaged in promoting the importation of such laborers, unless such laborers are exempted hereunder; persons who have come in consequence of the activities of any person or association engaged in the importation of prostitutes or women for immoral purposes; persons who are found to be and are certified by the examining surgeon as being physically or mentally defective, such defect being of a character which may affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless it is affirmatively shown that such defect did not result from or exist prior to landing; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who admit the commission of such acts, or who are found to be, after hearing, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, upon the recommendation of the Attorney General, or his duly authorized representative, to be guilty thereof, although no conviction may have been had: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph relating to persons who have committed or admit having committed felonies or other crimes or misdemeanors involving moral turpitude shall not apply to persons who have been convicted of only one such crime or misdemeanor committed when under the age of twenty-one years, unless the crime was committed within five years after entry and the person is sentenced therefor to confinement in a penitentiary or prison for one year or more; persons who have been convicted of two or more such crimes or misdemeanors committed at any time after entry; persons who have been sentenced more than once to such confinement as a result of such convictions; persons who have been convicted of such crime or misdemeanor committed before entry, if sentence has been imposed therefor in a penitentiary or prison for one year or more, or if such crime or misdemeanor was committed within five years after entry and sentence to confinement in a penitentiary or prison for one year or more has been imposed therefor, regardless of subsequent action with respect to such sentence by a court of competent jurisdiction; persons who have been convicted of two or more offenses, not arising out of the same act, omission, or scheme, or who have been sentenced more than once to such confinement as a result of such convictions; persons who have been convicted of a violation of any law regulating the traffic in narcotic drugs or marihuana, or who have been convicted of a violation of any law, State or Federal, relating to the unlawful manufacture, sale, barter, exchange, smuggling, or transportation of intoxicating liquors, or who have been convicted of violating the National Prohibition Act by selling intoxicating liquors to a person known to be an habitual drunkard, or who have been convicted of violating the National Prohibition Act three or more times; persons who have been convicted of a violation of, or a conspiracy to violate, any law pertaining to the traffic in, or the use of, opium or any derivative thereof, and persons who admit after arrest and conviction in the United States that they are addicts to the use of opium or any derivative thereof, unless it be affirmatively shown that such persons have been voluntarily addicted to the use of opium or any derivative thereof for more than one year prior to the date of the last entry of such persons into the United States; persons who are found to be and are certified by the examining surgeon as being afflicted with a mental defect of such a degree that they are unable to earn a living, unless it is affirmatively shown that such mental defect did not result from or exist prior to landing; persons who are found to be and are certified by the examining surgeon as being afflicted with a loathsome or with a dangerous contagious disease, unless it is affirmatively shown that such person became so afflicted after landing; persons certified by the examining surgeon as being afflicted with any form of tuberculosis, unless it is affirmatively shown that such person became so afflicted after landing; persons certified by the examining surgeon as being afflicted

Form I-418
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3d. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the said vessel's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien, so far as the same are known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed when the first list was delivered, and the particulars required as to those first mentioned; and if any alien employee fails to join the vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill and displace them, and the cause of the absence of each alien employee, if known, and the intended destination of each such alien employee, so far as known, at the time of the vessel's departure, and the particulars required as to those first mentioned; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists or to report any such alien employee, or master shall be subject to the penalties provided by the following section of this Act in the case of a failure to deliver lists in respect of passengers. Such immigration officer as the Secretary of Labor may designate shall have the right to go on board any vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the lists required to be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof, and to detain such vessel for that purpose for a period not exceeding two hours in addition to the time necessary for the physical examination of the passengers and crew. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who refuses to deliver lists containing the particulars required by this section, or who refuses to allow the immigration officer in charge of the port or any assistant immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose aforesaid, or to detain such vessel for the period aforesaid, or who refuses to answer truly any question relating to the particulars required by this section put by any such immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each omission in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent of June 2, 1910.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause to be delivered such alien seaman on board such vessel, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully permitted to land in the United States, or unless such master shall establish by competent evidence that such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship if required to remain in the United States, or that such alien seaman has been paid his wages and has been given a reasonable opportunity to desert, or that he was prevented from so doing by reason of sickness or injury certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or by reason of shipwreck, or that such alien seaman has been lawfully detained on board for the purpose of testifying in any case or proceeding arising under the immigration laws, or that such alien seaman has been otherwise lawfully discharged.

(c) If the Attorney General shall have determined to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship if required to remain in the United States, clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit of such sum as the Attorney General may deem sufficient to secure the payment of such alien seaman's hospital and burial expenses, if he should die, and his passage money and expenses of maintenance while detained, if he should become a public charge, and his return passage money, in the event he is ordered deported, or such portion of such sum as the Attorney General may deem sufficient, and such bond shall be discharged in full upon the departure of such alien seaman, or upon the payment of his passage money and expenses of maintenance, or such portion thereof as the Attorney General may have required, or upon the deposit of such sum in lieu of such bond, or such portion thereof, as the Attorney General may have required, or upon the payment of such sum to the collector of customs, or upon the establishment to the satisfaction of the Attorney General of the inability of such alien seaman to earn his passage money, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that the presence of such alien seaman is necessary as a witness on behalf of the United States in the trial of any criminal case, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of medical treatment, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of visiting a relative who is critically ill, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative whose death has occurred since the arrival of such alien seaman, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling the estate of a relative who has died since the arrival of such alien seaman, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling his own affairs when the spouse, parent, brother, sister, child, or other close relative of such alien seaman has died since the arrival of such alien seaman, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling his own affairs when the spouse, parent, brother, sister, child, or other close relative of such alien seaman is critically ill, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling his own affairs when he has been ordered deported on account of an offense for which no penalty other than death or imprisonment is imposed by the laws under which he is deported, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling his own affairs when he has been found to be suffering from a disease, mental or physical, or a defect which may require treatment or observation in a hospital or other institution, or upon the certification by the Attorney General that such alien seaman has been granted a period of temporary residence in the United States for the purpose of settling his own affairs when he has been found to be a member of a class which, by reason of existing physical or mental conditions, may become a public charge, and in the opinion of the Attorney General the cost of necessary treatment is not likely to be more than the amount of the bond. Clearance shall not be granted pending the taking of depositions in any case or proceeding arising under the immigration laws. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the withholding of clearance in the case of any vessel upon which no alien seaman has been employed. Clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the departure of the inspector who has been assigned to such vessel. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly aids, abets, or counsels another to violate any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly attempts to violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly aids, abets, or counsels another to violate any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly attempts to violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector designated by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel at the port of arrival. One list of crewmen must be delivered on board, but need not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where more than one vessel is involved, a separate list must be prepared for each vessel. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses to deliver lists containing the particulars required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), unless the vessel has been cleared by the customs officer at the port, is subject to the penalties provided by the following section of this Act in the case of a failure to deliver lists in respect of passengers. Such immigration officer as the Secretary of Labor may designate shall have the right to go on board any vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the lists required to be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof, and to detain such vessel for that purpose for a period not exceeding two hours in addition to the time necessary for the physical examination of the passengers and crew. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who refuses to deliver lists containing the particulars required by this section, or who refuses to allow the immigration officer in charge of the port or any assistant immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose aforesaid, or to detain such vessel for the period aforesaid, or who refuses to answer truly any question relating to the particulars required by this section put by any such immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each omission in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent of June 2, 1910.

I, Lemar Lapham, of the Port of New Orleans, do declare that the foregoing is a list of all the crew shipped in said vessel from said port or place during the Present voyage. I further declare that I have read the copies of sections 30 and 35 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the residence of aliens in, the United States," and that the list is in accordance with the requirements of said sections 30 and 35 of said Act. Dated, this 30th day of May, 1954.

Witness my hand, this 30th day of May, 1954.

Form I-418
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at ports in the United States from any foreign port or place if found in the ports of the coast, about, connives, or assists therein to depart to the prejudice immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival that their coming to the United States is in violation of this Act, or that they belong to any of the classes excluded by law, or that they have come in consequence of any promise, agreement, or solicitation to perform labor in the United States of any kind, or that they are suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be taken before a special inquiry officer for further inquiry touching the same. The decision of such special inquiry officer, which may be appealed to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final, shall be communicated to the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which such alien arrived. Pending the decision of the special inquiry officer, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which such alien arrived shall provide adequate means and accommodations for the detention of such alien on board the vessel or at such station as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port in the United States except in the case of aliens who are admitted to land temporarily by order of the Secretary of Labor upon the certification of the immigration officer in charge of the port that such aliens are entitled to enter but that their presence temporarily pending examination of their admissibility is desirable in order not to disturb the ordinary course of the inspection within the port. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien arrested in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs when such alien is a stowaway: Provided, That clearance may be granted to the master of any vessel prior to the payment of such fine or the deposit of such bond in the case of any stowaway who shall have been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival as a deserving case, and the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any such fine or bond upon the certification by the immigration officer that such stowaway has been returned to the country whence he came or has been otherwise removed therefrom.

(b) Every alien assaulted and injured while in the United States from any foreign port or place if found to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be taken before a special inquiry officer for further inquiry touching the same. The decision of such special inquiry officer, which may be appealed to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final, shall be communicated to the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which such alien arrived. Pending the decision of the special inquiry officer, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which such alien arrived shall provide adequate means and accommodations for the detention of such alien on board the vessel or at such station as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port in the United States except in the case of aliens who are admitted to land temporarily by order of the Secretary of Labor upon the certification of the immigration officer in charge of the port that such aliens are entitled to enter but that their presence temporarily pending examination of their admissibility is desirable in order not to disturb the ordinary course of the inspection within the port. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs when such alien is a stowaway: Provided, That clearance may be granted to the master of any vessel prior to the payment of such fine or the deposit of such bond in the case of any stowaway who shall have been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival as a deserving case, and the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any such fine or bond upon the certification by the immigration officer that such stowaway has been returned to the country whence he came or has been otherwise removed therefrom.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by reason of the inability of the Government of the country to which such alien belongs or of the subdivision or municipality thereof to receive such alien, or because of the refusal of the steamship or other transportation company which brought such alien to the United States to receive such alien on board a vessel or aircraft owned or operated by it, or because of the refusal of the consular officer of the country to which such alien belongs to issue a passport to such alien, or because of the refusal of the country to which such alien belongs to accept such alien, the Attorney General may cause such alien to be detained at such place as he may designate pending the removal of such alien at the earliest practicable date. Such alien may be required to perform such labor as he is capable of performing, having regard to his previous training and occupation, which the Attorney General may deem necessary for the proper care of such alien during such detention. Such alien may be released from such detention upon such terms and conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, including a bond with sufficient surety, in such reasonable sum as may be fixed by the Attorney General, conditioned upon such alien reporting to the Attorney General from time to time thereafter as required and upon such alien's departure when arrangements therefor have been made. Such bond shall not be required in any case in which the alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that his release would not be prejudicial to the interests of the United States. Any such alien who violates the terms of his release shall be liable to the penalties provided in section 20 of this Act for failure to depart. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the Attorney General to detain any alien for a longer period than is provided in section 20 of this Act except as specifically authorized in this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified by the master, or other officer in charge of the vessel, or by the agent, consignee, or owner thereof, of the intent of such alien to depart from the United States, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit to such alien to land for a period not exceeding twenty-nine days, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such alien may be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his passage to the port of foreign departure, and, in the event such sum is required, while it remains unpaid, not shall such alien be permitted to land. Such sum may be refunded to the person who deposited it, or his assigns, upon the departure of such alien from the United States within the time for which he was admitted, or upon such alien's earlier departure and compliance with the immigration laws and regulations, under such rules as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such sum may be applied by the Attorney General to the payment of the cost of maintenance, including expenses of medical treatment and burial, of such alien during his detention under the provisions of this section, and to the refund of deposits made by persons other than the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel. Any such sum remaining unclaimed for one year after the date of the deposit thereof shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a special deposit account, and shall be available for the purposes specified in this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs when such alien is a stowaway: Provided, That clearance may be granted to the master of any vessel prior to the payment of such fine or the deposit of such bond in the case of any stowaway who shall have been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival as a deserving case, and the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any such fine or bond upon the certification by the immigration officer that such stowaway has been returned to the country whence he came or has been otherwise removed therefrom.

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lien imposed by section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 884; 8 U. S. C. 171), has been removed, or the master has deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 892, 893; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

Implicit in the administrative fine prescribed by and not less than prescribed by section 23 of said Act (39 Stat. 892; 8 U. S. C. 180) is the requirement that the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department; and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members may be attached to such vessel, should the boarding officer deem it necessary, as a supplement. "Nothing" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

REMOVAL OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], master of the [illegible] of the [illegible] do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, shipped in said vessel from said port or place, during the time I have been master of said vessel, and that I will not remove from on board the said vessel, or suffer to be removed therefrom, any of the crew, except in the usual discharge of the crew, or by leave of the proper officer, or unless compelled by force or stress of weather or other unavoidable accident, until the vessel shall have been duly cleared at the Custom House, and that I will, if any of the crew desert or die before the vessel is cleared, make a like report of the deserter or dead man, and produce the certificate of the shipping commissioner before whom the deserter was subscribed, or the certificate of the death of the dead man, or, in default thereof, my own affidavit of the desertion or death.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this [illegible] day of [illegible] 19[illegible].

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from said port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

..... Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19..

..... Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. W hen an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the service of the vessel, the nationality of each, the last country from which they came, the port at which they were respectively shipped or engaged, the destination of each, whether they have been in the United States previously or not, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of sufficient money to pay their passage to their ultimate destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether their passage has been paid by any person, company, or corporation, and if so, by whom, whether they are connected with any political organization subversive to the form of government of the United States, whether they are coming to the United States to perform labor, and if so, what kind of labor, whether they have been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor, and if so, what crime, whether they are under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what the nature of such contract or agreement is, whether they have been deported from the United States or excluded therefrom, and if so, why, whether they have ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long they remained, whether they intend to return to the country from which they came after temporarily visiting the United States, whether they are married or single, whether they are coming to the United States to join a husband or father already naturalized or citizen of the United States, and if so, the name of such husband or father, whether they are joining a father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother in the United States, and if so, the name of such relative, whether they have a ticket or passage paid for any final destination beyond the port of arrival, and if so, by whom, whether they have in their possession or have had any money, and if so, how much, whether they have been employed by any person, company, or corporation in the United States, and if so, by whom and when, whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long they remained

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1934, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States ports from any foreign port or place, or any port or place in the United States from which vessels depart only upon clearance by the Secretary of Commerce, unless and until such alien seaman shall have been certified by the Secretary of Labor as not coming within any of the classes of aliens ineligible for admission into the United States under the immigration laws. Any such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board his vessel while in port, and the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall be responsible for the proper detention of such alien seaman on board his vessel and for his departure with the vessel from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, without having been certified by the Secretary of Labor as not coming within any of the classes of aliens ineligible for admission into the United States under the immigration laws, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. The cost of the maintenance of any such alien seaman while detained on board his vessel, and of his deportation, shall be borne by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel. Any such master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure of such vessel is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman concerning whom such master, agent, owner, or consignee fails to comply with the provisions of this section, which sum may be recovered by the United States in an action of debt in the district court of the United States for the district in which such port of departure is located. Clearance of such vessel may be withheld pending the payment of such sum or the giving of a bond therefor satisfactory to the collector of customs. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the detention on board thereof of any such alien seaman unless and until the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall have given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in the penal sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, conditioned for the departure of such alien seaman from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, or conditioned for the payment of the sum which may be recovered for the violation of the provisions of this section with respect to such alien seaman. Any such bond may be sued in any district court of the United States within the district in which the principal obligor therein resides or may be found. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, issue a permit for the temporary landing of any such alien seaman at any port of the United States, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe to assure the return of such alien seaman to his vessel or the departure of such alien seaman from the United States with his vessel or on some other vessel within such period of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and to assure the payment of the sum which may be recovered for the violation of the provisions of this section with respect to such alien seaman. Such sum shall be refunded to the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has complied with the conditions of his permit, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly detained on board his vessel by reason of sickness or injury until after the departure of his vessel from the United States, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly detained on board his vessel until after the departure of his vessel from the United States and has been delivered to the immigration authorities at a subsequent port of call of his vessel in the United States or Canada, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly detained on board his vessel until after the departure of his vessel from the United States and has been duly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws at a port of the United States, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly detained on board his vessel until after the departure of his vessel from the United States and has been duly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws at a port of a foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, or

(10) Whether the passage is paid by himself or by others or by friends or by the government. (11) Whether in possession of $50 and if not the amount possessed, up to $50. (12) Whether ever before in the United States, and if so when and where. (13) Whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity. (14) Whether a polygamist. (15) Whether an anarchist. (16) Whether coming under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia. (17) Whether suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease. (18) Whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how. (19) Height. (20) Complexion. (21) Color of hair and eyes. (22) Marks of identification. (23) Whether in the United States or not, and if so, when, where, and how long since last admitted. (24) Whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address. (25) Whether ever before refused admission to the United States, and if so, when and where. (26) Whether under sentence of death, or has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, what crime. (27) Whether a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the above-mentioned doctrines. Said list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival, and a duplicate, corrected if necessary, shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of each subsequent arrival at a port in the United States or its Territories, previous to the departure therefrom of any of the persons mentioned in said list. Said list shall be kept open after the departure of the vessel from each port, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of last departure before the sailing of the vessel for a foreign port. Any master of a vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully the questions contained in such list as to each person on board, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each person as to whom such list is incomplete or incorrect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Said list shall be evidence before the board of special inquiry, and in all cases shall be subject to the inspection of, and a copy thereof furnished without charge upon demand to, the transportation company bringing the person to whom the list relates, by any commissioner of immigration, assistant commissioner, chief inspector, or special agent of the Department of Labor, or by any United States consul. Any master of a vessel who refuses to permit any such officer to make such inspection, or to furnish such copy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each person as to whom such list is incomplete or incorrect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens required to be specially inspected before examination by an immigrant inspector, and shall not be removed from the vessel by any person other than an immigration officer at the port of arrival. Where an alternate vessel is a "conveyance" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assigned, multiple names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the business they respectively plead in the alien's country, when and where they were severally born, their nationality, their last residence, and whether they have been previously in the United States or not, and whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether they are in possession of money and the amount, and whether they are going, and whether they have a ticket through to their destination, and who paid for it, and whether they have been assisted to come, and by whom, and whether they intend to return to their native country after a temporary stay in the United States, and the calling or occupation of each alien, and the place of his last permanent abode, and whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, or is an anarchist, and whether he is coming in pursuance of any previous promise or agreement made by any person or corporation, agent, parent, friend, or relative, and the kind and amount of money which each alien has with him, and whether he has been deported within one year or more prior to his arrival and the reason therefor, and whether he is coming to the United States to perform labor, and if so, what kind of labor, and whether he has a ticket or passage engagement to any place in the United States, and if so, where, and whether he has been induced, assisted, encouraged, or solicited to emigrate to the United States by offer or promise of employment or in consequence of any prepaid ticket or otherwise, and whether he is in possession of a round-trip ticket, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he remained, and whether he intends to return to the United States, and such additional facts as may be required to show whether any such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by law. The said lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last port as will enable the immigrant inspector to board the vessel promptly upon her arrival at the first port of inspection, and the said lists shall be delivered to the inspector on boarding the vessel, but shall not be delivered to the master or other officer of the vessel until the inspector has finished the inspection of the aliens. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who refuses to deliver to the immigrant inspector any list required by this section, or who fails to include therein all the required information concerning each alien, or who knowingly and willfully makes a false statement in any such list, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. The master of the vessel shall be required to report the name of every alien who may be found on board after the inspection of the vessel at any port, and whether such alien was originally destined to the United States or not, and whether he has been entered or landed, and if not, why not, and if so, when, where, and whether he has been apprehended, and if not, why not, and shall furnish such other information in regard to such alien as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who refuses to report any such alien, or who knowingly and willfully reports falsely or fraudulently in connection therewith, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such violation occurs. Any fine imposed upon the master of a vessel may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon the production of a certificate from a customs officer at the last port of departure of the vessel from which an alien was landed in the United States showing that such alien was specially inspected before such departure and was found not to belong to any of the classes excluded by law, and that the master has complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such alien. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a passport visé as a condition of the granting by a consular officer of any nonimmigrant visa. (Section 36 of the Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 132), as amended by section 4(a) of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 204(a)).

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, outside the Canal Zone, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his detention, or for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States pursuant to law, or for the purpose of applying for a visé as a nonimmigrant under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or for the purpose of taking passage for and departing from the United States through a port of entry and from the vessel on which he arrived, or another vessel arriving at such port of entry, within such period of time as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the performance of the duties of such officer in connection with the departure of such alien. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any vessel who refuses to deliver to the immigrant inspector any alien seaman employed on board his vessel when required so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival in respect of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has received the report required by this section, or has been satisfied by the master that no alien seaman employed on board such vessel has failed to report for inspection, or has been notified by the collector of customs that the payment of such fine has been adequately secured by bond or otherwise. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any fine imposed by this section if he is satisfied that such fine was incurred without fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel, or that such fine for any other reason should not be collected. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission of fines imposed by this section. The provisions of this section shall apply to all nonalien seamen employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, except that in the case of such seamen the fine shall be $50.00 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any fine imposed by this section if he is satisfied that such fine was incurred without fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel, or that such fine for any other reason should not be collected. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission of fines imposed by this section. The provisions of this section shall apply to all nonalien seamen employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, except that in the case of such seamen the fine shall be $50.00 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with vessel. If proof that an alien seaman did not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived is required in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, such proof may be furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel, or by the alien seaman, or by any other person having knowledge of the facts. Such proof may be furnished before the vessel departs from the United States, or after such departure, and may be furnished to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, to the collector of customs, or to the Commissioner of Immigration at any port in the United States, or to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C. Such proof may consist of the certificate of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel, or of the certificate of the alien seaman, or of any other person having knowledge of the facts, or of any other evidence or information satisfactory to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel of the same or any other line sailing to a port in the country whence such alien seaman came, or to the country of which he is a subject, or to the country in which he resided when he entered the United States, or to any other country willing to receive him, as the Attorney General may direct, and such expenses as may be necessary for the maintenance of such alien seaman pending his departure from the United States may be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any such alien seaman who shall refuse to depart from the United States when required so to do shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall not be required to obtain a visé to his passport in order to reenter the United States, unless he is excluded from admission under any provision of the immigration laws other than section 3 thereof.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to obtain from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival like information as is required to be given in the manifest concerning aliens employed on such vessel, slightly modified as to form, together with such information relative to their coming to the United States as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the master thereof shall, before any such alien shall be landed from such vessel, deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, and shall report the cause for detention of any such alien who may be found by such officer to be afflicted with any such disease or mental or physical defect or disability, and shall also report the name of every alien employed on such vessel who may not be entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or any other law or treaty, and the reasons for the belief that each such alien belongs to one of the excluded classes, and shall furnish such other information in regard to any such alien as the Secretary of Labor may require. Upon the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to comply with the requirements of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or upon the refusal of any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the tax imposed by this section, or upon the refusal of any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to detain any alien employee when ordered so to do by the immigration officer in charge at the port, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs. Clearance may be withheld or granted under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Until a master has complied with the requirements of this section and all penalties imposed upon him or it thereby have been paid, no clearance shall be granted the vessel, and upon failure to pay any penalty lawfully imposed hereunder within ten days after the same shall have been incurred, the vessel concerning which such penalty was incurred shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States, and may be proceeded against in the district court of the district into which she may enter or in which she may be found. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund fines collected from masters of vessels for violations of this section. Any person who knowingly and willfully makes a false statement in relation to the application for the permit provided for in this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person in charge or command of any such vessel, before any alien employed on board such vessel shall be landed from such vessel, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien employed on board such vessel, and shall report the cause for detention of any such alien who may be found by such officer to be afflicted with any such disease or mental or physical defect or disability, and shall also report the name of every alien employed on such vessel who may not be entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or any other law or treaty, and the reasons for the belief that each such alien belongs to one of the excluded classes, and shall furnish such other information in regard to any such alien as the Secretary of Labor may require. Upon the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to comply with the requirements of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or upon the refusal of any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the tax imposed by this section, or upon the refusal of any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to detain any alien employee when ordered so to do by the immigration officer in charge at the port, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs. Clearance may be withheld or granted under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for the purpose of insuring the payment of such penalty. Until a master has complied with the requirements of this section and all penalties imposed upon him or it thereby have been paid, no clearance shall be granted the vessel, and upon failure to pay any penalty lawfully imposed hereunder within ten days after the same shall have been incurred, the vessel concerning which such penalty was incurred shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States, and may be proceeded against in the district court of the district into which she may enter or in which she may be found. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund fines collected from masters of vessels for violations of this section. Any person who knowingly and willfully makes a false statement in relation to the application for the permit provided for in this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer of the district in which

The law requires that you be furnished an official Alien Certificate of Registry before you may lawfully employ any alien crewman. Application for this certificate must be made to the District Director of Immigration and Naturalization having jurisdiction over the port where the vessel first arrives. The law requires a separate certificate for each alien crewman. Failure to obtain certificates for alien crewmen may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien crewman. Failure to report the departure of an alien crewman may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien crewman. Failure to report the departure of an alien crewman may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien crewman.

SEC. 18. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, commander, or consignee of any vessel in the United States or the captain or person in charge thereof to report and present for examination all aliens on board such vessel, whether they be entering the United States or not, and to detain on board or at quarantine all aliens who are not duly certified by the proper consular officer of the United States to be admissible into the United States under the provisions of this Act, or who are not clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under some existing law or treaty, and to report the name of every alien who shall illegally land from any vessel, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, commander, or consignee to detain such alien on board or at quarantine or other place designated by the immigrant inspector pending the inquiry and report concerning the right of such alien to land, and to prevent such alien from landing in case adverse report is made concerning him. It shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, commander, or consignee to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, and to return any alien detained on board or at quarantine to the last port at which such vessel touched before coming to the United States, or to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he took on board such alien, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. Any person who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien not duly certified as admissible by the proper consular officer, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board his vessel or at quarantine when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to return any alien to the port from which he came to the United States, or to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he took on board such alien, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. The master, commander, or consignee of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has come to the United States in violation of law shall be liable to the head tax and to deportation in the same manner as though such alien had been brought in such vessel, and such vessel shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States. Any person who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien who has come to the United States in violation of law shall be liable to the head tax and to deportation in the same manner as though such alien had been brought in such vessel, and such vessel shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States. Any person who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien who has come to the United States in violation of law shall be liable to the head tax and to deportation in the same manner as though such alien had been brought in such vessel, and such vessel shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or from any possession of the United States (except Guam, Samoa, or the Canal Zone), or transferred from one vessel to another while in the United States or while en route between any two points in the United States to any vessel bound for a foreign port, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of assuring the departure of such alien from the United States with the crew of the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel, or pending the decision on appeal, of the question of the admissibility of such alien under any law or treaty. Any such alien who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens illegally entering the United States after being excluded therefrom. Before any such alien is granted permission to land temporarily as aforesaid, a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and with such conditions as may be prescribed by him, shall be given for the performance by such alien of the requirements of his departure within the time limited and his compliance with all the conditions of his permit to land temporarily and for the payment to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel arrives of a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States if he shall become a public charge, and for the payment of any hospital expenses and burial expenses incurred on account of such alien during a period not exceeding one year after the date of the bond. Upon the departure of such alien within the period limited by his permit, the bond shall be canceled and no charge shall be made against it on account of the maintenance of such alien in the United States. Upon failure to comply with the conditions of the bond, or any of them, the bond shall be declared forfeited and collection thereof may be enforced by the collector of customs of the district in which the bond was given. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall remain beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or shall violate any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or from any possession of the United States (except Guam, Samoa, or the Canal Zone), or transferred from one vessel to another while in the United States or while en route between any two points in the United States to any vessel bound for a foreign port, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of assuring the departure of such alien from the United States with the crew of the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel, or pending the decision on appeal, of the question of the admissibility of such alien under any law or treaty. Any such alien who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens illegally entering the United States after being excluded therefrom. Before any such alien is granted permission to land temporarily as aforesaid, a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and with such conditions as may be prescribed by him, shall be given for the performance by such alien of the requirements of his departure within the time limited and his compliance with all the conditions of his permit to land temporarily and for the payment to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel arrives of a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States if he shall become a public charge, and for the payment of any hospital expenses and burial expenses incurred on account of such alien during a period not exceeding one year after the date of the bond. Upon the departure of such alien within the period limited by his permit, the bond shall be canceled and no charge shall be made against it on account of the maintenance of such alien in the United States. Upon failure to comply with the conditions of the bond, or any of them, the bond shall be declared forfeited and collection thereof may be enforced by the collector of customs of the district in which the bond was given. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom.

(a) Any alien crewman who shall land in the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, shall be taken before the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or the Assistant Commissioner in charge of the port of arrival, or such other immigrant inspector as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, for examination. Such alien crewman shall be detained on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector pending the examination. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport.

(b) Any alien crewman who shall land in the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, shall be taken before the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or the Assistant Commissioner in charge of the port of arrival, or such other immigrant inspector as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, for examination. Such alien crewman shall be detained on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector pending the examination. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien crewman has been granted permission to land temporarily as a member of the crew of a vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, and that such alien crewman has failed to depart from the United States with the crew of the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel, or pending the decision on appeal, of the question of the admissibility of such alien under any law or treaty, such alien crewman shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom.

(d) Any alien crewman who shall land in the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, shall be taken before the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or the Assistant Commissioner in charge of the port of arrival, or such other immigrant inspector as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, for examination. Such alien crewman shall be detained on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector pending the examination. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any alien crewman has been granted permission to land temporarily as a member of the crew of a vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, and that such alien crewman has failed to depart from the United States with the crew of the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel, or pending the decision on appeal, of the question of the admissibility of such alien under any law or treaty, such alien crewman shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom.

(f) Any alien crewman who shall land in the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, shall be taken before the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or the Assistant Commissioner in charge of the port of arrival, or such other immigrant inspector as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, for examination. Such alien crewman shall be detained on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector pending the examination. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport. Such alien crewman shall be examined by the immigrant inspector to determine whether he is a member of any of the classes of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and whether he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a valid passport.

(g) If the Attorney General finds that any alien crewman has been granted permission to land temporarily as a member of the crew of a vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place in violation of the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, and that such alien crewman has failed to depart from the United States with the crew of the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel, or pending the decision on appeal, of the question of the admissibility of such alien under any law or treaty, such alien crewman shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom. Any alien who shall land in the United States temporarily as provided in this section and who shall thereafter be found to have remained beyond the period for which he was granted permission to land temporarily, or to have violated any of the conditions under which he was granted such permission, shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States after being excluded therefrom.

SEC. 36. That when alien arrives at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee of the vessel in the foreign immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or place contiguous to such port or place, a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the business they respectively both in the ship's company, when and where they were engaged, the nationality of each, and whether they have been previously in the United States or not, and if so, how long previously they were respectively admitted or landed, and whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether they have a ticket through to their destination, and whether they have been assisted by any society or person in coming, and by whom the passage was paid, and the amount they have with them, and whether they are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and what their destination is, and whether they intend to return to their native country, and whether they are connected with any criminal or immoral organization, and whether they are coming for any purpose or object, and how long they intend to remain in the United States, and such other information regarding the history, character, and occupation of such aliens as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such list shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, approved by the Secretary of Labor, and printed on the face of the ship's manifest, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master or commanding officer of each vessel to deliver a true copy of such list to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, and to certify to the correctness of such copy over his signature. Such list shall be open to the inspection of any immigration officer at any time during the voyage of the vessel, and upon the completion thereof shall be delivered by the master or commanding officer of the vessel to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master or commanding officer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to allow any immigration officer to enter the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question relating to the information required concerning each alien, shall pay a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien, and may also be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, issue a permit in writing to any master or commanding officer of any vessel to discharge one or more aliens specified in such permit at a port other than the port of original destination, and such alien may be admitted to the United States subject to the payment of the head tax and to the other provisions of this Act.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall indemnify and hold harmless the United States against the payment of any hospital expenses or burial or funeral expenses for the alien seaman, and against any fine imposed upon such alien seaman under section 2 of this Act, and against the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman pending the completion of the inquiry provided for in section 17 of this Act, and against the cost of the return transportation of such alien seaman to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he last departed to the United States, at the option of the Attorney General, and against any tax which may be imposed in connection with such return by any foreign government.

(b) Any master or commanding officer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival, before the departure of such vessel from such port, a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such vessel is required to indemnify the United States under subsection (a) of this section, or in such lesser penal sum as the Attorney General may prescribe, conditioned upon the payment of such sum. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such vessel to depart from such port without the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, and may also release any such bond deposited in the port of arrival, or any part thereof, upon the deposit in lieu thereof of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be cancelled and surrendered after the expiration of two years from the date of the deposit thereof, or at any time after the death of any alien seaman named therein, or upon the deposit in lieu thereof of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs.

This section as amended shall apply to all bonds given under the provisions of this section as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(c) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he may cause to be deported, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after lawful permission by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(d) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relationship to such seaman by consanguinity, may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relationship to such seaman by consanguinity, after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States, unless specifically admitted by the Attorney General under such conditions as he may prescribe.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relationship to such seaman by consanguinity, after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States, unless specifically admitted by the Attorney General under such conditions as he may prescribe, a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) of each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) and certified to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such certificate of inspection is to be issued. Payment of such sum shall be a condition precedent to the granting of clearance by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such vessel to depart from such port without the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, or at any time after the death of any such seaman or prior to the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond to be cancelled and surrendered after the expiration of two years from the date of the deposit thereof, or at any time after the death of any alien seaman named therein, upon the deposit in lieu thereof of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs.

This section as amended shall apply to all bonds given under the provisions of this section as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he may cause to be deported, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after lawful permission by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except as provided in section 36, shall cause to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, at the time of inspection of the vessel, a list or manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which list shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, as to each alien on board the vessel, whether a passenger or a member of the crew, and as to such other persons as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, whether they are in possession of valid immigration visas or reentry permits or other documents, and as to their admissibility to the United States under this Act. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this subdivision and for the detention on board or at the port of arrival of aliens certified by a consular officer for special examination in accordance with section 23 of this Act.

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver the list or manifest required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver such list or manifest within fifteen minutes after the same is demanded by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board or at such port of entry any alien when required so to do by the immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such alien for special examination in accordance with section 23 of this Act, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the regulations of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for the detention on board or at the port of arrival of aliens certified by a consular officer for special examination, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is located a penalty of $300 for each such alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs. The vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or pending application to the Attorney General for remission or mitigation thereof, but no such clearance shall be required in case of the failure to deliver the list of an alien who has been duly taken on board a vessel at a foreign port for transportation in transit through the United States to a country contiguous to the United States and who is destined to such country. The payment of such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port is located. Clearance may be granted the vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety, to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such penalty or bond, or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that no owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel was at fault in connection with the violation with respect to which the penalty was incurred, and that due diligence was exercised to prevent the violation, or that the circumstances of the case otherwise justify the remission or mitigation of the penalty. Application for the remission or mitigation of such penalty must be made within one year from the date of the final action of the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a mental disease which originated after he arrived in the United States, he may permit such alien seaman to remain in the United States for such time as he deems necessary for such hospitalization, without the payment of the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 18, 1903, as amended (32 Stat. 1213; 8 U. S. C. 132), or the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 102), if adequate security is furnished to the Secretary of Labor to guarantee the departure of such alien seaman from the United States when he is certified to be mentally competent by the proper authorities of the State in which he is hospitalized, or sooner if he is finally released or discharged therefrom, or if he escapes therefrom. Such security shall not be required in the case of any alien seaman who is a national of a country which has waived the requirement of a valid passport and visa as a condition of admission.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be inserted on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector beneath the crews' list on the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the crews' list of the vessel. The list of aliens in transit to foreign ports shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When no alien seaman is a "noncrewman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 3c. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, in charge of the port of arrival, to report and account for, and pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $8.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a bond or undertaking with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any such penalty, or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that the vessel has arrived in distress, or that proper diligence was exercised to prevent the violation, or that the fine is excessive in amount, or imposed under circumstances which do not justify its enforcement.

The Attorney General shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine, penalty, or forfeiture, or any part thereof, incurred under the provisions of this section, when in his opinion the same was incurred without willful negligence or bad faith on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and reasonable.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained by the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States except from such vessel and in pursuance of such reasonable regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the control and removal of such alien seamen. Any such alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or who lands from any vessel at any port in the United States for the purpose of obtaining employment in the United States, or who enters the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who remains in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General or his designated representative, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 23 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Deportation of such alien seamen may be made to the country in which he was born or of which he is a subject, citizen, or national, or, if deportation to such country is impracticable, inadvisable, or impossible, then to the country from which such alien seaman last entered the United States, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien seaman and as may be approved by the Attorney General. Deportation of such alien seamen may be made notwithstanding the provisions of section 23 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and such deportation may be made to any country which was at the time of the commencement of the last voyage of such alien seaman from a port in the United States a territory or possession of the country to which deportation is made, or which was at such time the seat of government of such country. Any such alien seaman who is not deported as provided in this section shall be detained on board or at such place as the immediate examining officer at the port of arrival may designate until he is deported or otherwise departs from the United States, or is granted permission to land temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained by the United States, or is granted permission to land permanently by the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in section 23 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, or affect the provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1929 (45 Stat. 1544; 8 U. S. C. 102).

(b) Every alien seaman who shall be granted shore leave under the provisions of this section shall be in possession of a valid passport and shall present such passport to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such officer shall enter in such passport the number of days such alien seaman is granted shore leave. Every such alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the period of time for which he was granted shore leave, or who shall violate any condition upon which he was granted shore leave, shall be deported as provided in this section. Every such alien seaman who shall be granted shore leave and who shall depart from the United States within the period of time for which he was granted shore leave shall be required to present himself to the immigration officer at the port of departure for identification before such departure.

(c) Any such alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the expiration of the period of time for which he was granted shore leave, or who shall violate any condition upon which he was granted shore leave, shall be deported as provided in this section, and shall thereafter be refused a visa as a nonimmigrant alien seaman, and shall be refused admission to the United States, unless prior to his departure from the United States he shall have obtained a waiver of such refusal from the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who shall be deported shall be ineligible to receive any immigration benefit, and shall be ineligible for citizenship, unless prior to his deportation he shall have obtained a waiver of such ineligibility from the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who shall be deported shall be considered to be deported in pursuance of law, irrespective of the basis of the order of deportation, and irrespective of whether such order is made before, after, or during the pendency of proceedings which may be instituted before the expiration of the period of time allowed for his departure, or pending an application for a visa. Any such alien seaman who shall be deported shall be identified by the immigration officer at the port of departure by means of such photographs and other identification data as may be required by the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who shall be deported shall be deported only to the country in which he was born or of which he is a subject, citizen, or national, unless the government of such country shall refuse to accept him, in which event he may be deported to any other country which may be designated by such alien seaman and which may be approved

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. The word "northward," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, persons (except United States citizens) shall not be entered on manifest unless they are in possession of valid immigration visas, passports, or other travel documents as may be required by the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Labor, and shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one. Any person who is a stowaway shall be reported by the master to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be detained on board vessel by the master at the expense of the vessel until removed by the immigration officers. Any person who is refused admission to the United States shall be detained on board vessel by the master at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived until such vessel departs from the United States, unless sooner removed to a hospital or other place of detention. Any person who shall leave vessel without inspection or who shall land from vessel at any port in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 and to imprisonment for not more than one year. Any person who shall land from vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port without having been duly inspected shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 and to imprisonment for not more than one year. Any person who shall land from vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port without having been duly inspected shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 and to imprisonment for not more than one year.

Any master who shall refuse or neglect to report, list, deliver, or detain any alien on board his vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of the immigration laws in any particular, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to report, list, deliver, or detain any alien on board his vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of the immigration laws in any particular, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or any insular possession of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has certified that the case of such alien seaman has been duly considered and that in the opinion of such officer the detention of such alien seaman is not necessary. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port and who shall remain therein for a longer period than the period allowed by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or who shall go from such vessel to any place outside the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port and who shall remain therein for a longer period than the period allowed by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or who shall go from such vessel to any place outside the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof upon the payment of $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such remission or refund is recommended by the medical examiners.

That section 32 amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens apprehended on and after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) That this act shall not affect any vessel which shall have arrived in the United States prior to the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(d) That this act shall not affect any vessel which shall have arrived in the United States prior to the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port or place in the United States, whether such aliens are destined to the United States or not, and shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver a further list or manifest of any such aliens employed on such vessel at the time of her departure from such port or place in the United States, which list or manifest shall show the full name, age, sex, calling, or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival at or departure from such port or place in the United States, so far as the same can be ascertained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel, and shall state the manner in which each such alien obtained his passage, whether as cabin or steerage passenger, and the amount paid or to be paid therefor by each such alien, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and where, whether he has a ticket through to the place to which he is destined, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, and whether in possession of money, and how much, and whether in possession of a railroad ticket or other means of transportation, and whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and addresses, and such further information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States, which list or manifest shall be sworn to before an immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port or place in the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel shall also make oath that such list or manifest contains a full, true, and complete statement of all the facts required to be stated therein with respect to each alien mentioned therein, so far as known to him, and that he has made such further investigation as to the right of each alien mentioned therein to enter the United States as is required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be printed on both sides of the paper if printed, or written on both sides of the paper if written, and shall be in such form as will permit the entry of answers to the questions above specified in separate columns to the right of the name of each alien. Such list or manifest shall be filled out by typewriter, if practicable, and shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel in the presence of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and the immigrant inspector shall certify to the filing of such list or manifest and to the administering of the oath required herein. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and filed in quadruplicate, and the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall deliver the original, duplicate, and triplicate lists or manifests to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel, and the quadruplicate list or manifest, after certification by the immigrant inspector, shall be delivered to the customs officer who first demands it. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such list or manifest at the time of the arrival of such vessel at any port or place in the United States, or at the time of her departure from any port or place in the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any further information in writing required by the Secretary of Labor within three days after the same shall have been demanded, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector any such list or manifest in the form and manner and within the time prescribed by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully and to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the matters required to be stated in such list or manifest, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the provisions of this section in any particular, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such true and correct list and manifest and information is not furnished and delivered as required by this section, and may be refused clearance papers by the collector of customs until the full amount of such penalty has been paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or that of the Secretary of Labor. Any person who shall knowingly or willfully falsify or conceal or cover up a material fact or make any false statement or representation or make or use any false paper in connection with the transportation of any alien into the United States, or who shall knowingly or willfully combine, conspire, or arrange with any person, company, or corporation outside the United States to have brought into the United States any alien not duly entered on the list or manifest of the vessel on which such alien arrives, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly or willfully falsify or conceal or cover up a material fact or make any false statement or representation or make or use any false paper in connection with the transportation of any alien into the United States, or who shall knowingly or willfully combine, conspire, or arrange with any person, company, or corporation outside the United States to have brought into the United States any alien not duly entered on the list or manifest of the vessel on which such alien arrives, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 150.15 Limit of alien employees; when operation of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has certified to the immigration officer in charge that the number of aliens employed in the service of the vessel in any capacity does not exceed the number allowed by section 3 of the Act of June 21, 1902 (32 Stat. 428, 8 U. S. C. 141), have been employed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel since the last previous departure of the vessel from a port in the United States, and that the number of aliens employed in the service of the vessel on the present departure does not exceed the number allowed by section 3 of the Act of June 21, 1902 (32 Stat. 428, 8 U. S. C. 141). Where the immigration officer in charge is satisfied that the requirements of section 3 of the Act of June 21, 1902 (32 Stat. 428, 8 U. S. C. 141), have been complied with, he shall issue a certificate to that effect, which shall be presented to the collector of customs before clearance is granted. (Sec. 3, 32 Stat. 428, 8 U. S. C. 141.)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Henry Anderson, master of the Am. SS DEAN, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in addition thereto for the voyage from this port to a port in the United States, and that I have made a personal examination of the crew and have satisfied myself that each member of the crew is in possession of a valid passport visa, or other travel document as may be required by the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Labor, and that I have complied with the provisions of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the removal of aliens from, the United States," approved May 26, 1924, and with the regulations issued thereunder.

Sworn to before me this [illegible] day of May, 1924.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman employed from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (other than an alien seaman employed on such vessel during such vessel's temporary stay in the United States solely for the purpose of repairs thereto, or of embarking as a passenger or seaman for the purpose of departing from the United States on such vessel, or of leaving the United States temporarily as a member of the crew of such vessel, or of proceeding to the United States as a member of the crew of such vessel for the purpose of departing therefrom as a passenger or seaman) who shall have been refused a permit to land in the United States, and who shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; U. S. C., title 8, sec. 155), and shall be placed in the custody of the master of such vessel to be returned on board thereof and to be detained thereon while in port and to be deported therein. The cost of such detention and deportation shall be borne by the owner of such vessel. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deport any such alien seaman shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while any such penalty remains unpaid, or while any such alien seaman remains on board thereof, except that clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty and the cost of such detention. Clearance papers may be granted to any vessel upon which any such alien seaman shall have been lawfully employed upon the production of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor showing that such alien seaman has been granted permission to land temporarily in the United States solely in connection with the operation of such vessel, or has been granted a visa by a consular officer for the purpose of proceeding to the United States as a member of the crew of such vessel and specifying the period of time during which he is authorized to remain in the United States for such purpose, or has been granted by the Secretary of Labor the right to return to the United States, notwithstanding the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or any amendment thereof, and that the condition of such vessel, her cargo, and passengers, and the sanitary conditions on board thereof, have been investigated by a consular officer, and that such vessel is ready to depart from a foreign port without the probability of the introduction of any infectious or contagious disease into the United States. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deport any such alien seaman, or who shall land or permit to be landed any such alien seaman on shore without a certificate from the Secretary of Labor, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this section relating to the shipping, signing, or discharging of seamen, or the payment of their wages, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while detained on board or in any hospital or other place of detention shall be paid by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Such cost and the cost of deportation may be recovered from the master in any action or proceeding brought for the purpose in any court of the United States having jurisdiction of the parties. Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend or repeal section 4 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875; U. S. C., title 8, sec. 136), or section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or any amendment thereof, or to prevent the discharge of any seaman in accordance with the provisions of treaties or conventions between the United States and any foreign country, or to prevent the discharge of any seaman at any port of the United States with the consent of a shipping commissioner, after an investigation, or to prevent the discharge of any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the shipping commissioner that he has been unlawfully detained on board against his will after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from a port outside the United States. Any seaman who refuses to proceed on the voyage for which he was engaged, and who has no lawful excuse for such refusal, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than $100, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any seaman who deserts or absents himself without leave at any time from his vessel or from any boat belonging thereto when it is about to leave port, and any seaman who combines, confederates, or agrees with any other seaman or seamen to desert or absent themselves without leave at any time from the vessel or boat aforesaid, shall, if the vessel has cleared or sailed from the last port at which she loaded cargo, forfeit to the United States three dollars out of the wages which he has earned. If the vessel has not cleared or sailed from the last port at which she loaded cargo, he shall forfeit all wages which he has earned. The provisions of this section shall not apply to masters, mates, pilots, or engineers of vessels of less than fifty tons gross, or to any seaman on the Great Lakes or their tributary waters during the season when navigation is closed thereon, or to any seaman employed on a vessel plying between ports of the United States and ports of foreign countries contiguous thereto, or to any seaman employed on a vessel engaged in trade between the Atlantic ports of the United States and the ports of Puerto Rico, Cuba, Panama, Haiti, Santo Domingo, the Virgin Islands, or the Canal Zone, or to any seaman employed on a vessel engaged in trade between the Pacific ports of the United States and the ports of Alaska, Hawaii, Japan, China, Siberia, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji Islands, Samoa, Guam, Philippine Islands, Dutch East Indies, Straits Settlements, Tonkin, Siam, Burma, Malay States, Netherlands India, Borneo, New Guinea, Solomon Islands, New Hebrides, Bismarck Archipelago, Marshall Islands, Caroline Islands, Ladrone Islands, Society Islands, Friendly Islands, Cook Islands, Marquesas Islands, Tuamotu Archipelago, Tubuai Islands, Hawaiian Islands, Gilbert Islands, Ellice Islands, Union Islands, Phoenix Islands, Tokelau Islands, Fanning Islands, Washington Islands, Manihiki Islands, Penrhyn Islands, Niue Islands, Wallis Islands, Horne Islands, Rotuma Islands, Loyalty Islands, Norfolk Islands, Solomon Islands, Admiralty Islands, Aru Islands, Timor, Kei Islands, Papuan Islands, Celebes, Java, Sumatra, Nicobar Islands, Andaman Islands, Laccadive Islands, Maldive Islands, Chagos Archipelago, Amirante Islands, Seychelles, Comoro Islands, Zanzibar, Pemba, Mafia, Kilwa, Lindi, Mozambique, Sofala, Beira, Chinde, Quilimane, Madagascar, Mauritius, Reunion, Rodriguez, Diego Garcia, Aldabra, Providence, Farquhar, Glorioso, Europa, Bassas da India, Juan de Nova, Europa, Tromelin, Comoro Islands, Mayotte, Diego Suarez, Nossi Be, Majunga, Tamatave, Foulpointe, Fort Dauphin, Tulear, Durban, Cape Town, Port Elizabeth, East London, Mossel Bay, Knysna, Walfisch Bay, Swakopmund, Lideritzbucht, Port Nolloth, Cape Town, Saldanha Bay, Port Elizabeth, East London, Durban, Lourenco Marques, Beira, Chinde, Quilimane, Mozambique, Lindi, Kilwa, Mafia, Zanzibar, Pemba, Mombasa, Malindi, Lamu, Kismayu, Mogadiscio, Obbia, Alula, Aden, Perim, Hodeida, Loheia, Mocha, Kamaran, Jidda, Yenbo, Suez, Port Said, Alexandria, Rosetta, Damietta, Haifa, Acre, Beirut, Tripoli, Latakia, Alexandretta, Mersina, Rhodes, Smyrna, Mitylene, Chios, Samos, Patmos, Leros, Cos, Castellorizo, Rhodes, Scarpanto, Candia, Canea, Suda, Retimo, Candia, Sitia, Gaudo, Cerigotto, Milos, Syra, Piraeus, Patras, Corfu, Santi Quaranta, Valona, Durazzo, Cattaro, Ragusa, Gravosa, Metkovich, Zara, Sebenico, Spalato, Lesina, Curzola, Ragusa, Gravosa, Cattaro, Durazzo, Valona, Santi Quaranta, Corfu, Patras, Piraeus, Syra, Milos, Cerigotto, Gaudo, Candia, Sitia, Candia, Canea, Suda, Retimo, Rhodes, Scarpanto, Cos, Leros, Patmos, Samos, Chios, Mitylene, Smyrna, Rhodes, Mersina, Alexandretta, Latakia, Tripoli, Beirut, Acre, Haifa, Jaffa, Gaza, Rafah, El Arish, Port Said, Suez, Yenbo, Jidda, Kamaran, Perim, Aden, Obbia, Mogadiscio, Kismayu, Malindi, Mombasa, Lamu

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any port, may thereafter be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or to secure the services of a substitute, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, and such seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain any seaman on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Clearance may be granted to any vessel by the collector of customs upon the deposit of a sum sufficient in the judgment of the Attorney General to pay such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the continental territory of the United States on a vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any vessel which shall depart from the United States within five days after the departure of such vessel, unless prevented by sickness, shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 38. [Text about arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names in full of all persons emplaned or enplaned, and whether alien or citizen of the United States, on board such vessel, whether such persons be cabin passengers or steerage passengers, and the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien so emplaned or enplaned. Such lists shall be delivered at the time of the vessel's entry into the port of arrival; or if late conditions be unable to deliver such lists, then the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and stating the number of such aliens discovered. All cases in which any such alien employee has been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, the reasons for and circumstances of his illegal landing, and the final disposition of the case, shall be reported in writing to the port officer at the time of the arrival but not subsequent to the departure of the vessel from the port. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel, or who shall refuse to allow any immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the persons on board thereof, or who shall refuse to detain such alien employee upon the vessel after notice from the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival that such alien is required to be detained for examination in connection with any case, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival any such alien employee when ordered to do so by such officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien employee in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same in whole or in part under such terms and conditions as he may deem just, but not in excess of $300 for each alien employee in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission or mitigation the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section shall be enforced, and all expenses incurred in the enforcement thereof shall be paid, in the same manner as provided for the payment of witness fees in the courts of the United States.

(b) Fines first imposed upon the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel on which an alien arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or arriving by land in the United States, except transients arriving for medical examination, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the medical examination of such aliens from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof or any foreign port or place who fails to deliver on board any such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain on board any such seamen employed on any such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seamen on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General so to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same in whole or in part under such terms and conditions as he may deem just, but not in excess of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission or mitigation the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section shall be enforced, and all expenses incurred in the enforcement thereof shall be paid, in the same manner as provided for the payment of witness fees in the courts of the United States.

(b) Fines first imposed upon the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel on which an alien arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or arriving by land in the United States, except transients arriving for medical examination, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the medical examination of such aliens from the United States, shall be remitted or refunded by the Attorney General upon proof being furnished to his satisfaction that such alien was specially inspected and admitted to the United States by an immigration officer at the time of arrival and that the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer of the vessel upon which such alien arrived had no reason to believe that such alien was unlawfully in the United States or that he was not duly admissible as a visitor under the law and regulations made thereunder, and that such owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer has caused to be delivered to each such alien a notice in writing to report for examination at the time and place of the departure of the vessel from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the aliens arriving on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be remitted or refunded by the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such relaxations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation of distress, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for temporary medical treatment, and then only under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and unless a bond, in addition to any other bond required by law, in the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, with sufficient sureties approved by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, conditioned on the payment of the hospital expenses and burial expenses of such alien seaman, and the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or to such other country as may be designated by the Attorney General, if such alien seaman is found to be a member of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States, is executed and delivered by the master, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Such bond shall be in force for a period not exceeding four months from the date of the arrival of such vessel, and shall be void if such alien seaman departs from the United States within such period on a vessel of a company which has executed a bond as provided in section 10 of the immigration act of 1917, or if such alien seaman is duly treated as a sick or injured seaman by a hospital which has executed a bond as provided in section 32 of the immigration act of 1917, or if such alien seaman is granted a visa and admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or if such alien seaman is granted a visa and admitted to the United States solely in pursuance of his employment on a vessel which will depart from the United States within the period of his authorized stay, or if such alien seaman is granted a visa and admitted to the United States temporarily as a bona fide visitor for pleasure, or if such alien seaman is granted a visa and admitted to the United States temporarily as a bona fide visitor in transit through the United States, or if such alien seaman is granted a visa and admitted to the United States solely in pursuance of a treaty between the United States and the country to which he belongs

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be inserted on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken (from the vessel). The list of emigrants in each immigration office at the port. N one an attorney assuming to act "notwithstanding" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission to the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such foreign port or place report the name and last known address of each such alien employed on board such vessel, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival is hereby empowered to require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to detain any such alien on board until a determination has been reached as to the right of such alien to enter the United States. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, or the islands adjacent thereto, or having touched at any such place en route to the United States, shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of any alien entering the United States at the port of such arrival and for the payment of the hospital dues, and for the maintenance and transportation to the place of his destination, of any such alien who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and for the payment of the head tax and the immigrant inspection fee of any such alien who may be admitted, and for the payment of the head tax of any such alien who may be deported, unless such owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor the sum of $300 for each such alien, or give a bond in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned to indemnify the United States against any such expense, head tax, or immigrant inspection fee. Such deposit shall be refunded or such bond canceled in case the alien shall be admitted or shall depart from the United States without becoming a charge upon any public relief agency within one year from the date of his arrival, or shall be deported at the expense of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or at the expense of any person who has given a bond for his deportation, or shall have been taken from the United States within such year by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States for return to the country whence he came, or shall have been accepted by the government of a contiguous country for permanent residence within such year. Such deposit shall be applied by the Secretary of Labor to the payment of such expenses, head tax, and immigrant inspection fee, and the remainder returned to the depositor or his legal representatives; but no such deposit shall be applied to the payment of expenses incurred or head tax based on the sailing of any vessel prior to the receipt by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel of notice of the decision of the Secretary of Labor requiring the deposit. Such notice shall be given within ten days after the decision is rendered. Failure to comply with any such notice shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 137.)

SEC. 17. (a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel (other than a vessel of war of any foreign nation or an aircraft) arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean, shall, before such vessel shall depart from such port, cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The list or manifest shall be prepared and verified by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or by the chief officer thereof, in such manner as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a passenger list or manifest made out in full in accordance with the requirements of this section, and the master of such vessel shall subscribe and swear to a true copy of such list or manifest before the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from the last foreign port touched at before arrival at the United States. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and verified in such form and detail as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in addition to any list or manifest required by the customs laws. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 138.)

SEC. 18. (a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be liable to the immigrant for the cost of maintaining such alien while he is detained at the port of arrival and for the cost of his passage to the port from which he came to the United States or to his native country, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 139.)

SEC. 19. (a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 140.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergency as may be certified by the Secretary of Labor, only such aliens as have been duly admitted to the United States for permanent residence or are in possession of valid immigration visas and are entitled to enter the United States. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

SEC. 21. (a) Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse to receive any alien ordered to be deported under any provision of this Act, upon the certification of the order by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and the payment of the cost of the maintenance of the alien while on board, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so refused. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 142.)

SEC. 22. (a) Any person bringing into the United States any alien afflicted with trachoma shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 143.)

SEC. 23. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with trachoma, or who shall attempt to land any such alien in the United States, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 144.)

SEC. 24. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 145.)

SEC. 25. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with trachoma, or who shall attempt to land any such alien in the United States, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 146.)

SEC. 26. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 146.)

SEC. 27. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 147.)

SEC. 28. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 148.)

SEC. 29. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 149.)

SEC. 30. (a) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is a person who has been deported, or who is a person who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean), the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall before the departure of such vessel from such port cause a list or manifest to be made of all persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and of such of their personal effects as they may have with them. Such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the collector at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of arrival. Such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, whether he is an immigrant or a nonimmigrant, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long previously, whether he has been deported or excluded and the cause therefor, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has the amount of money required by section 2 of this Act, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract to perform labor, whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, whether he is married or single, whether he is going to join relatives and if so what relatives and their names and addresses, whether he is a person who has been in a penal institution or other place of confinement or in a hospital or asylum for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a person who has been supported by charity, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such character as may affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is a person who has ever been an inmate of a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for the insane or mentally defective, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a person who has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, the cause for and the circumstances of such deportation, whether he is a person who has ever been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the facts in connection therewith, whether he is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been a procurer or has been connected with the procurement of prostitutes or persons for prostitution, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose, whether he is a person who has ever been connected with the importation of prostitutes or persons for the purpose of prostitution, whether he is a person who has ever been engaged in the white-slave traffic, whether he is a person who has ever been a professional beggar, whether he is a person who has ever been a vagrant, whether he is a person who is under sixteen years of age and, if under sixteen years of age, whether accompanied by one or both parents, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage and if so the name and address of the person he is coming to marry, whether he is a person who is coming in pursuance of a request made by any person in the United States to assist in his entry, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Such fines shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to deposit the sum required by the Secretary of Labor, or refuses to execute the bond provided for in this section, or refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him by reason of a violation of this section. SEC. 36. That when written or printed matter is used in the United States mail for the purpose of conveying information concerning any person, firm, association, or corporation, or concerning any article, business, matter, or thing, which is of such character that if published or circulated in the United States would render the publication thereof nonmailable under the provisions of this Act, such matter shall be nonmailable and shall be subject to seizure and destruction under the provisions of this Act, and the person, firm, association, or corporation using the United States mail for the transmission of such matter shall be punished as provided in this Act for the publication or circulation thereof.

SEC. 37. That when written or printed matter of any kind is offered for mailing to any foreign country which, or a dependency of which, excludes or restricts the importation of such matter, the postmaster with whom such matter is offered for mailing shall refuse to accept the same for mailing to such country or dependency, and shall return such matter to the person offering the same for mailing, and shall inform such person that such matter is refused acceptance for mailing because of the laws, orders, or regulations of the country or dependency to which it is addressed. Any person who shall deposit or cause to be deposited in the United States mail for mailing to any foreign country which, or a dependency of which, excludes or restricts the importation of such matter, any matter which is nonmailable under the provisions of this Act, or who shall knowingly cause the same to be delivered by mail to any person in violation of any such law, order, or regulation, shall be punished as provided in this Act for the deposit in the United States mail for mailing or delivery of matter nonmailable under the provisions of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or commanding officer thereof to report the full name, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and destination of each person on board, whether such person be a citizen or subject of a foreign country or not, and whether such person be in transit through the United States or not, and such other information regarding each such person as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration and approved by the Secretary of Labor, at such time before the departure of such vessel from such foreign port as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe, and no such owner, agent, master, or commanding officer shall grant clearance papers for such vessel until the master thereof has delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure a complete list containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, and the information required concerning each such person, and has certified to the correctness of such list by his oath or affirmation. Such list shall be prepared and delivered in quadruplicate, and the Commissioner General of Immigration shall furnish forms therefor. Any master, agent, owner, or commanding officer of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who delivers a list which is incorrect or incomplete in any material particular, other than an inaccuracy which is shown to have been due to mistake and to have occurred notwithstanding the exercise by such master, agent, owner, or commanding officer of reasonable care, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go and remain on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list required by this section, or who refuses to detain any person on board when required so to do by any such inspector, or who refuses to deliver to such inspector any person so detained, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or adjacent islands as defined by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (8 U. S. C. 203), or from any place in the Panama Canal Zone or the Territory of Hawaii, or the master of any aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the foregoing territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the enforcement of this section, and under such conditions as he may impose, unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has been informed by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee, or master of such vessel that all aliens employed on board such vessel will be immediately examined by the medical officer at the port of entry, and has been furnished with a list containing the name of each alien employed on board such vessel, stating the positions in which they were employed respectively, and has been informed that each alien so employed has been certified to by the proper consular officer as having been examined by him and found to be in possession of the unexpired immigration visa required by section 13 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (8 U. S. C. 213), and has been admitted to the United States by the Secretary of Labor or by such immigrant inspector as he may designate, and has been certified to by the proper immigrant inspector at the time of such admission, and has been given a permit to land, and has been passed by the medical officer at the port of entry as not afflicted with any contagious disease, mental defect, or other disease or illness which would be the cause of such alien being excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and has complied with all other requirements of the immigration laws affecting the admission of aliens to the United States, and has been certified to by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry as having complied with all the

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, whether as officers or members of the crew, and whether destined to remain in the United States or to depart therefrom, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien, the manner in which each alien was admitted into the United States, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence each such alien came, the amount of money in possession of each alien, and whether or not each alien has been previously deported or excluded from the United States and the cause thereof, and such other information relative to each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which lists shall be certified to by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of such vessel. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien in respect of whom such default occurs. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander who knowingly makes any false statement in relation to the same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists in the form and manner so prescribed, or who shall refuse to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien in respect of whom such default occurs. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander who knowingly makes any false statement in relation to the same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists in the form and manner so prescribed, or who shall refuse to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien in respect of whom such default occurs. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place at which said vessel is required by the immigration laws then in force to secure a certificate of medical examination, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and any such seaman who is certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of departure to be suffering from any contagious disease shall be detained on board and not be permitted to land in the United States from any place until the certificate has been withdrawn or the quarantine period has expired.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), of any alien seaman (which inspection in the case of an alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be made by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival), shall cause each such seaman to be detained on board and not permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory (except Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, and adjacent islands belonging to Newfoundland, the Republic of Panama, the Canal Zone, and adjacent islands belonging to Great Britain), unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted a landing certificate or permit to such seaman, or unless and until such seaman shall have been otherwise admitted to the United States under the immigration laws: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any such seaman to be landed temporarily for the purpose of receiving medical treatment, and may require a bond in such sum and with such sureties as he may deem necessary to insure the return of such seaman to the vessel or to the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, when required so to do, and to insure the payment of such hospital, medical, and burial expenses as may be incurred in behalf of such seaman by the United States Government or by any State, county, municipality, or public relief organization: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any such seaman to be landed temporarily for the purpose of visiting a consul of the country to which such seaman belongs, or for the purpose of communicating with the representative of any society or association which has for its object the relief of distressed seamen, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who has been refused a landing certificate or permit, or who has been landed temporarily, shall, when required by the Secretary of Labor, cause such seaman to be removed from the United States to the country to which such seaman belongs, or to the country in which such seaman shipped, or to the country in which such seaman resided before coming to the United States, or to such other country as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and shall not employ such seaman on any vessel coming to the United States until such seaman has been so removed. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who shall fail to comply with any requirement of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. When any such seaman is employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the cost of maintenance of such seaman while detained in the United States, and for the cost of his removal therefrom, unless such cost is paid by the seaman or by the country to which he belongs. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require a bond in such sum and with such sureties as he may deem necessary to insure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That alien seamen, if any remain in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of each alien seaman employed or shipped on board such vessel, stating the business for which such alien seaman was employed or shipped, and whether he intends to depart from the United States or to remain therein, and such other information relative to such alien seamen as the Attorney General shall prescribe, and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before such vessel departs from the port of arrival, to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port the name of each alien seaman who has been reported by him upon arrival and who has not been certified by such officer to the master of such vessel as having been duly discharged, and to report the cause for failure to secure the discharge of each such alien seaman, and the intended future residence of each such alien seaman so reported. Any master who shall fail to report the name of any alien seaman as herein required shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: No vessel shall be granted clearance until the master of such vessel has produced to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located the certificate of the immigration officer that the provisions of this section have been complied with, and no vessel shall be granted clearance from any port of the United States to any foreign port or place unless the master thereof has obtained such certificate or has made oath before the collector of customs that he has been unable to obtain the same for reasons to be stated in his affidavit. Any master who shall refuse to report, or who shall make any false report, or who shall refuse to pay any such sum imposed upon him by this section, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman when required so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That the Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit fines and penalties in whole or in part under such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may order discontinuance of any suit or proceeding for the recovery thereof. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund any fine or penalty paid under the provisions of this section, or any part thereof, when in his judgment the same was unjustly or excessively imposed or assessed, whether paid voluntarily or after suit commenced. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port shall be arrested upon the warrant of the Attorney General, and taken on board his vessel or delivered to the master thereof, and the cost of such arrest shall be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port and who cannot be found within thirty days after his vessel has departed shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the Department of Labor for the fiscal year in which he is found, in the manner provided for the deportation of persons who have entered the United States unlawfully. The cost of the maintenance of any alien seaman who is a witness on behalf of the Government in any prosecution under this section, and the cost of his return to the country from which he came, may be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave, or who has been lawfully detached from the vessel on which he arrived, and who remains in the United States in excess of the period for which he was granted shore leave or detached, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of persons who have entered the United States unlawfully

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens must be prepared on white paper (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of native American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or destined to any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been furnished such security as he may require to guarantee the deportation of such alien from the United States, or who fails to deport any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport any seaman on board after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the time of departure of the vessel from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate and remit any such fine, and shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the application for and granting of mitigation and remission. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrival embodiments of June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a change in the nature of the vessel's employment subsequent to her arrival in the United States, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of illness which necessitates his removal, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned that such alien will depart from the United States within such period of time as may be specified by the Attorney General, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to aliens employed on board vessels arriving in the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which immediately shall be reported to the Attorney General) may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or at such other place as the Attorney General may designate, a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any fine so remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $8 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the onshore manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to depart after temporary medical treatment by the immigration officer at the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, lists containing the names of all aliens who have been given medical examination on board such vessel, stating the destination given therein of each such alien, and whether such alien has a ticket through to such destination, and whether the transportation of such alien has been paid for by himself or by others, and if by others, by whom such transportation was paid, and whether such alien has in his possession money and how much, and whether he has been in the United States previously and if so when and where, and whether he has a relative or friend in the United States and if so what relative or friend and where, and whether going to join such relative or friend, and whether he intends to return to the country whence he came after temporary visit, and whether he is an anarchist, or a believer in the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or in the assassination of public officials, or a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials, or the unlawful damage, injury, or destruction of property, or a believer in or advocate the unlawful destruction of property, and whether he is coming to the United States in pursuance of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in this country, and what is the condition of his health, mental and physical, and whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how, and what are the causes and circumstances thereof, and what are his occupation and ability to read or write, and whether he has been in prison or almshouse or institution for the insane or supported by charity, and if so, which, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he has ever been deported, and if so, when, and all such facts as may be ascertained by reasonable inquiry concerning the intending immigrant, whether he is actually and absolutely entitled under the immigration laws to enter the United States, and whether he belongs to the class which is admissible under the provisions of this Act. (39 Stat. 879; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(b) Every such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States with any alien on board who has been refused a visa by a consular officer, or who has been certified by the examining surgeon at the port of arrival to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall detain such alien on board and remove him therefrom only to the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port, or to a hospital if certified by the medical officer in charge at the port as necessary for the removal of the alien, or to such other place as the Secretary of Labor may designate for the detention of aliens pending examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service or pending the action of the Secretary of Labor in the case of such alien. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this subdivision shall be fined $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the application of this subdivision in a doubtful case, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such fine in such amount as he deems appropriate. (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

$2500 for each alien so brought, shall apply to all penalties except those which relate to the Attorney General in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every alien who arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to secure treatment or pending a determination of his right to land, under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate detention, removal, deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

for medical treatment, or because of physical or mental defect certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, to be of a contagious character, or because of a belief on the part of such officer that the alien belongs to one of the excluded classes, or because the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival entertains the belief that the alien is likely to become a public charge, or because the alien arrives at a time or place not designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration as the time and place for the entry of such alien, or because the alien arrives at the port of arrival without having first procured a visa, if a visa is required by section 2 of this Act, or because the alien arrives without having first procured an immigration visa, if such visa is required by section 3 of this Act, or because the alien arrives without having first procured a passport, if such passport is required by section 4 of this Act, or because the alien arrives without having first procured a passport which is valid under the provisions of

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTERS

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members after it the port of clearance (Form I-418) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival (Form I-425) and not to the customs officer. A notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens, multiple manifests are a convenience.

(Sec. 2, 39 Stat. 875, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 136)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3. That upon arriving at and passing into the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the boarding immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival full and complete lists of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether they were transported as cabin passengers or as steerage passengers, stating the business that they were engaged in, their occupations, whether married or single, their nationalities, the countries to which they severally belong, their last permanent residences, the names and residences of persons who prepaid their passages, the names of persons who have purchased their passages, the names of persons who have been assisted in coming, the amounts severally paid by them, the amounts severally brought by them, their ultimate destinations, whether they have been in the United States previously, and if so, when, and how long they intend to remain in the United States, whether they have been in prison or in almshouses or institutions for the insane or supported by charity, whether they are coming under contract or agreement to perform labor, their sex, age, and whether married or single, and the names and ages of those accompanying them, and such other facts as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last port or place outside the United States as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof and by the signature of each alien, who shall be identified by the master or commanding officer before signing his name. Such lists shall be filed with the boarding officer at the port of arrival and shall be the property of the United States. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or who shall fail to prepare them as required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question touching the information required by this section, or who shall answer any such question falsely, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such information is required, or who is not correctly stated in the lists, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The master or commanding officer of any vessel bringing aliens who are required by this section to be listed shall deliver to each such alien, before such alien passes within the jurisdiction of the United States, a card bearing a serial number corresponding to the number assigned to such alien in the list required by this section, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall require each such alien to exhibit such card before leaving the vessel upon which such alien arrives in the United States. The master or commanding officer of any vessel bringing aliens who are required by this section to be listed shall deliver to the boarding officer at the port of arrival a true and correct additional list containing the names of all such aliens who have been landed at a previous port of arrival, and the failure to deliver such list shall be punishable in the same manner as the failure to deliver the list required to be delivered by the master or commanding officer to the boarding officer at the port of arrival.

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or necessity, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe. Such alien seaman shall be deported in pursuance of the law regulating the deportation of alien seamen from any foreign port or place to which he may be destined to land in the United States, except that if such alien seaman is a citizen of the United States he shall be entitled to land in the United States upon establishing to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival his citizenship and his intention to proceed immediately to a residence therein.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 155).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous land territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Puerto Rico, or the Canal Zone, or any place in the West Indies adjacent to the United States, or any port in Lower California, shall be responsible for the payment of the cost of maintenance, while in a public hospital, of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel during the period of such employment, and for the payment of the cost of his transportation thereafter to the port of departure or to the port at which he was originally shipped, or to a port in the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to a port in the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Such cost shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of which is liable for such cost, until a bond with sufficient surety has been given to secure the payment thereof.

(b) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, compromise any such liability, in such amount and upon such terms as he may deem advisable.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that determination of the alien seaman or the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be detained on shipboard vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared therefrom until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of proceedings against him under this section shall be deemed to have departed in pursuance of law at the expense of the United States.

(e) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, compromise any such liability, in such amount and upon such terms as he may deem advisable, and shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission of such liability.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the payment of the cost of his maintenance in a hospital, or of his transportation, as provided in this section, shall be deported at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(g) The Attorney General shall report to Congress annually the number of cases arising under this section, the amounts expended, collected, compromised, or remitted, and the balances due.

SEC. 2. This section shall take effect thirty days after the date of its enactment.

SEC. 150.15 Lists of alien embarkees: Arrival clearance of vessel denied. (Reference shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 3 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875, U.S.C., title 8, sec. 136) and section 20 of the act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 164, U.S.C., title 8, sec. 220) have been delivered to the administrative officer designated by such section to act and such lists have been checked, and the master or commanding officer of such vessel has been furnished with a certificate to that effect by the immigrant inspector in charge. Such certificate shall not be granted if it appears that any alien has been omitted from the lists, or that any of the particulars required to be stated therein have been incorrectly stated, or that any person has been landed from the vessel in violation of law, or that any alien has been refused admission to the United States by the immigrant inspector in charge, or that any alien who is required to be listed is detained on board for any purpose.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list questioned above shall be prepared on white forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector in charge of the vessel at the port of arrival. The list of members of alien crew[illegible] shall be prepared on separate forms. Each alien must be listed in the order in which he appears in the ship's articles. Any alien who leaves the vessel, against the instructions given to the master, or who is discharged in a foreign port, must be listed in the appropriate space. Any alien who is left behind on account of illness must be listed, and a report must be made to the Attorney General, through the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, stating the cause of illness, the name and address of the physician in charge, and the probable length of time the alien will be required to remain in a hospital. Any alien who shall desert while in port must be reported to the immigrant inspector in charge at once, stating the circumstances of desertion, the vessel from which he deserted, and the vessel on which he arrived, if known. Any alien who shall desert while in port must be reported to the immigrant inspector in charge at once, stating the circumstances of desertion, the vessel from which he deserted, and the vessel on which he arrived, if known. Any alien who shall desert while in port must be reported to the immigrant inspector in charge at once, stating the circumstances of desertion, the vessel from which he deserted, and the vessel on which he arrived, if known.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible] of [illegible], in the State of [illegible], do depose and say that I am the master [illegible] of the vessel [illegible] and that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew [illegible] of said vessel [illegible] on board on [illegible], 1952, and that I have made a careful search of the vessel and of the effects of the crew [illegible] and that I have caused a careful search to be made

SEC. 9. A plan showing matters excluded from admission into the United States under the provisions of section [illegible] shall be prepared on board the vessel by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof, and shall be delivered to the boarding officer at the time of entry. Such plan shall show the stowage of the cargo and of the sea stores and the space occupied by the crew and passengers, and shall be certified by the person who prepares it to be correct. Any person who knowingly and willfully makes a false certification to such plan shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. The Attorney General may remit all or any part of a fine imposed under this section. Clearance may be refused any vessel the master of which refuses to prepare such plan when requested by the boarding officer. Such plan shall not be required of vessels entering in ballast. Such plan shall be open to the inspection of customs officers and immigrant inspectors at all reasonable hours, and shall be preserved for one year after the date of the certification thereof. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

SEC. 10. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who may be excluded from admission to the United States under the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in transit through the United States of such alien, and shall deposit with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization prior to the departure of such vessel from a port foreign to the United States adequate funds to insure proper maintenance and care while in transit. Such deposit shall be refunded to the depositor if the alien is admitted to the United States, or if he is not admitted and is returned to a port in the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject, or citizen, or to the country which issued the passport under which he arrived at the port of entry in the United States, or if he proceeds in transit through the United States and out of the United States to a country other than the United States. If any such alien is not so removed within one year after the date of the deposit, the sum deposited shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a head tax. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to citizenship.

(b) Every alien admitted into the United States or entering the United States who is required to be registered under section 7 of this Act shall be registered before a special inquiry officer of the Service, and shall be fingerprinted if between the ages of fourteen and seventy-five years at the time of such registration. The Commissioner shall cause a search to be made of the criminal records available with respect to each alien registered under this section. Such registration shall be made within one year after the date of the entry of such alien into the United States, or, in the case of an alien who has not been lawfully admitted for permanent residence, at the time of the hearing before a special inquiry officer. Such registration shall be made without any charge therefor, and shall be in such form and detail as the Commissioner may prescribe. Nothing in this section shall relieve any alien from the duty to register under section 7 of this Act if such alien remains in the United States for the period specified in that section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien described in subsection (a) of this section would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may suspend deportation of such alien for such period or periods as he may deem necessary, and may authorize the admission to the United States of such alien for such period or periods, in such cases as he may deem proper, but may not authorize the admission of an alien who is a member of the classes described in paragraph (9), (10), (27), (28), or (29) of section 3 of this Act. Upon the death of any such alien his status shall be adjusted to that of any other alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence if he is otherwise admissible under this Act, and the Commissioner shall record the facts of his previous residence in the United States. Prior to the suspension of deportation of any alien under the provisions of this subsection, the Attorney General shall give notice to the Congress stating his intention to suspend deportation, and the reasons therefor.

(d) Every alien shall be given a certificate of his registration under this section, and every alien now or hereafter required to be registered under section 7 of this Act shall, upon receipt of such certificate, be clothed with all the duties and liabilities of such alien imposed by section 7 of this Act.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person to make any false statement or misrepresentation in connection with the registration of himself or any other person under this section, or to forge, counterfeit, alter, or falsely make any certificate issued to himself or any other person under this section, or to utter, use, attempt to use, possess, obtain, accept, or receive any such certificate knowing it to be forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made, or to have in his possession, custody, or control any blank certificate issued or prepared for issuance by the Service under this section, with intent unlawfully to use the same or allow it to be used by another person, or to sell, furnish, offer for sale, or otherwise dispose of any such certificate to any person not lawfully entitled to receive it, or to receive any such certificate with intent unlawfully that the same be used by any person other than the person for whose use it was originally issued by the Service, or to aid in any manner any alien not entitled thereto to obtain any such certificate or the use thereof, or to aid in any manner any person to violate any of the provisions of this subsection. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this subsection shall upon conviction be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

(f) Every alien shall at the time of application for admission or adjustment of status under this Act, or at the time of receiving a certificate of registration under section 7 of this Act, whichever is later, and thereafter (1) at the age of fourteen, (2) within one year after any change of address, and (3) at the age of seventy-five, if then in the United States, notify the Commissioner of his address and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner. It shall be the duty of any alien entering the United States before reaching the age of fourteen years to notify the Commissioner within one year after his entry of his address and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner. Parents or legal guardians shall be responsible for complying with the requirements of this subsection with respect to children under fourteen years of age. The Commissioner shall give written acknowledgment of the receipt of notices required by this subsection.

(g) It shall be unlawful for any person to knowingly furnish, or cause to be furnished, false information in any application, affidavit, notice, or certificate required to be furnished under this section, or to knowingly fail to furnish, or cause to be furnished, any information required by this section. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this subsection shall upon conviction be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

(h) Any person who shall aid or assist any alien to file a petition for naturalization, or who shall prepare any such petition, or who shall appear as attorney or representative in any proceeding or hearing relating to the naturalization of any alien, shall take and subscribe an oath that he has prepared and translated correctly such petition and that the petitioner in his presence signed his name or made his mark to the same. Any person who shall knowingly prepare or cause to be prepared any false affidavit or document for use in connection with any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly procure or advise any person to commit perjury in connection with any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly procure or give false testimony in support of any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly issue any certificate or other document required to be issued by the Service to an alien as evidence of naturalization or of any right or privilege or benefit under this Act, or who shall knowingly make any false statement or misrepresentation in any affidavit, application, petition, or other document required by this Act, or who shall knowingly forge, counterfeit, alter, or falsely make any such certificate or document, or who shall knowingly use, possess, obtain, accept, or receive any such certificate or document with intent unlawfully that the same be used by any person other than the person for whose use it was originally issued by the Service, or who shall knowingly aid or assist any alien not entitled thereto to obtain any such certificate or the use thereof, or who shall knowingly aid or assist any person to violate any of the provisions of this subsection, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

(i) Any person who shall knowingly aid or assist any alien to file a petition for naturalization, or who shall prepare any such petition, or who shall appear as attorney or representative in any proceeding or hearing relating to the naturalization of any alien, shall take and subscribe an oath that he has prepared and translated correctly such petition and that the petitioner in his presence signed his name or made his mark to the same. Any person who shall knowingly prepare or cause to be prepared any false affidavit or document for use in connection with any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly procure or advise any person to commit perjury in connection with any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly procure or give false testimony in support of any petition for naturalization, or who shall knowingly issue any certificate or other document required to be issued by the Service to an alien as evidence of naturalization or of any right or privilege or benefit under this Act, or who shall knowingly make any false statement or misrepresentation in any affidavit, application, petition, or other document required by this Act, or who shall knowingly forge, counterfeit, alter, or falsely make any such certificate or document, or who shall knowingly use, possess, obtain, accept, or receive any such certificate or document with intent unlawfully that the same be used by any person other than the person for whose use it was originally issued by the Service, or who shall knowingly aid or assist any alien not entitled thereto to obtain any such certificate or the use thereof, or who shall knowingly aid or assist any person to violate any of the provisions of this subsection, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

SEC. 3. That alien seamen of any nation in the United States from any foreign port or place in which the quota of the country whose nationality such seamen may claim is limited by the provisions of section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1924, approved May 26, 1924, as amended by the Act of June 11, 1929, shall be deemed to be the quota of such country, and such seamen shall be charged against such quota: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to seamen who are citizens of countries immediately contiguous to the United States, or islands adjacent thereto, or islands in the Atlantic Ocean, Pacific Ocean, or Caribbean Sea: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to seamen who are natives of the Independent Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, Panama, or the Canal Zone, or who have resided continuously for two years prior to their application for admission into the United States in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to seamen who are bona fide members of the crew of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Western Hemisphere, duly certified by the master of the vessel on the vessel's manifest, and who are found upon examination by a United States immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival to be in good health and not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental disorders which would be ground for exclusion under section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to seamen who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who are employed as members of the crews of vessels engaged in trade between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between the United States and its territories or possessions other than the Philippine Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, or between the United States and the Republic of Panama, or between the United States and the Republic of IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors beginning the 1st day of March. Any alien to be examined at the port of entry shall be informed by the immigration officer at the head of the gangway or other convenient place that he will be detained for hearing before a special board of inquiry. The law provides that the alien may be represented by counsel, if desired, at such hearing, but that the cost of such counsel shall be borne by the alien. The alien may introduce witnesses in his behalf and may examine and cross-examine witnesses produced against him. The decision of the board of special inquiry must be concurred in by at least two members of the board. The alien must be informed of the decision of the board and if it is adverse to the alien he must be informed that he has the right to appeal to the Secretary of Labor. The alien must be informed that he may appeal from the decision of the board of special inquiry within three days after the rendition of the decision. The alien must be informed that he may be represented by counsel at the hearing before the board of special inquiry and at the hearing on appeal before the Secretary of Labor, but that he must pay for such counsel himself. The alien must be informed that he may appeal from the decision of the Secretary of Labor within five days after the rendition of the decision. The alien must be informed that he may be represented by counsel before the Secretary of Labor on appeal, but that he must pay for such counsel himself. The alien must be informed that the decision of the Secretary of Labor on appeal is final. The alien must be informed that he may withdraw his application for admission at any time before a decision is rendered by the Secretary of Labor on appeal, but that he may not withdraw his application for admission after the Secretary of Labor has rendered a decision on appeal

SEC. 3. That alien seamen of the class lawfully admitted to the United States under this section shall be subject to the same laws and regulations governing the admission, landing, and residence of aliens as immigrants to the United States, except as otherwise provided in this section or section 4 hereof; but they shall not be required to obtain passports, immigration visas, reentry permits, or other documents, or to pay any head tax, or to comply with any requirement as to the possession of money. They shall be admitted solely for the purpose of performing service as seamen for a period of time specified by the immigration officer, not exceeding four months, subject to such rules and regulations as may be made by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the expiration of such period of time shall depart from the United States on any vessel, whether or not it be the vessel on which they arrived, or on any other vessel which they may lawfully board, and which is then about to depart from a port of the United States for a port in the country to which such seamen belong, or for a port in some country other than the United States, to which the vessel on which they intend to depart may lawfully proceed, and which is willing to permit them to land. Such seamen shall be entered on the proper lists of incoming aliens, but shall not be subject to the payment of any tax imposed upon aliens entering the United States, nor to the provisions of section 23 of this Act, relating to the deportation of aliens. Such seamen shall be identified by the immigration officers in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such physical examination at the time of embarkation as the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service may prescribe. Any such seaman who remains in the United States for a longer time than specified by the immigration officer at the time of admission, or violates any condition of his admission, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and shall be required to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his remaining was due to illness or to circumstances beyond his control. Any such seaman who secures his discharge in the United States and fails to depart therefrom with the vessel upon which he arrived, or who departs from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, without having secured from the immigration officer at the port of departure a permit to depart, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his failure to depart was due to illness or to circumstances beyond his control. Any such seaman who is deported shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived, if practicable, unless some other vessel is specified by the master of such vessel or by the owner or agent of such vessel. Any such seaman who is deported shall be deported to the country to which he belongs, unless the Secretary of Labor shall direct deportation to some other country. Any such seaman who is deported to a country other than that to which he belongs shall be deported at the same cost as if deported to the country to which he belongs. Any such seaman who is deported shall be deported at the cost of the vessel on which he arrived, unless the master of such vessel shall give a bond, in such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, not exceeding $300, that such seaman will depart from the United States on some other vessel within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor

SEC. 3. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien on board, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether in possession of passport or not, and such other information regarding each alien as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such report shall be verified by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master or commanding officer of any such vessel who refuses to report, or to allow to be taken the information required by this section, or who knowingly reports false information, or who refuses to allow any immigrant who is to be reported to leave the vessel, or who lands or permits to land any such immigrant at any port in the United States, except in case of accident or stress of weather or other unavoidable cause, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such immigrant with respect to whom such violation occurs. Any such master or commanding officer may be required to detain any such immigrant on board the vessel by the immigration officer at the port of arrival pending examination and final action by the Secretary of Labor. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any such immigrant on board ship after the vessel has been admitted to entry, or to prevent the removal of any such immigrant from the vessel to the immigrant station for examination. Any such immigrant who is destined to the United States, or who is permitted to land temporarily in the United States under bond, may be required by the Secretary of Labor to be detained at the immigrant station until examined by the immigration officers, or until released under bond as provided in section 16 of this Act. Any such immigrant who is not duly admitted upon examination by the immigration officers or who is found to be unlawfully in the United States shall be taken before a board of special inquiry for such action as may be required by section 16 of this Act. (8 USC 142)

SEC. 150.15 Place of alien employment; maintenance of vessel abroad. (a) Operations shall not be resumed any vessel until the last required by section 16 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 8 U. S. C. 151), have been fulfilled, and the vessel duly inspected and admitted by the immigration officers at the port of arrival. (b) Any alien crewman employed on board any vessel in the United States shall not be permitted to land temporarily unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that he possesses the qualifications and has been issued the documents required by the immigration laws and regulations. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The U. S. immigrant inspector has been instructed to board every vessel bringing aliens to this port. Any alien who is not in possession of a proper immigration visa will be detained at the port of entry. Such visa must be presented to the immigrant inspector at the time of examination. The fee for a visa is $9, and must be paid to the consular officer issuing the visa. The fee for a preliminary examination before a consular officer is $5, and must be paid by the alien desiring such examination.

Whoever knowingly brings to the United States any alien not entitled to enter the United States, or knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States in violation of the law, is liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so brought, aided, or abetted, and may be imprisoned not more than one year.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That when aliens arrive at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place in which the use of the order, proclamation, or regulation issued by the President under the provisions of section 1 hereof is in force, the Secretary of Labor, or such officers as he may designate, may require the masters, agents, owners, or consignees of vessels carrying such aliens to the United States to furnish a list or manifest containing such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor concerning such aliens before any of them are allowed to land, and may require the masters, agents, owners, or consignees of such vessels to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival a true duplicate list or manifest of all such aliens, or such portion thereof as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, before any of them are allowed to land, and may refuse to allow any of such aliens to land from such vessel except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to allow any such alien to land in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal occurs. Any alien who lands from any such vessel at any port in the United States without having been duly admitted by the immigration officers at such port shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify section 8 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," approved February 20, 1907, but the provisions of that section shall be in addition to the provisions of this section.

(a) That all aliens arriving at ports of the United States shall be examined by at least two immigrant inspectors, the examination of each alien to be completed as soon after his arrival as practicable and within three days after the vessel upon which he arrives has been admitted to pratique and has been reported to the immigrant inspectors, unless such time be extended in special cases by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor shall have sole and exclusive authority to establish such boards of special inquiry as he may deem necessary for the determination of whether aliens who may be denied admission to the United States under the provisions of this Act shall be allowed to land or shall be deported, and he may appoint for service on such boards such persons as he may think fit, whether such persons be officials of the United States Government or not, and he may also appoint such number of examiners, clerks, and assistants as may be necessary to assist in the proper and efficient performance of the duties imposed upon him by this Act. Such boards of special inquiry shall have authority to determine whether an alien who has been duly admitted to the United States shall be deported as one who has entered the country unlawfully or who has become a public charge from causes existing prior to his landing, and their decision, if approved by the Secretary of Labor, shall be final as to the actions of all executive officers of the United States, unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor within such time and in such manner as may be provided by the rules and regulations made and established by the Secretary of Labor. Such boards may be composed of three members, any two of whom may render a decision, but the chairman of each board shall have the power to call in consultation other members of the board. The Secretary of Labor may from time to time confer upon such boards the power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence concerning the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and concerning any matter which is material and necessary to the inquiry, and perform such other duties relative to the exclusion and deportation of aliens as he may deem necessary, and may delegate to any such board the power to issue warrants for the arrest of aliens taken into custody pursuant to the provisions of this Act. Such boards shall have authority to adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such rules and regulations shall provide for notice to be given to such alien in the warrant for his arrest of the charge against him, and for a reasonable opportunity for the alien to be heard in person and to produce witnesses in his behalf, before the board shall decide whether he shall be deported or not. Such rules and regulations shall provide that a record shall be kept of all testimony and proceedings before each board of special inquiry in each case of an alien whose landing is contested before such board, and that such record shall be filed with the decision of the board. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the decision of the majority of the members of the board shall be the decision of the board, but that any dissenting member may file a written statement of his dissent from such decision, setting forth his reasons therefor. Such rules and regulations shall provide for the exercise of supervisory jurisdiction over the boards of special inquiry by boards of review, to be composed of such officers as may be designated from time to time by the Secretary of Labor, and for the reversal by boards of review of decisions of boards of special inquiry in such cases as may be deemed proper. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, order the deportation of any alien who has been found to be unlawfully within the United States, without the recommendation of a board of special inquiry, and may, in his discretion, suspend the deportation of any alien found by a board of special inquiry to be subject to deportation, and may permit any such alien to depart voluntarily from the United States at his own expense in lieu of deportation. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the decision of a board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, but that nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to require the Secretary of Labor to personally review the decision of any board of special inquiry. Such rules and regulations shall provide that all decisions of boards of special inquiry shall be subject to review by boards of review, and that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refer any case or question to the Secretary of Labor, or to any board of review, for review, and may personally decide any such case or question, or may separate any such board of special inquiry into two or more boards, or may consolidate any two or more boards of special inquiry, or any part of any such board, in such manner as may be necessary to expedite the business of the boards of special inquiry. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the records of the boards of special inquiry shall be carefully preserved, and that they shall be subject to the examination of the Secretary of Labor, or of such officers as he may designate, at any time. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to appoint any clerks or employees except with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and that they shall have no power to incur any expense for the United States without such approval. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to administer oaths or to take evidence except in cases arising under the provisions of this Act, and that they shall have no power to compel the attendance of witnesses before them, or to punish any person for contempt. The Secretary of Labor may withdraw from the boards of special inquiry the power to take testimony in any case or class of cases, and may order that such testimony be taken by officers of the Department of Labor specially detailed for the purpose. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to determine the admissibility of any alien who has been duly admitted to the United States, except upon the recommendation of the immigrant inspectors that a warrant be issued for the arrest of such alien. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to determine whether any alien who has been admitted to the United States shall be deported except upon the concurrent recommendation of two immigrant inspectors, unless such alien fails to appear before the board of special inquiry after notice to him to do so, has been convicted of a crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude committed after his entry into the United States, or has been convicted of two offenses, not political, for each of which he has been sentenced to imprisonment for one year or more committed after his entry into the United States, or is found to be a member of one of the classes of persons excluded by section 1 hereof. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to determine whether any alien who has been admitted to the United States shall be deported after the expiration of five years from the date of his entry, unless the Secretary of Labor shall have taken action to cancel the admission of such alien within the five years. Such rules and regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have no power to determine whether any alien who has been admitted to the United States shall be deported by reason of the provisions of section 3 hereof, unless such alien fails to appear before the board after notice to him to do so, has been convicted of a crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude committed after his entry into the United States, or has been convicted of two offenses, not political, for each of which he has been sentenced to imprisonment for one year or more committed after his entry into the United States, or is found to be a member of one of the classes of persons excluded by section 1 hereof

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or distress, or emergency, when certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain any alien seaman on board after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms as he shall deem just. Payment of such fine shall not be a bar to the prosecution of any criminal proceeding based upon the unlawful entry of such seaman. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

(b) Fines and fees as alien seamen did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the United States solely as a member of a defeated, repatriated, or interned crew, shall be remitted by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer in charge of the port at which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relegation to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for such alien seaman, or to secure other employment, or to join the vessel on which he arrived or a vessel of the same line, or for the purpose of departing from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance while such expense remains unpaid. Such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause each alien seaman on board any vessel upon which any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall arrive in the United States to be examined before a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival for the purpose of determining whether such alien seaman is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, and shall cause each such alien seaman found upon such examination to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder to be detained on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relegation to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for such alien seaman, or to secure other employment, or to join the vessel on which he arrived or a vessel of the same line, or for the purpose of departing from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance while such expense remains unpaid. Such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(a) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from material of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the object and length of their intended stay in the United States, as nearly as may be ascertained at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port, information to be obtained from the ship's articles or other records kept in the ordinary course of business, and such additional information relative to the crew as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry, or if the vessel be not required to be entered, before any member of the crew shall be allowed to land from the vessel, except as provided in section 37 hereof. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner, and contain such information, touching each alien member of the crew, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and the master shall be required to subscribe to the truth of the same under oath before the immigration officer at the time of the delivery thereof. Any master who shall fail to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to subscribe to the truth of the same under oath, when and where required so to do, shall pay a penalty of $100 for each and every such failure or refusal. Any master who shall deliver such lists containing any false statement shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall fail to report, deliver, or produce any alien seaman, or to pay any fine or penalty imposed upon him by virtue of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to the penalties imposed upon masters by section 35 hereof. Any master who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or his absence from any cause, or who shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in the case of each sick or injured alien seaman, as required by section 37 hereof, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. When such seaman dies or disappears from the vessel, a report thereof shall be made to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, stating the circumstances in regard thereto. In case of the desertion of any alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel from which he deserted shall pay to the collector of customs the cost of his transportation from the port of arrival to the port of embarkation, unless such seaman shall be apprehended and returned to the vessel within one month after desertion, or unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall obtain a receipt from the master of the vessel upon which such seaman shall be returned to the port of arrival, or from the consul of the country to which such seaman belongs, or from the immigration officer at the port to which such seaman may be returned, for each seaman so returned, and produce such receipt to the collector of customs at the port of arrival within one month after the date of such desertion. The Attorney General may, upon application, in writing, from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel, remit the payment of the cost of transportation of any alien seaman who has deserted, or any part thereof, when it is shown to his satisfaction that the cost of apprehending and returning such seaman is a hardship, and also any fine or penalty imposed by this section upon the master for the failure to report the desertion of such seaman. Any alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or on a vessel of the same line, will be unduly expensive or inconvenient, or that he has been treated by the master or agent of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after fourteen days by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or on a vessel of the same line, will be unduly expensive or inconvenient, or that he has been treated by the master or agent of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after fourteen days by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relegation to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for such alien seaman, or to secure other employment, or to join the vessel on which he arrived or a vessel of the same line, or for the purpose of departing from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance while such expense remains unpaid. Such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof.

SEC. 36. That from material of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the object and length of their intended stay in the United States, as nearly as may be ascertained at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port, information to be obtained from the ship's articles or other records kept in the ordinary course of business, and such additional information relative to the crew as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry, or if the vessel be not required to be entered, before any member of the crew shall be allowed to land from the vessel, except as provided in section 37 hereof. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner, and contain such information, touching each alien member of the crew, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and the master shall be required to subscribe to the truth of the same under oath before the immigration officer at the time of the delivery thereof. Any master who shall fail to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to subscribe to the truth of the same under oath, when and where required so to do, shall pay a penalty of $100 for each and every such failure or refusal. Any master who shall deliver such lists containing any false statement shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall fail to report, deliver, or produce any alien seaman, or to pay any fine or penalty imposed upon him by virtue of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to the penalties imposed upon masters by section 35 hereof. Any master who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or his absence from any cause, or who shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in the case of each sick or injured alien seaman, as required by section 37 hereof, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. When such seaman dies or disappears from the vessel, a report thereof shall be made to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, stating the circumstances in regard thereto. In case of the desertion of any alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel from which he deserted shall pay to the collector of customs the cost of his transportation from the port of arrival to the port of embarkation, unless such seaman shall be apprehended and returned to the vessel within one month after desertion, or unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall obtain a receipt from the master of the vessel upon which such seaman shall be returned to the port of arrival, or from the consul of the country to which such seaman belongs, or from the immigration officer at the port to which such seaman may be returned, for each seaman so returned, and produce such receipt to the collector of customs at the port of arrival within one month after the date of such desertion. The Attorney General may, upon application, in writing, from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel, remit the payment of the cost of transportation of any alien seaman who has deserted, or any part thereof, when it is shown to his satisfaction that the cost of apprehending and returning such seaman is a hardship, and also any fine or penalty imposed by this section upon the master for the failure to report the desertion of such seaman. Any alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof.

SEC. 18.13. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. (Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof has been advised, the consul of the country to which such vessel belongs has been informed, and not less than twenty-four hours have elapsed after the report of the immigration officer required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 151), have been transcribed by said section 36 or to that transcribed by said section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 180) pertain to the administration of such Act, or the regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for such alien seaman, or because of relegation to such conditions, or to secure other employment, or to join the vessel on which he arrived or a vessel of the same line, or for the purpose of departing from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance while such expense remains unpaid. Such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause each alien seaman on board any vessel upon which any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall arrive in the United States to be examined before a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival for the purpose of determining whether such alien seaman is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, and shall cause each such alien seaman found upon such examination to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder to be detained on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of relegation to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for such alien seaman, or to secure other employment, or to join the vessel on which he arrived or a vessel of the same line, or for the purpose of departing from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as aforesaid, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance while such expense remains unpaid. Such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 hereof.

(a) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily after being certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital or sanitarium as cured, or to remain in the United States after being certified by the Secretary of Labor as not likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or after his death. Such alien seaman shall be treated while in the United States in such hospital or sanitarium at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to the United States for such expense and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or on a vessel of the same line, will be unduly expensive or inconvenient, or that he has been treated by the master or agent of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after fourteen days by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States within such period on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who fails to depart on board thereof or on board any other vessel within the period allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of departing on board such vessel, or on board some other vessel, or who fails to present himself for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any vessel when ordered to do so, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders specified in section 3 hereof, or who is found to be afflicted with any such disease or defect or disorder upon such alien seaman's arrival at the port of entry, shall be required to remove such alien seaman to a hospital designated by the Attorney General, or to a sanitarium approved by the State board of health of the State in which the port of entry is located, for the purpose of treatment and detention at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall certify that such alien seaman is no longer afflicted with such disease or defect or disorder, or that such disease or defect or disorder is not of a character likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, or until such alien seaman has been discharged from the hospital or sanitarium as cured or has died. Such alien seaman shall not

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens on board, whether destined to the United States or not, and such information in regard to each and every one of them as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to permit any immigrant inspector to go and remain on board of such vessel until the inspection of the aliens on board is completed, and to furnish such information in relation thereto as may be required by the Attorney General. All expenses, fines, penalties, and liabilities incurred or imposed in consequence of any violation of the provisions of this section by any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel may be sued for and recovered by any person who shall first institute proceedings therefor, for the use of the United States, before any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That no such penalty shall be imposed if it shall be proven to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to obtain the information required prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at: Provided further, That clearance may be granted any vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of such sum not to exceed $300 as the Secretary of Labor may require, and such deposit may be remitted or refunded in whole or in part after the determination by the Secretary of Labor as to the existence of violations of this section: Provided further, That no bond required hereunder shall be canceled unless it is affirmatively shown that no fine or penalty has been incurred, or that all fines or penalties incurred have been paid: Provided further, That clearance may be granted before the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily and solely in connection with the operation of the ferry or ferries plying continuously between the mainland of the United States and the adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for such time as may be prescribed by regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ordinary departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except a vessel engaged in the coastwise trade, including a vessel plying between the mainland of the United States and the adjacent islands subject to the immigration laws, and not then making entry in any other district) who fails to deport any seaman (which inspection as all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners) shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such seaman, or in the case of the deportation of such seaman in advance of the departure of the vessel from the last port touched at by such vessel, a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum not to exceed $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such sum is required by the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all deportations during fiscal years independent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or from any place to which he may thereafter by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with the permission of the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any penalty incurred by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel on account of the failure of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared until the penalty incurred by reason of such alien seaman has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the sole purpose of rendering assistance to another vessel in distress, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, under such rules as he may make and enforce, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act or any other Act regulating the immigration or exclusion of aliens from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 208.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such vessel each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of two hours after the vessel shall have been granted pratique, unless such alien seaman is required by such immigration officer to be detained on board for further medical examination, or to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the master of such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such failure is due to sickness or accident and not to the connivance or misconduct of the master or owner of the vessel. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty in the case of any seaman who shall have been a member of the crew of a vessel on which he arrived in the United States and who shall have left the vessel in good health in a port of a country contiguous to the United States for the purpose of resuming employment on board a vessel of the same line plying between such port and the United States, if such seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he has been employed for a reasonable time prior to his departure on such vessel and that he has the assurance of the master or owner of such vessel that he will be employed on board a vessel of the same line upon her next arrival in such port.

(b) Front fine as fixed in this section shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States except upon the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival that the fine has been reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after employment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below, shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal Immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

I, N. O. Mastapan, of the American Government vessel, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from and port or place during the period of time mentioned in section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and that copies of sections 14 and 36, Act of May 26, 1924, noted above, have been delivered to me.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or from a possession of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose and to the extent authorized by such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or any person who brings into the United States any alien seaman employed on such vessel, shall be responsible for the alien's maintenance at all times while he remains in the United States, and for his removal, unless he is duly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and for the payment of the cost of his hospital treatment, subsistence, and burial, if he becomes a public charge, and for the payment of a sum sufficient to cover such cost in case he dies within one year after entry, and for the deportation of such alien from the United States. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of the presence of such alien seaman employed on such vessel, and has either (1) inspected and passed upon the case of such alien seaman, or (2) caused such alien seaman to be detained on board or on shore for examination by the medical examiners; or (3) caused such alien seaman (whose inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners) to be detained on board and ordered to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or vessels sailing to the same port, or to any port in the same country, or to any country contiguous thereto, which will accept him, and has delivered to the master of such vessel a certificate in duplicate containing a description of such alien seaman sufficient for the identification of the alien seaman, the amount of the bond required by this section to be given for his departure, and the fact that inspection has been waived, the reason therefor, and the fact that the master has been furnished with a duplicate certificate. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for the deportation of such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance while the alien seaman remains unlawfully in the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman if the master has deposited with the Attorney General a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than a vessel touching at Canadian or Mexican seaports on the Pacific coast solely for the purpose of taking on board or discharging pilots, and any person bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof (except an alien crewman), shall before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, or in the case of an alien crewman, before the departure of the vessel from the immediate vicinity of the port of arrival, deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival a bond approved by the Attorney General in such amount, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman, as the Attorney General may prescribe, conditioned for the payment of a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The decision as rendered shall apply to all pending claims subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164, 165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)
